HE WAS BADLY HURT

GUNNER FRASER BACK IN THE GENERAL HOSPITAL

He Had Only Left It On Wednesday—An Accident to Three of the Gunners of "C" Battery At Barriefield Commons.

While "C" Battery was on a mounted parade at Barriefield, on Thursday, what might have resulted in a serious accident to three soldiers happened. The battery was moving towards the wireless station when Gunners Fraser, Dawson and McGregor were thrown off the gun-limber on which they were riding. McGregor was the luckiest of the three receiving only a severe shaking up. Dawson fell on a stone and injured his foot as well as receiving some bruises for treatment as a result of the accident. The gun-limber passed over his left ankle and he received a compound fracture of the tibia. Gr. Fraser is rather unfortunate as he came out of the hospital on Wednesday. He had been receiving treatment for a poisoned hand.

COL. S. B. HANCE DEAD

Veteran Of Civil War—Resided In Cape Vincent.

Cape Vincent, N.Y., Eagle.

Col. S. B. Hance died at Seattle, Wash., on Monday morning. This information is gained through a telegram to H. W. Marks on Tuesday morning.

All of the middle-aged and older inhabitants of Cape Vincent will remember Hance, once residing in this village and owning and with his wife occupying the house now the property of Dr. Thomas Masson, in Point street. He will be remembered as a very pleasant and courteous gentleman, with a pronounced military bearing and finely preserved for one of his years. He was a man of much more than ordinary intelligence, and through reading and observation kept himself abreast of the times and well informed on current events. For many years he had resided with his niece, Mrs. Blogg, in Seattle.

Col. S. B. Hance was born in Ithaca, N.Y., December 10th 1820. His grandfather lived to be ninety-seven. His sister, Mrs. Margaret Fursman, who lives with her son in Seattle, is eighty-four years old.

Young Hance was apprenticed at sixteen to a printer, and worked on the Ithaca Journal until 1840, when he became agent for the Royal Mail line of steamers at Montreal. From that time on he was in business of one kind or another until the outbreak of the Civil War.

Colonel Hance entered the Union Army when the war broke out, and was appointed by Lincoln assistant adjutant general with the rank of captain. He served two years and was promoted to major, with words of praise from General Palmer for his bravery under fire. Then he resigned, his health broken by hardship. Later he was appointed consul at Kingston, Canada. He served in that capacity until 1875, when he retired becoming chief of police in Kingston. The remains are to be cremated and the ashes brought to Cape Vincent and deposited by the grave of his wife, who died many years ago, in Riverside cemetery.

AT LAKE ONTARIO PARK.

A Large Crowd Attended Vaudeville Thursday Night.

The popularity of Lake Ontario Park was evidenced last evening by the large attendance, the pavilion being packed.

The programme was an excellent one. Boniger and Lester won golden opinions by their musical presentation. Miss Boniger on the violin played sweetly "My Dear" and operatic selections from "Faust" and "The Bohemian Girl," closing with a pretty song. Mr. Lester, in fine voice, sang "Where the River Shannon Flows" and by request repeated "Mother Machree," and concluded by a selection on the miniature guitar.

Skates Dressey certainly deserved the applause he won. The many novelties he introduced on roller skates, as well as his stunt on the rolling barrel, were most interesting.

The moving pictures were above the average, especially "The Rose of the Shore," "A Night in Old Kentucky," and "Snap Shots."

The same bill will be presented for the balance of the week.

VAUDEVILLE AT THE GRAND.

A Splendid Programme Offered For the Week-end.

A programme of unusual excellence was presented at the Grand Opera House last night before one of the largest audiences of the season, and all were thoroughly pleased with the fine performance. The Famous Players picture of William Farnum in "The Sign of the Cross" is splendid, and was well received by the audience. The other pictures, a two-reel Mutual photoplay, "The Centre of the Web," a Keystone Comedy, "Married by Instalments," "The Path of the News Picture," and the "The Colored Picture," were all good, and pleased immensely.

The vaudeville consisted of The Gagnoux in one of the best juggling acts ever seen in this popular theatre, and the audience was highly pleased with their clever work.

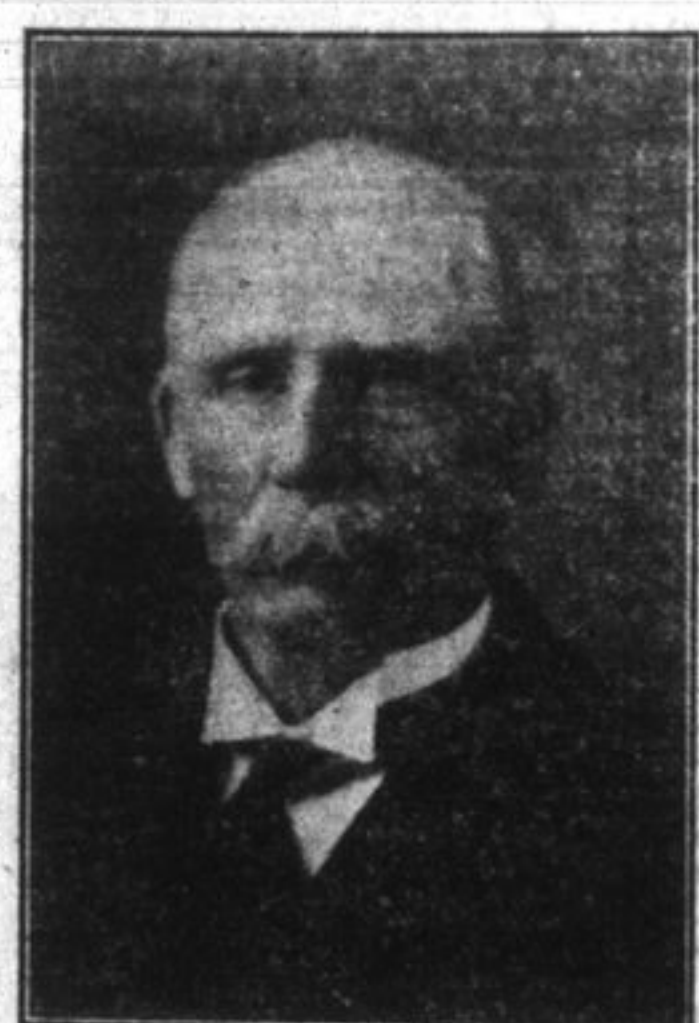

This programme will be presented every afternoon and evening for the balance of the week.

PRESIDENT CHEESE BOARD.

Richard Moore Has Lived on Wolfe Island Fifty-Two Years.

RICHARD MOORE.

For over half a century Richard Moore, the new president of the Frontenac Cheese Board, has been a resident of Wolfe Island.

Although one of the "old boys" in years, he is as active as a man thirty years his junior and his election as president of the Frontenac Cheese Board was a most popular one, for Mr. Moore is beloved by all his acquaintances on the island and in the city. On June 11th, last he completed fifty-two years' residence on the island. He is seventy years of age.

Mr. Moore was born in Coventry, England, and was a ribbon weaver by trade. He came to Canada when nineteen years of age, and immediately took up his residence on Wolfe Island and has resided there ever since.

"There was no cheese board in the old days," said Mr. Moore, speaking to a Whig representative. "In those days cheese was sold once during the season and there was a great difference in the prices then and now. We used to get 6 cents, 8 cents and sometimes 10 cents a pound for our cheese, but 10 cents was a very high price, but now it sells on the board as high as 15 cents. Mr. Moore recalled the fact that there were only two cheese buyers, Messrs. William Craig and Mr. Burrows, who resided at Napanee at this time.

Napanee

June 24.—Walter Lasher, aged twenty-three, Belleville, was arrested here last night by Chief Graham whilst trying to dispose of a nearly new bicycle. His anxiety to sell cheap aroused the suspicion of the would-be-purchaser, who informed the police, with the result that, not being able to explain his possession of it, Lasher was arrested on suspicion of having stolen the wheel. Lasher, in the evening a telephone message was received stating that a bicycle had been stolen from Belleville, belonging to C. Seantleburg, which proved to be the wheel that Lasher was trying to sell. A constable was sent from Belleville to take him back to-day to stand trial.

AN APPEAL IS MADE.

To Purchase Sand Bags For the Soldiers.

An appeal for money with which to buy sand bags for the soldiers is made by Mrs. Russell Hale, president of the Toronto Emergency Aid. Major-General Sam Hughes has approved of the scheme which has been started in England, under the leadership of Miss Grand, sister of Mrs. Joseph Kilgour, Toronto.

The sand bags are used to protect the soldiers from the German bullets after they have left the trenches, and are advancing in the open. Carrying these bags with them behind them, every citizen of Kingston can easily help to save men from German bullets.

It is pointed out that there is no use for people to take the time to make the bags as the great battle may be fought in the mean time. Contributions for bags should be sent either to Mrs. Russell Hale, Caouana, Quebec, or Mrs. Joseph Kilgour, 21 Wellington street west, Toronto.

After tea was served, all gathered in the yard where Mr. Murray, photographer, of Brockville, took a group picture of all present.
