TERY, R. C. H. A. Medical Officers Required To Be Stricter Than Ever In Accepting Recruits For Overseas Service.

Orders have been issued that rewill be commenced immediateto secure men for the 26th Battery, C.E.F., but these men will be kept at the recruiting points until the mobilization order is issued.

Uniform for members of "C" Battery, R.C.H.A., has nearly all been issued, and the battery has a fine lot of men on parade. The men are looking after the horses used by the 22nd Battery. Guns are expected in the near future. The N.C.O.'s have H. Northey have been taken on the nearly all been chosen.

Col. G. H. Ogilvie makes an inspection of the battery every morning and is quite satisfied with the progress being made by the recruits.

An order has been issued that mediwhich we now offer at one half cal officers when examining recruits sirables are weeded out. The of men required for overseas service must be the best only. The medical officers have been very strict, but even greater care must be taken.

> The signalling section of the 21st Battalian is being given instruction on Barriefield commons. In buildings, or where they are only a short distance away, if the message cannot be translated, it is a temptation to speak across the distance, but Barriefield this cannot be done, and the section is now becoming highly proficient in sending and receiving messages rapidly. On all clear days the heliograph is used.

Twenty-five recruits have been & yielding. taken on the strength of the 21st 4 Battalion in the last two weeks, replacing those who were not quick enough in picking up the drill. Every man now being taken on is at least five feet, seven inches height and of high intelligence.

souse at Cataragui bridge almost cost Freddy" Morton, aged six, his life on Thursday afternoon. He slid open water, and would have been drowned but for the prompt action of some men, who happened to be working nearby and pulled him out.

The youngster and a companion named Harrison were having a merry time on the ice, but somehow the Morton boy got into the open water. An alarm was raised, and some men hurried to the rescue. One of the men secured a pole, and held it out so that the lad could get hold of it, and in this way he was pulled but was almost unconscious.

A call was sent to the police station and Constable Jenkins and Inspector W. H. Wyllie, of the Children's Aid Society, hurried to the scene. The boy soon came around all right, and, after some questioning. Constable Jenkins succeeded in securing from the lad his name. It was found that he was "Freedy" Morton, a son of James Morton, 119 Montreal street. Constable Jenkins went to his home, secured a change of clothing for him, and in the meantime he was cared for in the toll-house.

Mrs. Michael Kennedy. On Monday enraptured the audience by his clever playing of that instrument, and was repeatedly encored. The photo-pictures we've especially good, and included Mary Pickford in "Such a Little Queen." Mary Pickford is the highest paid film artist in the world to-day, and anything in which she appears draws big crowds everywhere. There are also two other pictures shown-"The Mystery of the Hindoo Image," in two reels, and "Left in the Train." The same bill will be nown at afternoon and evening performances Friday and Saturday.

The real trend of fashion is readily seen in our present offerings of Ladies' New Spring Suits. The styles of the new suits are as varied as the rich and beautiful fabries from which they are made. Whipcords, Serges, Honeycomb Cloths, etc., are the prominent materials, while as to colors, new blues, tans, checks and sand shades will be in great demand. WILL LEAVE THE CITY.

Caused Trouble And Was Before the Magistrate.

In the police court on Friday morning it was said of Thomas Kennedy that he had been drunk and disorderly. He did not deny the charge. The magistrate had been informed about his conduct, and was ready for him when h bobbed up in the prisoners' box. "Is there anything you can get to d out of town?" asked the magistrate.

"I think I would be able to get work out of town." "Then I will give you 24 hours to go. "Thank you, your worship," said Kennedy, as he left the court room, "I will leave the city at once." Mrs. Squires, arrested on a charge of vagrancy, came before the court and was remanded for a week. It appears that her mind has become unbalanced and she will be examined by a doctor. She cried and asked that she be given a chance to return to her home. A first-appearance drunk was given a

Vaudeville Men's Hard Luck. Messrs, Manning and Stone, two vaudeville artists, who were billed to igure at the Grand Opera House on Thursday afternoon and evening, had a hard luck story to tell. They were at Oswego and tried to be on the scene of their appointment in time. However, the train from Oswego to Cape Vincent was late and after arriving at the latter point the two vaudeville men secure the services of a man to drive themselves and their baggage to Kingston. Both should have been here in the aftertoon to figure in the programme, but brooders instead they did not reach the local play house until seven o'clock in the evening
