QUEEN'S HOSPITAL OFFER ACCEPTED BY WAR OFFICE

The Hospital Personnel Will Consist of 160 Medical Men and 35 Nurses--Orders Are Awaited For Recruiting by Major Etherington.

MAJOR F. ETHERINGTON. Who will be in charge of Queen's stationary hospital at the front.

On Tuesday night, Dean Connell received a telephone message from W. F. Nickle, M.P., at Ottawa, stating that the War Office had accepted the personnel of a Stationary Hospital from Queen's Medical College. The college authorities had requested that the Militia Department secure a definite answer by Friday as to whether the offer would be accepted, as the college term was about to close. The result was that the War Office was again cabled by the Minister of Militia, and an immediate reply was given from London. On Wednesday morning, Principle Gordon received a telegram from the Militia Department confirming the news already received by Dean Connell.

The college authorities await instructions to recruit for the hospital, which will be in charge of Major Frederick Etherington, Army Service Corps, a professor in Queen's Medical College. The personnel of the hospital will consist of 135, of whom 100 will be doctors and medical students and 35 nurses. There are a large number of applications in Major Etherington's hands. It is expected that the hospital contingent will leave here within a month. The hospital will be established in France.

SCALE OF PENSIONS

FOR THOSE WOUNDED AND DISABLED ON ACTIVE SERVICE.

Premier Borden Brings Down the New Scale For the Consideration of the House of Commons.

(Special to the Whig.) Ottawa, March 24.—In the Commons this morning, Sir Robert Borden tabled for consideration of the House a new scale of military pensions. It provides that the following rates of annual pension will be granted militia men wounded or disabled on active service, during drill or training or on other military duty, provided disability was not due to his own fault or negligence: Rank and file—First degree, $264; second degree, $192; third degree, $132; fourth degree, $75. Sergeants—First degree, $336; second, $252; third, $168; fourth, $100. Other N.C.'s and warrant officers at proportionate rates. Lieutenant—First degree, $480; second, $360; third, $240; fourth, $144. Other officers at rates according to rank up to brigadier-general—First degree, $2,100; second, $1,620; third, $1,080; fourth, $720. First degree shall be applicable to those only who are rendered totally incapable of earning their livelihood as a result of wounds or disease contracted in action or the presence of the enemy. The second and third are for various degrees of incapacity, while the fourth is applicable to those "who are rendered in a small way incapable of earning a living." Provision is also made that where disability such as to require the constant use of an attendant, such as the loss of both legs, or total blindness, the first degree pension shall be increased by one third. Provision is also made for extra payments for wives and children of those totally incapacitated. The widowed mother of a totally disabled soldier may be granted a pension at half-rate fixed for a widow, provided the soldier is her sole support and unmarried. In the event of the soldier's death, she may draw full rate. These pensions will be paid to the widows and children of those killed in action, or who have died from injuries received or illness contracted on active service provided death is not due to their own fault or negligence: Rank and file, $22 a month for widow and $5 a month for each child, with an increasing scale for N.C.O.'s. Lieutenant—$37 a month for widow and six a month for each child. Scale for officers increasing according to rank after brigadier-general, $100 a month for a widow and ten a month for each child. In case of orphans, the rates shown above for children may be doubled and the pension paid to legally appointed guardians. The pension to a widow or a widowed mother shall cease upon her re-marriage or becoming wealthy.

OBITUARY

The Late Thomas W. Nash Thomas Webb Nash a veteran land surveyor and engineer, aged eighty-eight years, passed away at the General Hospital on Tuesday afternoon, succumbing to an illness extending over five weeks.

The late Thomas Webb Nash was born on Amherst Island on the 29th of December, 1826. His father, Thomas Nash, came from Bristol, and carried on a store in Picton. On his mother's side he was a descendant of Mrs. Harris, Albeston, a somewhat distinguished member of the Society of Friends (Quakers). Mr. Nash himself was a Quaker in sympathy and had been heard to claim that he was still a member of that Society as he had "never been read out." At the same time his religious connection for many years was with the Methodist church.

His heart was set on being an engineer, and he articulated himself to John Emmerson, a provincial land surveyor at Taurlog, and was in his employment when the construction of the Grand Trunk Railway from Toronto to Montreal was begun. He obtained employment as an engineer of the great new railway and continued with the Grand Trunk until the road was completed, and subsequently came to Kingston and settled down here, pursuing his vocation as a Provincial Land Surveyor which he carried on up till a few months ago.

When the Kingston and Pembroke Railway Company was organized he became its chief engineer. The laying out of the road as it now runs was his work. Only engineers know the difficulties with which he had to contend in constructing a road through the broken country between Kingston and Renfrew.

He was one of the makers of Canada, whose work is done out of sight, without noise, but is none the less of the greatest value to his country. It would not be incorrect to say that Mr. Nash was universally esteemed as a man of unblemished character and reputation, quiet, simple and unostentatious in his ways, "doing good by stealth," in ways that very few people knew anything about. There are men in Kingston who could tell of sincere service of friendship and assistance rendered to them by the deceased which were never heard of or known except between the giver and receiver. Mr. Nash took a great interest in the University and School of Mining, and for some years was a governor of the latter institution.

He leaves two brothers, Dr. Alfred Nash, Joliet, Ill.; Dr. Samuel Nash, Bath; and three sisters, Mrs. L. E. Loomis, Rich Hill, Mo.; Mrs. Joseph Sweatman, Bloomfield, and Mrs. Mary Allan, Kingston.

On Thursday morning at 10.30 o'clock service will be conducted at R. J. Reid's undertaking parlors, at which Rev. Alfred Brown will officiate. The remains will be taken to Cataract vault and at a later date transferred to Adolphustown, where interment will take place.

The Late Mrs. M. Stinson. On Tuesday night the death occurred in the hospital, of Mrs. Murray Stinson, aged thirty-seven years. In religion the deceased was an Anglican. She resided at Tamworth, to which place the remains were transferred by James Reid, undertaker, on Wednesday afternoon. A husband survives.

Preaching On The War. Pastor Bryant, Newburgh, N.Y., a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Bryant, 63 George street, has been preaching a series of special sermons on "Turkey and the War," which have been creating a great deal of interest. A copy of the Daily News of that place, received by the Whig, gives a column report of his latest sermon.

At Regina, Sask., Lieut. Governor Brown and Commissioner Perry of the R.N.-W.M.P. are quarantined because of diphtheria. Andrew Burns, wounded at the front, is a son of Thomas Burns, of Brockville.
