CHURCHILL'S NEW NOVEL.

Long Looked-For New Book on Sale To-morrow.

"A Far Country," the new looked-for book by Winston Churchill, will be issued to-morrow, and will create world-wide interest. This novel is concerned with big problems of the day. As "The Inside of the Cup" gets down to the essentials in its discussion of religion, so "A Far Country" deals without restraint in a story that is intense and dramatic, with other vital issues confronting the twentieth century. The title is taken from the Biblical quotation concerning the Prodigal Son—"And took his journey into a far country, and there he wasted his substance in riotous living."
All readers of good novels will enjoy "A Far Country." Beautifully illustrated. Price $1.25. For sale by R. Uglow & Company. Telephone No. 25 for your copy.

LETTERS APPRECIATED.

PUBLIC SCHOOL BASEBALL

The O. C. I. Team Defeated Louise By 27 to 5.
The invincible O. C. I. aggregation and Louise contested the Public School Baseball League match at the Cricket Field on Monday afternoon. A large crowd of the fans of both teams saw the former easily put in over Louise by the score of 27 to 5. No matter where Elmer, pitcher for Louise, threw the ball, the O.C.I. batters connected with it for base hits and some times for home runs. There can hardly be any doubt but that O.C.I. will capture the league honors, although Victorians from the same school are very close competitors. The latter have won three games and lost none whereas O.C.I. has won two. O.C.I. and Central School have to play on the morning of June 3rd at the Cricket Field and it is expected O. C. I. will emerge victorious and be on an equal footing with Victorians.
The teams that contested on Monday afternoon were:
O.C.I.—Gosnell, p; Scrutton, c; McLaughlin, 1b; Ada, 2b; E. Day, 3b; Nickle, ss; Woods, lf; Orr, cf; Arsiel, rf.
Louise—J. Elmer, p; Sherman, c; Black, 1b; Fisher, 2b; Ramsay, 3b; Hunter, ss; McKay, lf; Martin, cf; Prattie, rf.
Score by innings:
O.C.I. 7 5 2 4—27

Letters to the Editor

A Mother's Sad Story.
Kingston, May 31.—(To the Editor): Will you spare a little space in your valuable paper to a woman whose heart is aching so for my boys. I can hardly bear it. I am only a visitor to your city on my way home from Belleville where I have been to say goodbye to my youngest boy who is going overseas with the 29th. How did I leave him? Hardly able to say goodbye to me, for he had been out and had a few drinks. A better-hearted boy never lived than he is, but he cannot say no when out with others.
Oh, surely this country's greatest curse is liquor!
One of my brothers was killed with the Princess Patricia's My youngest brother is at your camp at Barriefield. My oldest boy is at the front now. Only God knows how he is now. Surely we who are giving our hearts' dearest to our country have a right to ask those in authority when they take our boys away from our influence to protect them from that curse—liquor.
When I think of how my boy will feel when he comes to himself and finds how he was when his mother had to leave him, he will be heart broken, for he is no bum, but left a good position in Toronto to fight for his country.
I have a favor to ask every man and woman of Kingston. Will they all try to keep our boys from drinks if they can in any way, and may a lonely mother's curse rests on those who give it to them. Sincerely yours, A LONELY MOTHER.

CAPT. STEACY WILL COMMAND
The Fifty Men of "C" Battery For Overseas Service.
Capt. W. E. Steacy, commanding officer of "C" Battery R. C. H. A., is going overseas as a subaltern in charge of the fifty recruits who leave shortly. Capt. Steacy is a Kingstonian, and graduated from the Royal Military College in 1910. Last fall he was given command of the new R. C. H. A. Battery and since then has shown himself to be one of the most capable officers in the Royal Canadian Artillery. He is highly qualified both as an officer and as an instructor. To him belongs, perhaps more than to any one else, the credit of having organized such a splendid unit as "C" Battery is now.
When the order was received at Tete de Pont Barracks for fifty men under the command of two subalterns for overseas service, Capt. W. E. Steacy was besieged with requests to "Put my name on the list, sir." After a great amount of trouble to determine which men had the best right to the coveted positions on the overseas draft, Capt. Steacy finally selected the following:
Sergeants McKay and Murphy; Corporals Buller and Austin; Bra. Doherty and Kennedy; Trps. Nevard and T. J. O'Brien; Gunners Whalen, J. Gardner, Girard, Lauder, McLennan, Talbot, Wilson, Harrington, Carpenter, Fitzhugh, Myers, S. J. Gardiner, Steeds, Bettrell, Dixon, Joffier, Berth, Kirby, Dunn, Custo, F. Tyler, Marsh, Dowling; Drivers Gourlie, Cameron, Angrove, Luckhurst, Hanford, Niles, S. Turner, Thorpe, Langford, Hamilton, Robertson, Gibson, A. S. Crawford, Long, Richardson, Atkins, N. Bastien with Gr. Jackson in waiting.
Gunner Morley and Driver Jackson are placed on the reserve list.

The spice of life is generously offered in the June Red Book Magazine. Three widely contrasting serials—Rupert Hughes' splendid tale of the rich and poor in New York, "Empty Pockets"; Mrs. Humphry Ward's finely evolved story of a genius' wife, "A Great Success"; and Cyrus Townsend Brady's exciting romance, "The Island of Surprise"—afford sustained but diverse interest. Two short stories run the gamut of mood and taste.
Charles Keller died in Sudbury hospital following an accident in a log jam on the Sand River. His remains were interred at Actonville.
"Buy Talcum Powders," Gibson's.
At Carleton Place John McLennan lost his leg by being caught in belting in Bates & Innes' Mill.
"Beef and Wine 50c," Gibson's.

Pte. Eason Reported Missing
Sometime ago the Whig published an interesting letter of Pte. James Eason who was fighting with the Canadian Forces in Belgium. This was almost two months ago and since then his mother, who resides at 295 Division street, had received no further letters and was wondering what had become of her son whom she knew must have figured in the great battle of Langemarck. Mrs. Eason received a telegram from the Adjutant-General at Ottawa on Monday afternoon stating that her son has been missing since April 24th. It is thought that he is a prisoner of war in Germany.
