WALDRON'S

LETTERS FROM FRONT

ONE BY SIXTEEN-YEAR-OLD KINGSTON BOY

Who Has Felt Some Spended Shrapnel—Pte. E. C. McDermott Writes That the Germans Are Being Pushed Back.

Pte. Thomas Connolly, the sixteen-year-old son of Band Sergt. Connolly of the R. C. H. A., has written an interesting letter to his parents. Pte. Connolly left Kingston with the detachment of the 14th Regiment under Capt. G. T. Richardson, but owing to illness was sent from Salisbury Plain to Shorncliffe and did not reach the front until April. He writes in part as follows:

"We are here in the trenches and it is not all sugar especially when the Germans take it into their heads to shell us and then we have to get behind the parapets or in the dug-outs. It is 'duck your head' until it is over. Yesterday quite a few dropped our way—goal boxes, Jack Johnsons, shrapnel, big explosives and Whistling Willies—so that we had quite a variety. The only thing that I don't like about them is that you may be wanting to do something, cook your meals or something like that, but it is impossible to do it. They are paying us $6 a month and hold the rest in hand for us. The French people know that we do not know their language and consequently we get soaked for everything we buy.

"Several of the boys were hit but nothing serious has happened. I was hit three times with spent bits of shrapnel, but that is a common thing. They do not do any damage; just sting for a bit. It is all a chance, but I look at it this way, that if you are going to get hit, you are going to; so that is all there is to it. This war cannot last much longer. On the 24th of May while there was a big celebration in Kingston, I suppose we had some of them all day. That was all the celebration we had.

"Canada needs to wake up over this war as they need every man they can get here."

Pte. E. C. McDermott Writes.

Another very interesting letter has been received from Pte. E. C. McDermott, by his father, James McDermott, 289 Johnson street. The letter reads in part as follows:

"The weather here is extremely hot in the day and cool at nights. Frank is looking fine, have met him every morning lately. 'Well the war is going along as per schedule. We are steadily gaining ground but just as steadily losing men. Fighting here is very trying as the sights of some of the wounded try the nerves of a strong man at times. We are moving to-night or to-morrow.' On June 2nd he writes:

"The boys are all out of the trenches again for a rest. We moved to a pretty little town of about 10,000 population called Lillers. Frank is at a place called Busnes. We are having the very best of weather, although a trifle too warm if anything. Things look very favorable for the close of the war this year. The Germans are certainly putting up a grand fight when you consider the nations against them, but they are slowly but surely being driven back, and I think that they will accept peace at our terms before they will allow their country to suffer as France and Belgium has. Of course a steady supply of fresh troops will have to be sent here to keep filling up the gaps."

PRISONER OF WAR.

Corporal Holtham is Being Held at Giessen, Germany.

Mrs. Holtham has received a letter from her husband, Corporal W. Holtham, a member of the 14th Regiment, who is a prisoner at Giessen, Germany. He says that he is all right, and anxiously waiting for letters from home. He asks that he be sent eatables every week, also books and tobacco. All the prisoners are inoculated every five weeks against disease. The barracks they are confined in are very clean and the Germans are kind to them.

"We are split into two companies," adds the Kingstonian. "You can write as often as you like, but I can only write two letters and cards a month. I received no letters or parcels you sent to France since March, so I guess somebody else got them, but I do not mind that, as they deserve all they can get."

"Do not worry about me, as I am safe, but would like you to send me something I can eat every week until peace is proclaimed. Now that I cannot fight, I was put in order for a very long. I was put in order for a corporal, and would have been sergeant now if I had not been captured."

A Son and Daughter Married.

At Victoria, B.C., on May 25th, occurred the marriage of Florence, youngest daughter of Mrs. H. G. Brady, Victoria, to Gordon Halkett, Superintendent of Lighthouses of British Columbia, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Halkett, Kingston, Ont.

Played Only Scrub Game.

A game between Macdonald and Central was scheduled in the Public School Baseball League series on Monday afternoon at the Cricket Field, but apparently owing to the closing of the schools only a few of the players turned up. A scrub game of three innings was played to keep the material of the teams in working condition.

NOT LIKELY TO GRANT

APPLICATION TO DEPORT PTE. A. P. MacGREGOR.

Pte. Greaves, Who Deserted From the 21st Battalion Is Under Arrest At Rochester, N.Y.

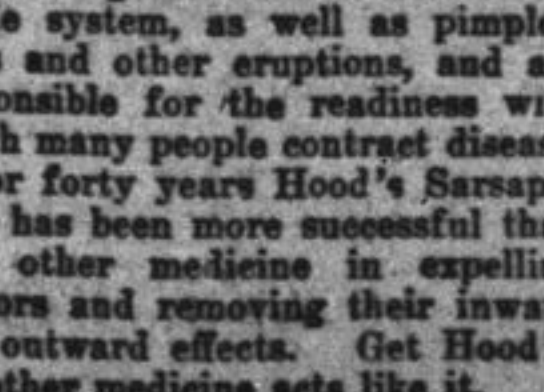

Although a formal application has been forwarded to the United States Government to have Pte. Allan P. MacGregor, now under arrest at Rochester, N. Y., deported and brought to Kingston, no action has yet been taken on the application. The case is a peculiar one. MacGregor was pay clerk in the office of the First Contingent, C.E.F. He absconded with several thousand dollars which should have been paid to the soldiers. He made a successful get-away to New York, crossed to Brockville, where he was seen on New Year's day and then returned across the border. Detectives were on his trail, and locating him in Rochester put him under arrest. He will likely be deported to England direct, and may then be brought to Canada, but it is unlikely that the application from the local authorities will be granted.

Arrested For Deserting

Pte. Greaves, who enlisted at Guelph for overseas service and came to Kingston, where he joined the 21st Battalion, has been arrested at Rochester, N.Y., for being a deserter, and will be deported. For some time the authorities were watching a girl in the city who knew his address and who it was thought gave him the money for his fare across the border. This suspicion was strengthened when she refused to give his address, but she always has stoutly denied, having advanced the money for his fare. He was arrested on Saturday in Rochester and is expected to arrive in the city in a few days. He will likely be tried by the military authorities for desertion.

SORRY THEY SMOKE.

But the Boys Will Likely Keep At It.

(Special to the Whig.) Ottawa, June 15.—"I have no criticism to make of the action of the conference," said Major-General Huges this morning regarding a resolution passed by the Toronto Methodist Conference condemning the sending of tobacco to the men at the front.

"I have never smoked myself, and never feel the need of tobacco. It is a free country, and the conference is at liberty to move whatever resolutions it pleases, but I am afraid this resolution will have the same fate as most other resolutions. The boys will keep on smoking just the same, for which, of course I am sorry," added the General as an after-thought.
