

TWO SACRED CANTATAS

RENDERED IN FIRST BAPTIST AND ST. ANDREW'S CHURCHES On Sunday Evening, and Were Heard By Large Audiences—First Baptist Choir Assisted By Outside Soloists.

In conjunction with the evening service in the First Baptist Church on Sunday, a cantata entitled, "The First Easter," was splendidly rendered by the choir assisted by Miss McGrath, Miss Irene Derbyshire, James Bankier and James Saunders from Cooke's Church, Union Street Baptist, Chalmers and St. Luke's choir respectively. Sydney Salisbury was director. A large audience was present.

The bass solo rendered by F. W. Edmondson, "Lo I Am With You Away," was particularly good. The women's trio, "As It Began At Dawn," sung by Miss Muriel Breathe- waite, Miss Edna Singleton and Mrs. McGrath was much enjoyed. Miss Singleton sang the contralto solo, "In the Garden," which was followed a little later by the soprano solo, "The Break of Day," by Miss Breathe- waite. Three more choruses constituted the remainder of the cantata, and included "Shall I Hear Of Rock," "Our Lord Indeed Is Risen," and "All Hail." In the latter Mr. Bankier was heard in the solo part.

St. Andrew's Choral Service. Considering the heavy rain on Sunday evening, there was a good congregation at St. Andrew's Church to hear the choral service, "Peace, Pardon and Peace," sung by the choir, which was well balanced and numbered thirty voices. The phrasing and tone was such that could be desired. The soloists were Miss M. Chalmers, soprano; Mr. Tompkins, tenor, and Arthur

Comfort and Cure for Baby's Skin Troubles

Dr. Chase's Ointment Cured When Baby's Body Was Covered With Distressing Eczema.

If every mother could try Dr. Chase's Ointment for the chafing, skin irritation and resulting eczema which tortures so many babies, what a blessing it would be for the little ones. This letter will give you an idea of what a wonderful work this Ointment is doing in the way of bringing comfort to children who, are so unfortunate as to contract eczema. It is so easy for this trouble to develop from chafing or irritation caused by the clothing, and so difficult to get it cured, that Dr. Chase's Ointment is appreciated when once its healing qualities are known. Mr. M. L. Duques, Postmaster, Dugwayville, N.B., writes: "I believe it is my duty to recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment as a cure for eczema. My baby was seized with eczema and his face and arms were covered with this terrible disease. After trying all sorts of ointments the disease continued to spread until Craig, bass, who sang their several parts with true artistic interpretation. Miss Luella Hall, who has made a name for herself as a brilliant soloist, has now proven her mastery of the instruments as an accompanist, by her work last evening. Rev. Mr. Compton conducted the service and gave a short discourse on the theme of the cantata.

Vaudeville at the Grand. At the vaudeville entertainment at the Grand Opera House this evening the following programme will be produced: Mile Arminta and Burke, aerial gymnastic stunts of a thrilling nature; John Orren, imitator and comedian; the famous Film Company with the great actor John Barrymore, "The Man From Mexico," in five acts; A Comedy of Mis- fortunes, a two-reel photo-play and a Keystone comedy. The same bill will be given on Tuesday and Wed- nesday afternoon and evening.

Minister Takes First Swim. The honor of having taken the first swim in the harbor this year goes to Rev. G. A. Lowes, Union Street Baptist Church. Mr. Lowes is a thorough athlete and states that cold baths all the year are very healthy. His first outdoor plunge this year was made at the city bath- ing houses on King street west and he was in the water for some time on Saturday.

Lieut. Wilkins' Condition Improved. It will be gratifying news to know that Lieut. Harold Wilkins, Belle- ville, a Royal Military College gradu- ate, wounded at the front with the Bedfordshire Regiment in which he held a commission, is on the high road to recovery. A cable received on April 8th reads: "Lieut. Wilkins struck off the seriously wounded list."

At Cooke's Church on Sunday morning, Rev. J. W. McIntosh pre- scribed on the Centenary of a War- rior Saint," dealing in an inter- esting manner with the life of Dr. John Geddle, who was the first mis- sionary from Canada to a foreign colony, and who was born on April 10th, 1815. Mr. McIntosh drew forth lessons from the life of the great missionary.

At St. James' Church. At St. James Church on Sunday the Easter music was repeated with fine effect. Bishop Mills preached at the morning service and Rev. T. W. Savary in the evening. The rec- tor dealt with "Friends and Foes of the Resurrection" in an able man- ner.

NURSES RECEIVE SOCKS For Queen's Stationary Hospital Go- ing To the Front. The Kingston Chapter of the On- tario Graduate Nurses' Association held a sock shower on Saturday in the vacant store on Prince's street in Montreal street, for the benefit of the Queen's Stationary Hospital, which is shortly going to the front. Mrs. George Nicol was in charge, and assisting her were Mrs. F. Robinson, Mrs. G. H. Williamson, Mrs. S. Craw- ford, Mrs. H. W. Marshall, Miss Grace Hancock, Miss Pugh and Miss Annie Peakey. The efforts of these ladies 300 pairs of socks and about $25 were received, and other prom- ised contributions are yet to come. The nurses did splendidly, considering that the call was so hurriedly made, only two days' notice to the public being given. Queen's Hospital will require many socks for the wounded who will come under its care. The Kingston Nurses' Alumnae As- sociation is donating $50 for the purchase of sheets, handkerchiefs, etc., for the Queen's Hospital. This afternoon, the Daughters of the Empire are holding a sock shower in the City Hall for the same object.

VOICE OF THE PULPIT

SOME MARKS OF THOSE NEAR KINGDOM OF GOD. Sermon By Rev. G. A. Lowes, Union Street Baptist—Rev. Alfred Brown—Asks Students What They Are Going To Do With Their Live.

Rev. G. A. Lowes, Union street Ba- ptist church, on Sunday evening took as his text "some marks of those near the kingdom of God," (Matthew xii. 24). "When people are nearest to God they are in the most danger," said Mr. Lowes. "The danger lies in their aptness to grow contented and have no ambition. Some of the marks of being near to God are truthfulness of spirit, spiritual perception, and acquaint- ance with law and teachable- ness." "Among those who have turned out to be the most determined ene- mies of the gospel," said the preacher, "are those who at one time were almost at the throne, but who fell by the wayside."

Sydenham Street Methodist. Rev. Alfred Brown took as his text in Sydenham street Methodist church, on Sunday evening, Philip- pians i. 27. "What a solemn and momentous thing it is to live," he said. "There are students here to-night and I would say to them: It is not what you are going to do with your edu- cation; it is not what you are go- ing to do with the wealth derived from your education, but it is what are you going to do with your life?"

At Cooke's Church. At Cooke's Church on Sunday morning, Rev. J. W. McIntosh pre- scribed on the Centenary of a War- rior Saint," dealing in an inter- esting manner with the life of Dr. John Geddle, who was the first mis- sionary from Canada to a foreign colony, and who was born on April 10th, 1815. Mr. McIntosh drew forth lessons from the life of the great missionary.

At St. James' Church. At St. James Church on Sunday the Easter music was repeated with fine effect. Bishop Mills preached at the morning service and Rev. T. W. Savary in the evening. The rec- tor dealt with "Friends and Foes of the Resurrection" in an able man- ner.

HUGE ELM TREE FELL ACROSS ROADWAY ON GORE STREET BELOW KING. And Left Half of 21st Battalion Had Narrow Escape, As It Was Within A Few Feet Of the Crash. What caused the huge elm tree to fall at the corner of King and Gore streets, just as the left half of the 21st Battalion was about to pass at two o'clock Sunday afternoon, has puzzled many who witnessed the fall. At that hour the soldiers had left the barracks and were on their way to approach to within twenty-five feet of the tree when it was noticed to tot- ter by the officers in the lead. The latter immediately gave the order to halt, and it did not come any too soon, because by the time he had shouted it, the tree came down with a crash, falling up the roadway with its large trunk and branches. The roots of the tree were in close prox- imity to James McParland's resi- dence, and when they were torn up by the fall, the earth and sods were thrown up almost five feet.

A FRONTENAC SOLDIER.

Writes From Front To His Sister, Mrs. Frank Leslie, Godfrey. Mrs. Frank Leslie, Godfrey, who received the following letter under date of March 17th, from her brother who is with the Canadians in France: "We are in the midst of the fighting now and up to the present our bunch has been fortunate in escap- ing any casualty. Our Captain has just read a letter of praise for the efficiency of the First from the gen- eral. I must admit we were all pleased to hear our services were so highly appreciated. While writing this the big guns are more than fring on all sides of us. One gets accus- tomed to the sound of them until they come too close. Then she looks bad. However, regardless of the dangerous surroundings, we are better satisfied than when at Salis- bury. We go into the trenches for four days at a time, then have four days in billets.

"One at home in Canada can scarcely realize the terrible destruc- tion of a war, on a country. Some of the most magnificent churches and flourishing towns all blown to atoms. I have had several letters from home and friends since our arrival here and can safely say the mail service is better than when at Salis- bury. As our mail is delivered in the trenches, one who has not had the experience cannot realize the hap- py sensation that takes hold of a fellow when he finds himself one of the lucky ones in getting even one letter.

"The Canadians are certainly hold- ing up their reputation for good shots. I saw them shelling some build- ings one day and every shot hit the mark. I wonder if the Second Conting- ent will do as well? Evidently they will never endure the hardships we endured while at Salisbury as the weather is getting finer now. Could I write some very interesting things regarding places, movements and the parts we have taken in the charges but I'm not allowed. This is the 17th of March and the only really nice day we have had for months. Have no idea how long the war will con- tinue. Some one will surely have to give in but it will never be the British."

At Cooke's Church. At Cooke's Church on Sunday morning, Rev. J. W. McIntosh pre- scribed on the Centenary of a War- rior Saint," dealing in an inter- esting manner with the life of Dr. John Geddle, who was the first mis- sionary from Canada to a foreign colony, and who was born on April 10th, 1815. PRICE—STACKHOUSE. On one of the foothills of the Sierra Madre mountains just at the northern gate of Los Angeles stands the historic and picturesque Church of the Angels, the largest of its kind in view by the wealth of trees and flowers surrounding it. On Easter Sunday morning as the bell rung the hour of ten, the organ pealed forth the Wedding March and by the chance door entered the Vicar, Rev. Harry Chomley and the bride, Miss Pringle, Porterville, Cal. Down the main aisle on the arm of Edward Crumley, came the bride, Miss Kathleen Stackhouse, formerly of King- ton, but late of Los Angeles. At the chancel rail Mr. Price awaited the bride and there the beautiful impressive words of the Episcopal marriage service were read.

The bride was given away by her aunt, Mrs. Eva Marshall. It will be remembered that Miss Stackhouse is a niece of Mrs. T. F. Harrison and of Mrs. Oliver Crown. After the ceremony the bridal party returned to the home of the bride, where a charmingly appointed wedding breakfast was served. The happy couple left on the noon train for San Diego and Coronada Beach. After the honeymoon they will go to Reno, Nev. Mr. Price is en- gaged in business, and when a beautiful new bungalow home awaits them. Among the guests were sev- eral old Kingstonians, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Crumley and daughter, Dor- othy, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gibber- tin and daughter, Mrs. Norman R. Philip and Miss Florence Stack- house, sister of the bride.

Marine Notes. The Welland Canal will open on April 15th. The steamers Doric, Cal- ton and Iroquois are at Port Col- borne ready to start out. The schooner Ford River was all in readiness to-day to start on her first trip of the season, and will get away before night if the weather is favorable. She is bound for Erie to load coal for Richardson's. Remembered Firemen. The firemen received a cheque for $10 from John Gillespie, Barriefield, in recognition of services rendered by members of the brigade at the fire which occurred at his home a few days ago. Acting on instructions received from Toronto police, Constable Samuel Arieel on Saturday night placed under arrest Charles Phillips, a 20- year-old man, a member of the R.C. H.A. He is wanted in Toronto, on a charge of seduction, lodged against him by a girl named Simmons. Phillips spent Sunday in the cells. Toronto was notified of the arrest being made an Detective Young who came down to Kingston on Sunday morning, returned to Toron- to with the accused on Sunday night.

Christianity In Action. "I hate to contemplate a return to mere talk religion when the war is over," writes Rev. J. B. Grimshaw, Chaplain with the 3rd Brigade, Canadian Field Artillery. "Christianity on the battlefield is blood and sweat and tears, and the summer day, giving up everything and at the same time knowing little of sacrifice. There is no end of noble fellows here."
