CHARGE OF STEALING CATTLE.

Jury In Case Of James Morahan and Wiliam McIlroy, Ont., For Ten Minutes-Given Chance to Make Restitution.

After being out twelve minutes, a jury in the county court late Wednesday afternoon returned a verdict of c.; Pickering, 1b.; Cohen, 2b.; Haz-"Guilty" in the case of William Mc- lett, 3b.; Miller, s.s.; Davidson, l.f.; Ilroy and James Morahan, of township of Storrington, charged

Judge Madden remanded the two Hunter, s.s.; Martin, l.f.; Ramsey, until Thursday morning at 10 o'clock | c.f. for sentence. The case, it will be remembered was tried last December and at that time the jury disagreed. All day Wednesday was taken in the hearing of the evidence again. T. J. Rigney appeared for the accused and J. L. Whiting conducted the prosecution. In this case, Josiah Uptergrove was the chief witness for the defence, as he declared that he took part in the theft of cattle with McIlroy and Morahan, and that he made a vicinity where he . lived. His story was denied by the two men charged. Uptergrove was in the box for conthe case, and he retold the story he gave when the case was heard betwo-year old heifer from Irwin Card. His share of the proceeds of the sale amounted to $11.50 which was paid to him by William McIlroy. He also referred to his "getting religion" and making the confession. He said he, McIlroy and Morahan were to share the profits. Irwin Card told about losing his heifer and about Uptergrove coming to him and offering to make restitu-

Remanded a Day. James Morahan and William Mc-Ilroy were arraigned before Judge Madden on Thursday morning at 0.15 o'clock, but were again manded until Friday morning. "You two men have been given a fair trial," said the judge. Your counsel did everything possible for you, and the jury found you guilty. No man who would be honest his conscience could brought any other verdict.

The judge then asked the prisoners if they were in a position to make restitution. They had stolen constant the cattle valued at $120, which the cost of the hearing of the case was

"Why should the people lose their property and the tax payers of the country put up money to prosecute?" added the judge. THE STREET CARNIVAL.

It is Proving To Be a Good Attrac

On Wednesday evening the Street Carnival was repeated and proved an even better success than on Tuesday evening. The weather was not quite as cool, and from seven o'clock enor-mous crowds visited the place. The different shows attracted deserved at-tention, and with the continuous exhibitions the tents were crowded

On the north side of the grounds are a series of booths, where trials of strength and skill in different ways are made. These have proven very popular, and it was almost impossible to see what was going on, so thick were the crowds around the stands.

One compliment that should be given is the polite way the spectators are used, and this is the cause of many felicitous remarks.

A GARDEN PARTY HELD T

IN AID OF THE WORK OF RED CROSS SOCIETY.

On the Grounds of Colonel and Mrs. G. H. Ogilvie Wednesday Afternoon and Evening-A Large Crowd Was In Attendance.

On the spacious grounds of Colonel and Mrs. G. H. Ogilvie, Princess street, Wednesday afternoon and evening, there was witnessed a beautiful scene, when the ladies of St. George's Women's Aid held a garden party for furthering the splendid work which is being done by the Red Cross Society. Among the leaders in the project were Mrs. John Carson, Mrs. Stewart Robertson, Mrs. E. J. B. Pense and Mrs. D. E. Mundell. All of these ladies deserve much praise, as well as Col. and Mrs. Ogilvie for placing their grounds at the disposal of the Cathedral society.

The grounds were beautifully decorated by W. D. Johnston and Percy Lyman. The booths were all entwined with red, white and blue, and flags of all the nations fighting with Britain. In the evening the scene was a beautiful one, the lanterns shedding forth their red and green hues, and making the large grounds look like "Fairyland."

Miss Badley received the admission fee of ten cents at the gate. The children upon the grounds were given The reception committee was composed of Mrs. John Carson, Mrs. E. J. Bidwell and Mrs. T. D. R. Hem-
