SUNDAY AT THE CAMP

LARGE CROWDS OF VISITORS INSPECTED IT.
Divine Services Were Held—Part of 59th Battalion To Be Transferred To the 38th.
Sunday was a day of rest at Barriemore Camp and it was thoroughly enjoyed by the men. Only work that was absolutely necessary, such as fatigue duty in the infantry lines and looking after the horses in the cavalry and artillery lines, was attended to. The remainder of the day was given them freedom for the day. Divine services for Protestants and Roman Catholics were held in the morning, and afterwards a large number of the men went down to Macdonald's Cove and enjoyed the luxury of their first swim. The Y.M.C.A. tent was filled to capacity. A number walked over to the city and attended church service.

On Monday morning the routine work was commenced again. Several important movements are planned this week, but for the first part at least only elementary drills will be engaged in.

There were hundreds of Kingston people at the camp on Sunday. People went over in automobiles, buggies and on foot, and a thorough inspection of the camp was made. Sentences were passed on business from actually going through the lines, but the streets at the sides are as close as the average visitor wishes to go without bothering the men. Many of the visitors expressed themselves as much pleased with the type of soldier in the camp, and also on the splendid arrangements that have been made. The lay-out is the best in years and many complimentary remarks about it were made. Of course every unit claims to have the best position in the camp, but all the positions are good, and exceptional precautions have been taken against being flooded out.

Lieut.-Col. Edwards, 38th Battalion; Lieut.-Col. Munroe, 8th C.M.R., and Major Routh, 8th C.M.R., were in Ottawa over the week-end.
J. M. Grant, Ottawa Journal, was a visitor in camp Sunday. Several other newspaper men are expected this week.
The 8th C. M. R. erected its canteen on Saturday.

Several games of baseball were played on the parade ground on Sunday afternoon. In one of these a soldier was struck by a bat, and had to be taken to the detention hospital for medical treatment.
Straw hats will be issued to every soldier in the camp in a few days. These are certainly a necessity.

Sergeant Gillese, Lindsay, reported for duty on Sunday, and is attached to the instruction of the surplus troops. Before leaving Lindsay he was presented with a silver cigarette case.

The order numbering the surplus overseas troops into the 59th Battalion has been changed, and this unit will be used as base for the supplying of the other units with men. The 38th Battalion is to be used as reinforcements. Already one company is on the way as reinforcements for the Princess Patricia's. The King's have say overseas volunteers, of whom there are almost 300, will be brought to the camp immediately and put into training with this base. Sufficient trained men will be immediately drafted from this base to bring the 38th Battalion up to full strength.

A Provisional School of Infantry will start in the camp on June 5th for the qualifying of several infantry officers.

The Protestant drum-head service at the Barriemore Camp, was conducted by Major the Very Rev. Dean Starr. It made a fine picture on the hill top with the troops formed in hollow square; the Brigade Staff in the centre; the white-robed chaplain standing before the piled drums draped with the Union Jack. The band of the 38th furnished the music and the men sang heartily the familiar war hymns. The address was "Camp standing orders for a Christian," and he gave the men a straight talk on the way that Christ expected his men to make good their profession amid the temptations of camp life. The colors of the flag indicated the subject: Red, speaking of reverence for the God of the Empire; white, the purity that makes the efficient, and blue, the spirit of temperance so needed to-day. The three colors make a fitting background to the crosses on the flag which stand for the sacrifice demanded of all who serve the colors and link a man to Jesus Christ.

LETTERS FROM ENGLAND.

Members of 21st And Queen's Engineers Write Home.
Ian Revelle, College street, has received two very interesting letters from Driver W. E. Revelle, Sixth Company, Canadian Engineers, at Shorncliffe, Kent, England, under date of May 24th and 25th. He states that his corps was doing the heaviest and best range in the British Empire. It is down on the beach where the Normans and Saxons had a battle. The camp is regarded as the most healthful place in England. It is regarded as the best. Soldiers leave there and inside of forty-eight hours they return, wounded. Red Cross trains go by the camp, sometimes eight trainloads in one day. The towns are filled with French and Belgian woman refugees.
Speaking of the trip overseas the writer says they were held up two days by the fog. A cruiser came alongside the vessel and the boys sang Rule Britannia and the Maple Leaf. The cruiser stayed for two or three days and then two torpedo destroyers arrived and acted as an escort.

Concert On Metagama.
Charles Williams, 275 King street, has received from his son, Corporal Douglas Williams, of the 21st Battalion, a copy of a programme given on board the steamship Metagama on the night of May 15th. Mayo, Private G. Girard, piano solo by Mr. Kinnett and banjo selections by H. Collins.

LETTERS APPRECIATED.

Letters received from boys at the front or in the various training camps are of great interest to the citizens generally. The Whig will be glad to receive for publication any and all such letters. Personal matter will, of course, be omitted and the letters promptly returned to those to whom they are addressed.
Letters received by our readers in the country make interesting reading for the friends and relatives of the soldiers. When such are sent in they will be promptly returned.

Injured On the Bridge.
On Sunday afternoon so great was the traffic upon the bridge that to walk across it one was almost in danger of being injured by the ceaseless flow of automobiles, horse buggies and pedestrians.
Sergeant Spensley, who was walking towards the city upon the bridge, in trying to get clear of a vehicle made a quick jump to one side. His toe tripped over a slightly raised plank which threw him heavily up on his face, causing a badly split lip. Later the military ambulance arrived upon the scene and conveyed Sergeant Spensley to the Military Hospital on Queen's street. Here his injuries were dressed.

SATURDAY'S BASEBALL

ATHLETICS DEFEATED PONIES IN TEN INNINGS.
Scored Eight Runs In Eight Innings—Park Nine Defeated Regiopolis In Junior Game By 19 to 9.
To have the score 10 to 2 in their favor at the end of eight innings and then to have the Athletics rally, make eight runs and the tie was the experience of the Ponies on Saturday afternoon. This City League game was uneventful for the first eight innings and everything pointed to a win for the Ponies until the unexpected happened. It was a case of "won in the ninth" for sure, and a bigger sensation has not been pulled off on the Cricket Field in years.
The first score was made by the Ponies in the first innings when D'Orey Smith, the Varsity man with the 6th Battery, reached the plate when Cotman landed a three-bagger to centre field. The Athletics made two in the same innings but no more runs were scored until the fourth when each made one.

On two hits and two errors in the first inning the Athletics scored three, and on four errors made four runs in the sixth innings. This seemed to bring the Athletics back to earth, as they settled down to business and played baseball. For two innings neither team could score.
In the ninth the Athletics "blew up." Gallagher reached first on an error by Saunders and made the first run when Tait let Evans down to first on an error. The result of the innings showed that eight runs had been made on four hits and four errors.
It was simply a case of a pitcher's fight to the end and Gallagher and Tait were putting everything they had on the ball and the fielders, when it did get away, were the only players busy. In the first of the tenth, H. Toland singled but was left stranded on second.
When the Ponies finished the tally showed that Gallagher and Saunders had reached first on errors but got no further than second. The Athletics then put up Cotman. He got down on a wild throw from J. Evans. Spoor was given a pass, Gallagher hit safely, and Cotman scored. Cotmanings, Tait and H. Toland then were struck out. The Ponies got one hit in this inning.
The first triple play of the season was made in the eighth. Coyne hit safely, Cotman was hit by the ball and walked, and Spoor hit an infield fly. This was caught by Gallagher who threw to second catching both players on bases.
Athletics—S. Toland, 2b; D'Arcy Smith, 1b; Coyne, lf; Cotman, c; Spoor, ss; Galloway, 3b; Cummings, lf; Tait, p; H. Toland, rf.
Ponies—O. Stewart, 3b; W. Evans, ss; J. Stewart, lf; Gallagher, p; Saunders, 2b; McKay, cf; J. Evans, c; Walsh, p; C. Toland, rf.

Score by Innings:
Athletics . 1 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 1 0—11
Ponies . . . 2 0 0 1 2 4 0 0 0 0—10

Park Nine, 19; Regiopolis, 9.
Park Nine, after holding the short end of the score for the first five innings, finally won out from the Regiopolis team on Saturday afternoon on the Cricket Field by 19 to 9 runs. The game was one of the best this season.

Park Nine—Hammond, cf; Paul, 1b; Smith, 3b; Hall, c; Stewart, ss; Downey, 2b; Cleary, lf; Shaw, rf; Somerville, p.
Regiopolis—Cooke, ss; Millan, 1b; Daley, lf; McConville, cf; Madden, 3b; Ashworth, 2b; Ryan, c; Kane, rf; Fowler, p.
To Protest Against Drafting.
J. F. Quinn, manager of the Regiopolis team, informed the Whig on Saturday that his team was going to protest on the constant drafting of junior players to the senior ranks. Two players, Spoor and Galloway, were counted on for playing on the junior team on Saturday, but when the team came on the field the fact became known that they were playing senior from now on. Mr. Quinn claims that it is not a square deal to the junior teams to have their players drafted without notice. The junior teams cannot take the same interest in the forming of a strong team.
