CHEERED FOR ITALY,

Italian Celebrated, And Was Locked Up By the Police.

On Tuesday night a young Italian stood at the corner of Montreal and Princess street, and gave three cheers for Italy. There was nothing wrong in this had the man who was doing the cheering been sober, but he was very much under the influence of liquor, and as he commenced to create a disturbance, Constable Jenkins considered that it would be best to remove him to the police cells. The magistrate on Wednesday morning allowed him his liberty, as he had never been charged in the court before.
