LET KINGSTON GREET

PLACES OF SIMILAR NAME IN THE UNITED STATES

In Honor of Peace Centenary, Is Suggestion of Organizing Secretary of Canadian Peace Centenary Association.

E. H. Scammell, Ottawa, organizing secretary of the Canadian Peace Centenary has written to Mayor Sutherland, as follows:

"The treaty of Ghent, which concluded the war of 1812, between the United States and ourselves was ratified by the government of the United States and went into effect on Feb. 17th, 1812.

"It was the intention of the Canadian Peace Centenary Association and the American Peace Centenary Committee especially to mark the centenary of that date but the prepared exercises would be most appropriate when we are fighting for our liberties in Europe, so that they have been postponed to a more opportune time. It has been thought desirable, however, that some gift should be taken of the fact that we have had a hundred years of peace with our neighbors, and a suggestion has been made by one of our city that we should send greetings to some of the cities south of the international boundary.

"There are a number of places in both countries, and it would be very nice if we were to recognize the fact at this time. I have, therefore, the power to ask whether the council and the people of Kingston, on the evening of the 16th inst. will read a message of good-will to the following places: Kingston, Mass. Kingston, N.H. Kingston, N.Y. Kingston, Pa. I trust this suggestion will meet with your approval.

Mayor Sutherland regards the suggestion as a very good one, and will bring the matter before the civic finance committee at its meeting next week, when no doubt it will be acted upon.

HON. N. W. ROWELL

Has Shown Realization of What Canadians Are Up Against.

Hon. N. W. Rowell has been to the maritime provinces and to Montreal making addresses on the war and urging upon Canadians a greater realization of the responsibility of this country in connection with the European struggle. His addresses were captivating. He spoke in Hamilton, and the Herald, independent, said his speech was not merely fervently patriotic but was practical also. He set forth the obligations of Canada to the empire in the present war and the obligations of Canadian men of military age to volunteering their services. Such speeches as that of Mr. Rowell are needed to arouse our young men to the needs of the situation and to the realization of their obligations.

The Canadian war, a non-partisan paper published in Toronto, says, editorially: "It is bare justice to say that Mr. Rowell in his speeches, shown more realization of what we are up against than any other political leader who has recently spoken. His speech at Hamilton, in which he appealed for more and more recruits, and called for united campaigns for them similarly to what they have had and still have in the old land, displayed more statesmanship and patriotism, more of the essence of unity and of the promise of victory than anything which has been uttered in Ontario for many days. His responsibility for striving for unity is no whit greater than that of every other man, each in his own sphere.

Do Not Like Quarters.

That the quarters given Queen's Engineers in Ottawa are not at all desirable, is the report given by some of the members, and there appears to be a general complaint. The men are quartered under the grand stand at the exhibition grounds, and it is stated that the quarters are very damp. It is also stated that since the men went to Ottawa they have not had anything like the amount of practical work they had while in Kingston. They would far rather have been left here.

Property Committee Met.

There was a meeting of the property committee of the Board of Education on Thursday night. Improvements to schools were discussed, but no definite action was taken owing to efforts being put forth to cut down expenses. However, there are some improvements which are absolutely necessary, and they will be recommended after another inspection has been made by the committee. A special meeting will be called to consider the estimates.

To Be Tried On Saturday.

The Montreal young man who is charged of stealing money from the Dietrich Co. of that city, will be tried at ten o'clock on Saturday morning. R. Smith, of Perth Road, charged with an offense against his daughter, will come up on the 13th. Both cases will be tried by Judge Lavell in the county judge's criminal court.

Arrange For General Assembly.

A meeting of the general committee in charge of arrangements for the Presbyterian general assembly, which will meet in this city in June, was held in St. Andrew's Church on Thursday evening. W. T. Mims, president, and Prof. J. Matheson, was secretary. It is expected that 450 delegates will be present at the gathering.

Aged Pictou Lady Dead.

Mr. Rightmeyer, aged eighty years, died in the general hospital on Thursday night. The deceased formerly resided in Pictou, and her remains were transferred there on Friday.

The application of railways for an increase in commodity rates on their eastern lines, it is stated, will likely be submitted next Tuesday. British cities urged the government to take over the control of the food supplies.

TWENTY-FIVE RECRUITS

To Be Taken For The Army Medical Corps.

Twenty-five recruits will be taken on immediately for the Army Medical Corps. When the required number is filled they will be sent to Halifax, where they will be given instruction in the work, and when qualified will be sent overseas, as asked for. On Sunday, the men from this district, who are at present taking a course in the Halifax school, will sail for England. There are eight Kingstonsians in the class.

For the first time, the 21st Battalion was given a short route march through the city streets on Friday afternoon, in heavy marching order, carrying their complete equipment. The equipment known as the "Oliver" and the men carried their oil sheets, kit bag, ball pouch and rifle.

The winners of last night's bouts in the right hall exhibition boxing competition were as follows: Ptes. Martin and Armstrong, of "B" company, row, both being credited with a win, and will enter second row. In the heavyweight, Pte. Mills, "D" company, and Pte. Bringer, "A" company, won.

Lieut. Cooper has been appointed scout officer in the 21st Battalion, and will look after this branch of the work overseas.

McGill University will furnish a complete double company for the 38th battalion of Infantry to go with the third contingent of the C.E.F.

Lieut. Wightman, Sergt. Brown and Ptes. Noulson and Tucker, of the 14th Regiment, are taking the machine-gun course at the armouries.

IMPERIALIST KNIGHTED

Sir Clive Phillips-Wolley Is a Big Empire Man.

The knighthood bestowed upon Capt. Clive Phillips-Wolley, of Victoria, B.C., is a reward of articulate Imperialism. Sir Clive was born in England in 1854. For some years he was British consul at Kertch. Afterwards he practiced law in London, moving to Victoria when he retired from practice. He belongs to a very old Shropshire family, the Wolleys of Woodhall, whose name and arms he assumed on succeeding to their estates thirty years ago, his own name being Phillips. He was at one time a captain in the 4th battalion S.W.B., and he married in 1879 a daughter of Rear-Admiral Fenwick.

Before moving to Canada Sir Clive did a great deal of big-game hunting all over the world, and the late R. D. Blackmore, author of "Lorna Doone," thought his book, "Sport in the Crimea and Caucasus," the only living picture of life in those romantic lands. His "Big Game" in two volumes, in the Badminton Library, also form one of the sportsmen's classics.

As a sportsman Sir Clive has done more than anyone else to make British Columbia known as a big-game paradise, and he has been very active in public affairs in the coast province. For example, he was appointed in 1896 to enforce the Health Act in the mining districts of British Columbia, and succeeded conspicuously in this arduous undertaking.

Sir Clive Phillips-Wolley ranks high among Canadian authors. He has written a great deal of stirring patriotic poetry, and his ballad of England's sea power, "The Sea Queen," is often referred to as a fine expression in verse of imperialistic sentiment. In his three novels, "Snap," "Gold, Gold in Cariboo," and "The Remittance Man," he has given us excellent pictures of the making of the far Canadian West. He has been a very strong advocate of Canadian support for the British navy, and his addresses on "The Canadian Naval Question" were published in book form in 1911 at his own expense. His arguments were summed up as follows in one of these addresses: "The supremacy of the sea is vital to Britain; the continued existence of Britain is vital to her daughter nations; therefore Britain's supremacy at sea is vital to Canada."

Sir Clive Phillips-Wolley has also been very active in the affairs of the Canadian Navy League. He was recently appointed by the Dominion Government censor and special Government officer on the Pacific coast. His son was naval commander of the Hogue, one of the British cruisers torpedoed in the North Sea last September by a German submarine.

Ploughing Matches.

There was a time in Ontario and Quebec when the ploughing matches were an event of importance in many localities. Later, interest in the matches decreased greatly, especially among the younger men. As a result, good ploughing and good soil cultivation have fallen back some points since the old days, except in the few districts where the matches have been continued. As the first class ploughman is likely to be a good cultivator of the soil, agriculture, in general, has suffered. On the other hand, the farmer who regards ploughing merely as a process of turning over land, the sooner done the better, will not, and can not, be a good cultivator of the soil. Unless the soil is well ploughed, it is impossible to give the land the best of preparation for the seed.

It is encouraging to note, however, that the ploughing match is being revived, and that the Prairie Provinces also are taking a keen interest in competitions of this kind. If they are beneficial as an aid to better farming on the virgin prairie they are of even greater value in the older parts of the country, where the land needs more careful working to maintain soil fertility and increase crop production. Good ploughing is a matter of good ploughmen as well as of good ploughs and, as these matches encourage good workmanship, they are worthy of support by all interested in better farming. As they have an educational value and often give the boys the needed encouragement to remain on the farm, ploughing matches might well form one feature of the work of the Farmers' Club, Farmers' Institute, or Agricultural Society.—F. C. N., in Conservation.

The Pressure On Germany Is Progressing

Three lines—the pressure Rotterdam, Feb. 5.—Every day there is further proof in the German newspapers of how the drain on the country's resources is beginning to be felt. A "gold week" is proposed by The Berliner Tageblatt, which says:

"Gold is as much a necessity to the state as daily bread. There is quite enough gold in the country, but what is wanted is for each individual to bring it to the national bank. A great quantity of gold lies in jewelry which is hardly ever worn by its owners. Therefore make coins of your ornaments."

A Strange Condition.

Ottawa Journal.

A bill is before the Quebec legislature to provide that where a husband dies without a will, his widow shall rank as one of his heirs.

The extraordinary condition at present is stated by the Montreal Star to be that a wife is not an heir, has no claim on a husband's estate, if he dies without leaving a will.

A much better condition would be that where a man dies without a will, his widow, if he leaves any, should get the whole of his property.

No call can exist upon a man, not even that of his children, to compare with a wife's call. The man who doesn't regard his wife's claim in nearly everything as supreme is poor stuff.

John Rintoul, of the township of Lanark, is dead, following cancer of the stomach. He was fifty-four years of age, a fine, big, jovial man. He was going about until the Saturday preceding his death, which occurred on a Thursday.

The deficit of the University of Toronto for the fiscal year just passed was $87,000.
