COLEBROOK.

June 9.—As a result of the opening of the Hornerie camp meeting on its camp ground at Yarker, there is an extraordinary amount of travel on the street through this place, especially on Sundays which is causing many serious as well as other accidents. Marshall Hart with his wife and four children were returning home from the meeting, Sunday night. He stopped in front of his mother's home for a short conversation with the two girls, and was struck by one of them caught in Mr. Hart's rig and threw him out. His horse started across the road throwing Mrs. Hart and the children out. One who clung to the rig until the horse was captured. The children were unharmed but Mrs. Hart's leg was broken just above the ankle. She was carried into Mrs. P. Hart's place when the doctor was called and set her broken limb. She has remained there ever since and will be for some time before she will be able to be removed home.

There is one place between this and Yarker where the road runs near the river, and is very narrow and on a curve with many bushes growing along the sides which makes it impossible to see rigs until one gets right up to them. Consequently many a horse becomes frightened and many rigs are broken and run-aways occur.

Mumps are very prevalent in the village. Alve Lee has returned from the north-west and is visiting friends. Mrs. H. P. Lucas is improving. Mrs. Convery is ill. Mrs. James Grey is very ill.
