THE HALLS OF QUEEN'S THE SPORT REVIEW LATE DR. M. J. BROWN

PROF. MITCHELL DECLARES FOR UNIVERSAL MILITARY TRAINING

Rev. Murdoch MacKinnon, Regina, The Sunday Preacher—Preliminary Assault-At-Arms Bout on Saturday Evening.

On Sunday morning, at Convocation Hall, Rev. Murdoch MacKinnon, of Knox College, Regina, chose his text from Isaiah ii. 4. The preacher spoke for the most part on the one hundred years of peace between the United States and Canada as Sunday was the anniversary of the signing of the treaty of Ghent in 1815. The century of peace which we are celebrating to-day was made possible by the qualities of good-will taught in the gospel, the preacher said.

On Saturday night the preliminary assault-at-arms was held in the gymnasium, and a number of fast and exciting bouts were put on before a large audience. While the majority of the bouts were exhibitions yet they showed up much latent talent, and when the finals are held next Saturday some fast work will be pulled off. The two scheduled bouts of the evening, the 125 pound boxing and wrestling events, were very good and the winners go into the main event in the boxing fixture McLaughlin got the decision over Sellery, and showed himself to be a dangerous man. The wrestling bout was won by E. Shaw, who secured a fall from Clark.

The 145 pound wrestling exhibition was a hummer and Matheson, the intercollegiate champion, pleased the crowd with his quick work. In the 145 pound boxing Robertson showed himself to be a comer and floored Dawson twice in the first round with swift uppercuts. Inman and Fleming also indulged in a few fast rounds.

At the Alma Mater meeting on Saturday night, very little business was transacted. Med. '17 were given the use of the new Arts Building for its "at home" on Feb. 19th. John Dawson gave his breathy report, and announced that during carnival week the Brockville hockey team would be brought in, and that if carnival would be held in the rink on Wednesday night.

When the regular business was concluded Prof. Mitchell, honorary president of the Alma Mater, gave an address on the war. The speaker made a plea for universal military training, and said by this he did not mean that every man should go to the front, but that every man should know something of war tactics. From a point of view of self protection, a system of military training is necessary in Canada, and if we had had such a system the Canadians would have been engaged on the firing line. Britain can never hope to make peace until she has millions of men available to carry on the war if necessary.

Military training also makes men more efficient in every walk of life, and the student, to be properly educated, must have some military training so as to understand more clearly the life of the nation and his fellowman. With the universal military training, which is the only democratic point of view, men could easily be drafted, and the business and pleasure of the nation would go on as before.

A vocal solo was given by Allan Hafner, and a piano solo by C. Caldwell.

A Surprise Party.

A surprise party was held at the home of Mrs. A. J. Assolstine's, 138 Bay street, in honor of the birthday of her daughter, Evelyn. The visitors met at the corner of Queen and Clergy streets, and proceeded to her home, where a very enjoyable evening was spent in games and music. Near the end partners were chosen by matching cut valentines, then refreshments were served and the party broke up with "Auld Lang Syne." Most excellent music was rendered by J. McLaughlin and Miss F. Peters.

QUEEN'S LOST TO MCGILL IN MONTREAL, 5 TO 2.

And Lets Go Its Chance of Winning the Intercollegiate Championship—Lindsay and Collegiates Play To-night.

There was a small crowd in the Arena in Montreal on Saturday afternoon when Queen's lost to McGill, in a senior intercollegiate hockey game, by a score of 5 to 2. The result was caused by hard luck and slow skating on the part of the visitors, although they checked back harder than the Montrealers. The artificial ice was very fast, and when the McGill players got the puck out they played splendid combination together and outskated Queen's forwards. The visitors bombarded the McGill nets in the first two periods, but their inability to score seemed to take away their confidence and aggressive spirit.

McGill's net-guarding deserves great credit for his ability in knocking the puck away from him, and he was busy a great part of the time. Parson, on the forward line, also played well, and was faster than any one on the tri-color team.

For Queen's, Box was the star, scoring the two goals without any support. Dobson did not hit his usual pass, and was kept busy covering his opponent.

McGill—Mann, goal; Kendall and Morris, defense; Parsons, rover; Rainboth, centre; Rooney, right wing; Blair and work, replaced.

R. Meldrum refereed.

The ice at the rink is very good, considering the mild weather during the past few days. The local hockey-ists were wishing for hard ice.

The K.C.I. team will line up as follows: Galt, Wain, Gense, Carroll and Ferguson (captain); rover, Paul centre, G. Stewart; wings, Toland and Gratton.

Curling Game.

So far only five matches have been played and three of these have caused disputes. It is the intention of the executive to raise the fee so that there will be less committee decisions.

On Saturday afternoon, at the Palace rink, a senior game was played between Portsmouth Beavers and Wanderers. This resulted 10 to 2 in favor of Beavers. W. McCutcheon was referee.

At The Grand.

At the evening entertainment at the Grand Opera House, to-night, a beautiful five-reel photo-play, with three hundred scenes, presenting Charles Richman in the famous comedy-drama, "The Man from Home," will be shown. The plot of the play is told by Charles Richman, in the role of "Daniel North," a Russian anarchist, who falls in love with Ethel, a daughter of a very rich farmer, who wishes to educate her, sends her to Europe. The farmer meets with an accident and Pike is appointed her guardian. In the meantime she meets with "Frankie," a Russian anarchist, who falls in love with her, and has all the trouble and perplexities of the case is unravelled by Pike, who finally makes Ethel his wife. There is also a comedy-drama, "Hello, Mabel," and a two-reel Mutual drama, entitled, "Jimmy," in the van derelle is Miss Winters, Dave, the girl behind the song and a pianologue, Bartino and company, a man, a woman, a song, six dogs and a wire. The bill is a very amusing one.

A SPLENDID SPIRIT.

Kingston Council of Woman Unit For the Cause.

Two items that were mentioned in connection with the recent annual meeting of the Woman's Council deserve special notice. One was that a Jewish federated society, which had been for some time dormant, had recently bestirred itself, and-not being called upon to disburse charity at home—had raised the sum of $72 for the Belgian distress. The other was mentioned in the report of the association of Women Teachers, i.e., that this association—composed of some of the most hard-working citizens of Kingston—had lately devoted, out of their scanty leisure, one afternoon a week to aid the noble work of the Red Cross Society. Such incidents speak for themselves of unity in the common cause.

AN AGED RESIDENT OF KINGSTON PASSES TO REST.

Deceased Graduated at Queen's Medical College in 1856—Practised His Profession for Years at Cataract.

Death claimed, on Sunday, at a ripe old age in the person of Dr. Marshall Jacob Brown, 632 Princess street, one of the oldest residents of Kingston and vicinity. During his later years deceased has resided in the city and lived a retired life, his frail constitution requiring of him great care and self-denial. Nevertheless, until somewhat over two weeks ago, he has at no time been confined to his bed, and was in his usual state of health when overcome by his sudden illness, while reading his evening paper, two weeks ago last Saturday night. Since then his condition gradually became weaker until the peaceful end.

He was born in the town-ship of Kingston, and was a son of the late James W. Brown, of Cataract. There he received his early education, later attending various private schools in the city, and Res-apolis College.

He subsequently spent five years under the instruction of the late Dr. Horatio Yates, thereafter attending New York University. Returning to Kingston he graduated from Queen's Medical College in 1856, and locating at his old home in Cataract, practised his profession for many years throughout the surrounding district.

He was a veteran of the Fenian Raid in 1866, at which time he was surgeon in the Frontenac Cavalry. He was an Anglican in religion and a member of St. Luke's Church.

The late Dr. Brown is survived by his widow and three sons, J. M. Brown, K.C., of Saskatoon; J. P. Brown and R. W. Brown, of this city.

The funeral will be conducted Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock at Cataract cemetery. Canon H. S. Forner will officiate at the service.

HAVE READ THE WHIG OVER FIFTY YEARS.

"We have taken the Whig for over fifty years," was the statement of Mrs. Rees, R. M., of No. 1, Portsmouth, when renewing her subscription for the Daily Whig for another year.

Mrs. Rees stated that her deceased husband took the paper for over forty years, while the family lived on Amherst Island.

When the family moved to Portsmouth they still continued to take the paper.

Funeral On Monday.

The funeral of the late Charles F. Jackson, who died on Saturday, was held from his late residence, 20 Dufferin street, on Monday morning, at 5:30 o'clock, at St. Mary's cathedral. A solemn requiem mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Halligan, and at nine o'clock the remains were again borne from the sacred edifice and conveyed to St. Mary's vault. The bearers were Messrs. S. McCullagh, T. Healey, J. Robinson, A. Routley, D. Brannigan and D. Beaur.

The Utilities Commission meets this afternoon and will have the Campbell power question and the financial reports of the gas, electric and water departments before it.

ICE FELL OFF ROOF

And Struck Mr. and Mrs. Munis, George Street.

While Mr. and Mrs. N. Munis, George street, were walking along Princess street, near E. P. Jenkins store, on Sunday afternoon, about three o'clock, a large quantity of ice fell from the roof of the building, striking Mrs. Munis upon the head and inflicting some gashes. A part of the ice also fell upon Mr. Munis's arm, causing it to be seriously bruised. It was only the style of hat that saved her from worse injuries. As it was, she was momentarily stunned, and only by Mr. Munis holding on to her arm she was kept from falling to the pavement.
