IT MUST BE STOPPED TELLS OF GREAT FIGHT

TWO MORE WERE FINED FOR SPEEDING.

Police Use Their Stop Watch to Good Advantage in Catching People who Break the By-laws—Man Given Month for Theft.

Speeding must be stopped. The police are continuing their crusade, so people who like to hit up a fast pace with a motorcycle or automobile had better be careful or they will have to pay fine in the police court.

On Monday morning, Magistrate Farrells imposed a fine of $5 and costs on a young man who travelled at the rate of 22 miles an hour, according to Constable Arniel, on Brock street shortly after eight o'clock on Saturday morning last. Constable Arniel used a stop-watch on the young man and gave the magistrate the result of his test. The accused claimed he was not going at this rate as he had a speedometer on his machine, but Constables Mullinger and Arniel, who made the inspection of the car, declared that there was no speedometer on it. A young man who was speeding with his motorcycle was also taxed $5 and costs. Constable Thomas Mullinger put his stop-watch to work on him, on Barrie street on Friday last. A middle-aged man, while drunk on Saturday, took a purse out of the pocket of a man with whom he had been drinking, and was sentenced to one month in jail. The accused claimed that the man gave the pocketbook to him to look after. It contained $14.

FOUGHT UNTIL ALL FELL

Battalion To Which Men Were Attached Not Stated.

London, May 3.—In a British eyewitness story of the latest stages of the battle of Ypres mention is made of a machine gun detachment who kept their gun in action until all were dead or wounded.

"The gun was stationed in an angle of the trench," says the eyewitness. "When the German rush took place one man after another of the detachment was shot, but the gun still continued in action, although five bodies lay around it. When the sixth man took the place of his fallen comrades, of whom one was his brother, the Germans still pressing on, he waited until they were only a few yards away and then poured a stream of bullets on the advancing ranks, which broke and fell back, leaving rows of dead. He was then wounded himself."

Childs, of C Company, 39th Battalion, which mobilized in this city, Saturday evening placed in the military hospital, suffering from three ugly scalp wounds, which were inflicted with a table-knife in the hands of Alexander T. Gilmore, who has been placed under arrest. The wounds were of such a nature as to require several stitches in them.

French Troops Withdrawn.

London, May 3.—It appears that the Turkish report that the Asiatic shore of the Dardanelles is free of the invaders was correct, the French having simply gone ashore there to make the landing the British on the other side easier and, this accomplished, having been withdrawn, doubtless to land at some other point.

A casualty list issued by the British War Department shows that during the last of British troops in the operations against the Dardanelles, that is between April 25th and April 30th, twenty-six men of the British fleet were killed and fifty-three were wounded.

IN WHICH BRITISH TOOK HILL 60 NEAR YPRES.

Pte. Edward McDermott Was In The Midst of It—His Letter Is Dated The 21st of April.

Pte. Edward C. McDermott, son of James McDermott, Johnson street, who is with the Canadian Motor Transport, was in the big fight when the British took Hill No. 60 from the Germans, on April 20th and he was also close to where the Germans made their big drive a couple of days later. His letter is dated April 21st, and is the first to reach here telling of the commencement of the terrible fighting around Ypres. Pte. McDermott states that his transport was closest to the firing line of any of the British force. He says:

"They decided to attack the German position. All that night and part of next day it was a regular hell let loose. The British had mined a hill on which the Germans were strongly entrenched and which the British had lost many lives trying to take. They fired the mines and that was the signal to start. At 7.10 p. m. they opened up and I do not ever expect to see any thing more thrilling if I live a hundred years. We took the hill, lost it and recaptured it and about two miles beyond it. The French on our left attacked at the same time and had about as good success as we did. The Germans have been trying hard to retake this position but without success.

"We have practically nothing to do. Our work lasts but half an hour a day as the rain is only a couple of miles from the firing line. Even as I write a 'Jack Johnson' passes over our head, or to right or left, but so far the Motor Transport seems to have a charmed life. I go on guard to-night and I will have an opportunity of watching the excitement all night as I will be up the biggest part of it.

"Ypres is pretty well demolished. The people, brave to the last, stick there, selling little souvenirs, lace, etc., to the soldiers. Our boys were in the thick of it, but as yet I do not know the number of casualties, although I hear our battalion lost 150. "Well the British seem to have gained the supremacy of the air. Dozens of our planes are over their trenches all the time while the only two German planes I have seen in a week were brought down by the British guns in quick time.

"We are going to win and a lot sooner than most people think, but it will take considerable lives to do it. The British took a large bunch of prisoners the last few days. There is to be another attack to-night. There is a continual stream of star shells thrown up at night that turn night into day."

A JITNEY SERVICE.

Should be Arranged to and From Camp.

The Board of Trade, in the interests of the business men of the city, should consider a proposition for the establishment of a jitney service to and from Barrieheld camp grounds, where by the middle of the month a great company of soldiers will be gathered together. The service could be either by auto buses or automobiles and with a charge of five cents each way a good business would result. The soldiers would patronize the service and it would be a great help to many citizens and visitors. There is no doubt but that it would be a paying proposition for some enterprising person.

To Give Up Their Picnic.

The members of St. George's Cathedral Sunday School by unanimous vote decided to give up their annual Sunday School treat and picnic, and devote the money towards hymn books for the overseas troops and help for the Belgian children. There was not a dissenting voice when the vote was taken. Such spirit shows that even the little folk are feeling the call of self-sacrifice. It is one to be commended in the present crisis.

Woman Not Taken Into Custody.

There has been a persistent report that a woman was taken into custody for being in communication with the German prisoners at Fort Henry. Major H. J. Dawson, in command at the Fort, when asked by the Whig, stated that no arrest was made. It is understood that a woman was advised to keep away from the prisoners.

Let Passes Issued.

The St. Lawrence Canal report shows that from April 27th to April 29th, let passes were issued for 417,574 bushels of grain and 3,022 tons of coal en route to Montreal.

Roy Grice and Pearl Beaudry, both of Brockville, were married at the Methodist parsonage, Ogdensburg, on April 28th.

"Vest Pocket Kodaks," at Gibson's Drug Store.

Mr. and Mrs. John Deegan, Brockville, have left to take up residence in Belleville.

THAT TIRED FEELING

Relieved By Hood's Sarsaparilla, Which Renovates the Blood.

That tired feeling that comes to you in the spring, year after year, is a sign that your blood lacks vitality, just as pimples, boils and other eruptions are signs that it is impure; and it is also a sign that your system is in a low or run-down condition, inviting disease. It is a warning, which it is wise to heed. Ask your druggist for Hood's Sarsaparilla. This old standard tried and true blood medicine relieves that tired feeling. It cleanses the blood, gives new life, new courage, strength and cheerfulness. It makes the rich red blood that will make you feel, look, eat and sleep better.

Be sure to get Hood's, because it is the best. There is no other combination of roots, barks and herbs like it—no real substitute for it—no "just-as-good" medicine.
