MAJOR-GEN. LESSARD WRONG "TOM" RILEY ALD. WRIGHT EXPLAINS

INSPECTED THE TWO BATTERIES WITH REGARD TO THE GARBAGE INCINERATOR. WAS RELEASED FROM THE PENITENTIARY. COST WOULD BE ONLY HALF OF THAT ESTIMATED BY UTILITIES COMMISSION LIGHT PLANT PROPERLY THE PROPER PLACE FOR IT.

He Met Trooper L. W. Mulloy—The Two Batteries Were Found To Be Doing Excellent Work.

Major-General G. L. Lessard, Inspector-General of the Eastern Canadian forces, inspected the local garrison on Tuesday morning. At 9.30 a.m. he visited Tete de Pont barracks and made a thorough inspection of "C" Battery on parade. Later, under command of Capt. W. E. Steacy, the battery paraded to Barrfields and were put through several movements for the General's inspection. At 2 p.m. Gen. Lessard inspected the newly-organized 26th Battery. In both cases he was highly pleased with the work accomplished. He paid a tribute to Kingston as a training ground for artillery men and said that the 22nd Battery, now overseas, which he had inspected on his last visit here, was the finest battery he had ever seen, considering the amount of time that Major Reinold had had to put the men into shape.

A number of men were being given instruction in gunnery while the inspection was on Tete de Pont barracks square, and he was greatly interested in their work also. In conversation with a Whig representative later he expressed himself as well pleased with "C" Battery, and complimented Capt. W. E. Steacy on the results he had obtained.

After Major-General G. L. Lessard had inspected "C" Battery Trooper L. W. Mulloy was introduced to him. Almost the first expression the blind trooper made was a wish that he was only able to go overseas again and fight for his country.

When Mulloy had gone Gen. Lessard told the story of the man in which the trooper had lost his sight. "He is what I call a true soldier," said the General.

Initial of Another Riley Was Inserted In Order For Pardon by Mistake—Free Man May Be Re-arrested.

The Department of Justice did release the wrong "Tom" Riley from the penitentiary. The records at Ottawa have been investigated and it has been found that the London man of this name was released, while the Canadian Government decided to grant a pardon to Thomas Riley. The latter, two years ago, was given a six years term for manslaughter for killing his wife in Hamilton. His condition of health and extenuating circumstances connected with the mode of life of the woman killed led the Government to this decision.

It appears that the circumstances of the case and the description of the man's age, place of conviction, etc., which came before the Minister of Justice, were those of the prisoner from Hamilton. But in some way the letter "M" had been put into the name, which made it that of the one from London. Therefore, instead of being Thomas Riley it was Thomas M-Riley. The name and the description went, in the usual course, to the State Department, and following traditional practice, the State Department made an order for the release of the prisoner by name only, omitting the description. The penitentiary officials, therefore, had nothing to guide them but the name, and they released Thomas M. Riley, "Lak" of London, now of Missouri.

A new pardon will be made out for the Hamilton Thomas Riley. An effort will be made to have Thomas M. Riley extradited from the United States and put back to complete his sentence. However, the officials of the Department of Justice have little hope that this will succeed, not being certain that they could return Thomas M. Riley even if he could be taken in Canada. The clemency of the Crown, once granted, is not often withdrawn, even for mistaken identity.

Discussed In Commons.
An Ottawa special to the Whig says: In the Commons Tuesday morning Dr. J. W. Edwards, member for Frontenac, asked if it were true that a convict named Thomas Riley, sentenced less than a year ago to serve a fifteen-year term for manslaughter, had been released from penitentiary.

Dr. Edwards said that if the statements were true it was a serious reflection upon the management of the institution.

Hon. C. J. Doherty, Minister of Justice, admitted the accuracy of the report. He said Thomas Riley, Hamilton, in April, 1913, was sentenced to a term of seven years for manslaughter. A year later Thomas M. Riley, London, was sent down for fifteen years for manslaughter. It had been decided to release Thomas Riley on parole, but the wrong Riley was allowed to go free. Mr. Doherty said that the incident was most regrettable. He intimated that in future in transmitting such orders care should be taken that such mistakes should not occur again. Riley is now in the United States. Replying to a question by D. D. MacKenzie, Mr. Doherty said that the order for the release of the Hamilton man would be acted upon.

Cost Would Be Only Half Of That Estimated by Utilities Commission Light Plant Properly The Proper Place For It.

Ald. G. C. Wright, chairman of the special committee appointed by the City Council with regard to garbage collection and disposal, will have to give the Utilities Commission some pointers with regard to the erection and maintenance of the proposed incinerator, as there seems to be quite a difference of opinion as to the cost and as to the question of nuisance. Ald. Toye is strongly opposed to having the incinerator on the property of the Commission on Brock street. Ald. Wright has photographs of incinerators erected in various places in Canada, United States and Great Britain where these structures are right in the heart of the cities and causing no nuisance whatever. In one city the incinerator is close to a General Hospital.

The proper site for a garbage incinerator in Kingston, United States and Great Britain where these structures are right in the heart of the cities and causing no nuisance whatever. In one city the incinerator is close to a General Hospital.

Ald. Wright disagrees with the figures submitted to the Utilities Commission as to the cost, the total being over $11,000. His estimate is $5,000, provided a piece of the light plant can be secured free, as he contends that the power that would be generated from the heat of the incinerator and to lessen the cost of cartage we could build the incinerator at Kingston Junction, but that would be a foolish scheme for the cost would be twice as great.

Ald. Wright has every evidence that the erection of an incinerator on the Light plant property would cause no nuisance whatever," said Ald. Wright. "The proposition is a very simple one, and I hope that the Utilities Commission will see its way clear to assist us in the way we ask. The Light plant will make a net profit of $2,500 a year by making use of the steam from the incinerator. Its high chimney has been condemned and another has to be erected in its place, so that two objects can be served with the one structure. The incinerator is built close to the chimney on top of the ground, and its operation is very simple. If started at once, the incinerator could be got ready in six weeks."

If the City Council adopts the proposition there will be some discussion as to the method of charging the garbage collection. The special committee recommends that property be assessed just the same as for water rates. The cost would be at the rate of half a mill. Some of the citizens are opposed to this, taking the view that the tenants of houses and not the owners should be liable. At present the budget contains an appropriation of $4,500 for garbage collection, which would suffice for this year, as the tax rate is struck. If the charge was made on each individual owner-tenant, the general tax rate would be half a mill less.
