Discovered by British, 24 Hours Before Its Completion. London, April 7.-A nearly completed tunnel, through which a hundred German prisoners could have made their escape from the internment camp at Philbers, near Maidenhead, has been discovered by the British military authorities, according to the Daily Telegraph.

The newspaper asserts that the tunnel would have been finished in another twenty-four hours. It was thirty feet long, and had been dug beneath a garden and under a high wall. The work of excavation had been carried on at night with the aid of fire shovels.

War Tidings. Another daring exploit has been added to the long list of those successfully carried out by Adolph Pegoud, the famous French aviator, who is reported to have attacked and brought down a German Taube near Saint Menchould while he was alone on patrol duty, on April 2nd.

It is currently reported that the manufacturers took strong grounds that they should be allowed to transact business directly with the Government and not be compelled to close contracts through party middlemen who thus secured liberal "kick-offs" at the public expense.

SALLOONS OUT OF BUSINESS. Dry Counties Established Through Local Option Elections.

Chicago, April 7.-Three new dry counties were established yesterday through local option elections held in down-State townships.

Added to the fifty-two counties previously without saloons fifty-five out of the 102 counties in Illinois now will be prohibition territory. Nearly 100 saloons were put out of business out of 350 involved in the elections.

The "dry" won victories in numerous small towns, but the "wets" held their own in the larger cities, having unexpectedly large majorities in Danville, Kapkakee and Murphysboro, the three chief cities where township local option elections were held.

The chief dry victory was in Centuria, which for sixty years has been wet. Thirty-eight saloons are affected.
