JAMES SWIFT & CO. SHOULD COMMANDER The Whole of Wheat Stocks As Indicated. London, March 25.—The Daily Chronicle says: "Great Britain should follow the example of India, which is commencing the whole of the wheat stocks, including the coming harvest, and selling to Indian consumers at Indian prices, thereby at least equaling the Government, and gaining for the state the difference between the Indian price and the inflated world price. The Government of New South Wales is acting similarly."

concentration of the troops was an excellent step for which the Minister of Militia was to be commended. Mr. Marill asked how many Canadian women had volunteered for service as nurses at the front. General Hughes said: "Twenty-five thousand, and I may add that the women of Canada have been our best recruiting agents."
