Worn Out, Thin and Miserable Until She Took "Fruit-a-tives"

Palmisson, June 20th, 1914. "Stomach Trouble and Distressing Headaches nearly drove me wild. Some time ago, I got a box of "Fruit-a-tives," your famous fruit medicine, and they completely relieved me. To-day I am feeling fine and a physician, meeting me on the street, asked the reason for my improved appearance. I said, "Iam taking Fruit-a-tives." He said, "If Fruit-a-tives make you look so well, go ahead and take them. They are doing more for you than I can."

RAILWAY CONSTRUCTION IN CANADA

(1) Western portal Roger Pass tunnel. (2) Steam Shovel at work. (3) A C. P. R. track laying machine. (4) Pioneer Tunnel near Glacier.

EW people realize what a tremendous undertaking it is to construct a railway or tunnel a mountain. It is the heaviest kind of work as every foot is fought for, and often costs heavily in life, to say nothing of the labor and the money. In the early history of the Canadian Pacific the engineers were often called upon to thread wildernesses never trod by white men. Much arduous work is entailed in the location of the proposed line. After this preliminary work, probably occupying months in order to secure the easiest grades by the shortest cuts, has been accomplished, gangs of workmen are sent out. Camps for the housing and sustenance of men and horses must be constructed and an efficient method of transportation of supplies. The equipment usually employed in grading consists of steam shovels (one of which is seen here at work) weighing from 30 to 90 tons; locomotives from 20 to 140 tons; cars for transportation of materials in excavation of cuttings; Lidgerwood unloaders, car plows and spreaders. Special plants have to be put down for bridge construction and tunnelling. One of the greatest engineering works ever attempted in America is the tunnelling of Mount Sir Donald near Glacier. The entrance to the pioneer bore of this great undertaking is here shown. The work has been proceeding now over twelve months and great headway is being made. This tunnel will be five miles long, and when completed it will do away with the many snowsheds in this district. Not only will it reduce the grades but render travelling on the Canadian Pacific safe from snow slides which have been a source of annoyance in this particular vicinity at certain periods of the year. When the grading is completed the track layer comes along and after it has been properly ballasted by crushed rock it is ready for the regular passenger and freight service.

The Canadian Pacific engineers spent two years seeking a location, and finally decided on the Roger Pass. According to the United States Commerce Reports, this tunnel will be the longest on the American continent. Constructed at a cost of ten million dollars will shorten the route four miles and materially reduce the grades.
