EIGHT STUDENTS TO GO TO MISSION FIELDS.

Baseball Match Between '17 and '15 —The Athletic Committee Reports a Balance of $224.04.

The Missionary Association has held its annual meeting. In spite of many drawbacks the year has been a good one. The new executive has been elected, and the association is looking forward to another good year. Eight men will be sent to the association to the mission field this year. The new executive is as follows: Hon. Pres. Rev. J. W. McIntosh; Pres. J. D. McCrae; vice Pres., F. C. Coverly; finance sec., H. J. Caverhill; Corr. Sec., H. Austin; Rec. Sec., Miss K. Holland; Alumni Sec., R. M. McMullen; Treas., J. G. Laine; critic, A. D. Matheson; reporter, J. H. Curry; Librarian, C. McKee; convener Home Mission Committee, Miss A. Sillers; Membership Committee, C. L. Jeffrey; associate, Miss Jessie McArthur; Foreign Missionary Convener, Miss Vera Allen.

Hockey sticks have been put up for another season. But 'tis just one thing after another. On the lower campus the lovers of baseball may be seen prancing around the diamond. An interesting baseball match between '17 and '15 arts was played in which the Sophs. proved too much for the seniors. Redly pitched a good game for '15 but the Sophs. showed real ability at the bat and won out by the cricket score of 17 to 12. The teams were: '15—Melville, c; Reilly, p; Keill, as; Holmes, 2b; McDonald, rf; Pillgrim, cf; McIntyre, lf; O'Meara, 3b; Counryman, lb; Zerkon, p; Rappelle, ss; Scott, 2b; Maitland, rf; Edwards, lf; McKercher, 3b; Sutherland, lb.

The University Athletic Committee has been successful in bringing down a balance of $224.04 for the year. Considering what the committee has been up against this year this is eminently satisfactory. Mr. Dawson, however, whose salary was last year increased to $800, only took $250. This reveals the spirit of Queen's when one of the men will for a sentiment sacrifice the major portion of his salary. The new committee is as follows: J. Kearney, E. C. A. Crawford, Roy Merrill, Frederick Paynter, Lee Dodds, William Orr, Roy Smith, M. Joelin, A. D. Matheson, J. Skelton, W. Kirkpatrick, J. M. Farrell, T. M. Asseltine, and Miss Garrison.

The new editor-in-chief of the Journal is J. S. McCormack. "Jim" is a quiet modest fellow and should make a good editor. G. E. Snider, B.A., has been appointed editor of music and drama.

WILL BETTER BUSINESS CONDITIONS IN EUROPE.

Says E. W. Waldron, Who Has Returned From a Trip Abroad — English People Not Afraid of German Submarines.

Everything seems to depend on the breaking through the Dardanelles, is the opinion of W. Waldron, European buyer for R. Waldron & Sons, who has just returned from England. The reason that Russia was not so active at the first of the campaign was the lack of ammunition, he says. Russia has plenty of men, horses and food, but lacks clothing and ammunition. France has the machinery for making ammunition, but requires food-stuffs. When the Dardanelles are broken through, which is now only a matter of days, the manufacturers of France can be exchanged for the raw material of Russia.

Despite the submarines Mr. Waldron says troops are being moved in large numbers to France from England. The submarines are only able to travel about ten miles an hour under water and fifteen above water. The troop ships are never caught, because from the time they leave the English dock till their arrival at Havre they run about twenty miles an hour. The submarines are useless when over 1,000 yards away, and it is only the small merchant ships that are caught. The public in England are not greatly alarmed by the submarine menace, he says.

The troops are all sent to Havre, as this is the base of supplies. Boulogne is nearer to England, but too close to the German line, and is only used by soldiers returning on furlough.

Any factory that is making goods for the soldiers has the "right of way" over everything, says Mr. Waldron. There are large numbers of ships lying at the docks with material for the use of the British public, but the material for the war-supplies comes first, and for weeks at a time it is impossible to move any of the material to supply the British public as the trains are being used by the authorities for the moving of troops and supplies.

At the first of February, the passenger service was greatly cut down and now only the through trains keep a constant service.

The public in Canada need not expect to be able to buy linen goods at the same price from now on. Russia used to make all the coarser kinds and Belgium and Ireland the finer kinds. None of these countries are making any now.

The cost of living in England has advanced, but it is not now as high as it is in Canada or the United States. In good restaurants it is possible to buy a steak for one and three pence (about thirty cents) and this would cost double that amount in New York City.

England has 2,000,000 men now drilling, and getting ready for the front. Every person seems willing to enlist, and there are large placards everywhere asking for men. Of course, there are large numbers of men who cannot leave their positions without stopping the business machinery, but everybody seems anxious to go.
