VETERANS AT CHURCH

PARADED TO ST. PAUL'S ON SUNDAY EVENING.

In Command of Col. G. H. Ogilvie—Capt. the Rev. Canon Fitzgerald Was the Preacher.

The finest parade of veterans ever held in Kingston was that of Sunday evening to St. Paul's Church. Hundreds of people lined the streets. At six o'clock, with Col. G. H. Ogilvie, A.A.G., and Major P. E. Frideaux, O.C., C.O.C., in command, all of the veterans in a parade on the grounds in front of the Administration building to music supplied by the bands from the 38th Battalion and the 8th C. M. R. The line of march was along King street from the bridge to Clarence street. At the Post Office corner a parade of two blocks long of members of the association was in line under the command of Commandant F. Ingledew. The big parade moved along Wellington street, up Princess and along Bagot to St. Paul's Church.

The front pews of the church were reserved for Col. G. H. Ogilvie and staff and the officers of the Veterans' Association. The pulpit was draped with a huge Union Jack.

Capt. the Rev. Canon W. F. Fitzgerald was the preacher, and he gave a powerful sermon, choosing as his text I. Samuel xvii., 40, from which he gave the story of David, the shepherd boy. David volunteered to go forth and defeat Goliath of the Philistines. David, he said, was a volunteer without experience or without being properly equipped, and yet he won a great victory.

The musical programme by the choir, under Sergt.-Major J. Hartie, C.M.S.C., was exceptionally good. Capt. Fitzgerald called attention to the fact that there was one veteran in the church who was eighty-seven years of age. Ex-Sergt. S. Hare was that veteran. He had seen service in the Crimea, having a clasp for Inkerman, Alma and Sebastopol, as a member of the 41st Welsh Regiment.

After the service the parade reformed in front of the church and marched to the headquarters of the veterans in the Golden Lion building, where it was dismissed. The bands adjourned to the rooms of the association, where a pleasant half hour was spent with an informal musical programme.

Resolutions were passed thanking Canon Fitzgerald for his sermon, Col. G. H. Ogilvie and Major Frideaux for taking command of the parade, and Alderman J. S. R. McCann and Dr. G. W. Bell for the use of automobiles for aged veterans.

Both bands will be the guests of the association on Monday evening.

In the parade there were veterans who have seen service from the Crimea to the present war. As mentioned, Sergt. Hare is a Crimea veteran, and Sergt.-Major Marsden, 8th Battalion, was with the Princess Patricia's in the present campaign. Major P. E. Frideaux, who was second in command of the parade, wears three ribbons for service on the west coast of Africa. Lieut. Godfrey, 8th C. M. R., wears medals for the Egyptian, Sudan and South African campaigns.

For the Mowat Hospital.
The sale held on Saturday afternoon, on Wellington street, by Frontenac Chapter of the Daughters of the Empire for the purpose of raising funds in aid of the Mowat Memorial Hospital, was a decided success, and this chapter of which Mrs. T. The other officers of this chapter are: Mrs. J. G. Laidlaw, first vice-regent; Mrs. W. G. Anglin, second vice-regent; Mrs. R. G. Gardiner, secretary and Mrs. Robert Fraser, treasurer. The Chapter has a splendid reputation for assisting worthy causes. Each week it lends a helping hand to the Red Cross Society and provides the tea.

Firemen Given Test.
On Monday morning, the Fire Department was given its yearly test by an inspector of the Underwriters' Association. An alarm was sent in from Box 9 at the corner of Wellington and Clarence streets shortly after ten o'clock, and the report went to the fire. The Department was put through different movements, and it is understood that the work of the Department was most satisfactory, and that the water pressure was also good.

The driver jumped and was not shaken up, but the passengers were not injured. Slight damage was done to the car.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

SEVENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY OBSERVED ON SUNDAY.

Rev. Douglas Laing Gave Interesting Review of Organization of the Church—Church Started When Kingston Was But Town.

The seventy-fifth anniversary of the organization of the First Baptist Church falls on the 9th of July next, but was observed in a special service Sunday morning, and the holiday union services with the First Congregational Church began next Sunday.

The pastor, Rev. Douglas Laing, preached, and gave a brief review of the church's activities since its organization. There were only twelve constituent members. They had neither house of worship, large means, nor prestige. Rev. John Gilmour, of Peterborough, officiated at the organization, which took place in the private house of Miss Morrison, July 9th, 1840.

In 1842 this little church, newly organized, erected, and occupied a house of worship on Johnston street. It was a rough-hewn building, and served at a cost of $870 1/2. This building as the place of worship until 1881, when under the leadership of the Rev. C. A. Cook it was remodelled and veneered with brick. It is a fine piece of worship of the Christian Science style, building, which was erected on the corner of Johnston and Sydenham streets, in 1904, which became the place of worship until the present beautiful building was erected. This building was opened with appropriate services on December 21st, 1913.

When the church was organized, in 1840, Kingston was a town of between 6,000 and 7,000 inhabitants.

When the church was organized, in 1840, Kingston was a town of between 6,000 and 7,000 inhabitants. Incorporation as a city did not take place until 1846, when John Couter became the first Mayor of the new city.

When the church was organized in 1840, Queen's University had not yet come into existence. There was no Regiopolis College, no Royal Military College, and no railway. The G. T. R. came through in the fifties. The means of travel was by boat in summer and stage coach at other seasons of the year. A glance at the history of the church during these years reveals the fact that there were times of stress and discouragement as well as times of prosperity. It reveals also that there were in the little church brave men and women of courageous Christian faith, not lacking in progressive activity.

The Sunday school was first organized in the fall of 1842, the Ladies' Mission Circle in 1879, and the Young People's Society in December, 1889. The First Baptist Bible School held a patriotic service Sunday afternoon. The room was attractively decorated with flags and bunting. There was a special programme of exercises. Solos were sung by Miss Edna Singleton and Mr. Edmondson. Mrs. J. B. Halkett gave a most interesting patriotic address. Several of the pupils took part. The pictures of the several young men who have enlisted from the Bible School for overseas service were thrown upon the screen. The character of the programme was such as to inspire the patriotic spirit.

The arc lamps erected by the City Council on the Barrieffield road to the military camp on the Heights were lit Saturday night for the first time and are a great benefit.
