FINDS NO FAULT WITH THE U. S. REPLY

Makes For Peace.

WHO DESERTED POST IN TIME OF DANGER.

New York Herald Says the German Ambassador Controlled One Memtrol President.

York papers comment on the reply by the American Government to the German note as follows:

The New York Times editorially says; "The reply to Germany's note is the appeal of a nation of the twentieth century to a nation that has reverted to the principles and practices of the thirteenth. The de-not withhold the assurances we ask "In loval American minds there is no question of the rightfulness and justice of these demands or of the obligation of our Government make them. There can be in no German mind any question of the soundness of the legal position taken by our Government, for there is no room for argument about it.

"There is no yielding in our note, no drawing back, from the position assumed in the note of May 13, The national honor and security demand that we stand upon the principles of that note, and we but follow the example of a great German when we say that we cannot do otherwise.

"Unmistakably it is a reply that makes for peace, not for strife. Our feet are planted upon sure ground of right, of law, of justice, of humanity, yet we urge compliance in language of friendship and courtesy. If we leave to Germany no choice but compliance, it is because she would belie her own traditions, her high civilization, and would forfeit her place among enlightened and human peoples. We ask of her what is justice to herself; she must grant."

Anything Else an Ultimatum.

The World says: "President Wil son's reply to the German note could hardly have been made more moderate and restrained without surrendering the American contention in this

"In the main, the note is a reitera tion of the principles of international law and the code of humanity which the President defined and upheld in the note of May 13th, in which Germany was warned that the United States would omit no word or act necessary to maintain the rights of its citizens on the high seas.

"Had it not been for the mad performance of Mr. Bryan in suddenly deciding to create a New Heaven and a New Earth in national affairs by his personal flat, we think the note, on the whole, would have been a disappointment to a majority of the
