FOUR CHAPLAINS DO DUTY AT THE BARRIEFIELD CAMP

No Senior Chaplain And No Assistants.

BARRIEFIELD AS GOOD AS VALCARTIER FOR TRAINING ARTILLERY.

Dissatisfaction Expressed Over the Transfer of the 7th Artillery Brigade—There is no Necessity For The Change.

In view of the discussion that is taking place with regard to the Barriefield camp chaplain question, here are a few facts: There is no senior chaplain in the camp, neither are there assistant chaplains. Four chaplains do duty at the camp—two Anglican, one Roman Catholic and one Congregationalist.

Dean G. L. Starr was ordered to be attached to one of the units at Barriefield camp which had not already a chaplain on the strength. Canon W. F. Fitzgerald was appointed on the staff of the camp as a chaplain, with the honorary rank of captain. Rev. Father Hanley is the Roman Catholic chaplain, and Rev. H. I. Horsey is chaplain of the 38th Battalion for overseas service, with the rank of captain.

At the Protestant drumhead service in camp on Sunday morning, Dean Starr read the service and Canon Fitzgerald preached the sermon. After the service, Communion was held in the Y.M.C.A. tent, and all members of Christian churches were invited to participate. Over a hundred soldiers responded, including some Presbyterians, Methodists and Baptists.

The report that the 7th Artillery Brigade was being moved to Valcartier has aroused much dissatisfaction not only among citizens but among the officers at the camp. It has been claimed that Barriefield camp is not as good as Valcartier for training artillery, but yet it has been in use for this purpose, and now, after having decided at first that it would be all right for the 7th Brigade, why should a sudden change in the plans be made so that the artillery would be transferred to the Quebec camp? Although all the officers in the camp who understand artillery work, and were interviewed by the Whig representative on the subject, would vouchsafe no opinion on the matter, it was intimated that Barriefield camp is every bit as good as Valcartier for the purpose of training the 7th Overseas Brigade. Across the road from the camp, only a very few minutes' ride, is a very large field which is not only convenient but highly suitable for mounted parades. Further down the road towards the city is the ground that has been used for years by the R. G. H. A., and is even now being used by "C" Battery. There is no want of ground. It is possible for the brigade to work out any tactical scheme which could be worked out at Valcartier, and might be met with at the front.

The Glee Club from the 59th Battalion gave a splendid concert in the Militia Y. M. C. A. tent on Saturday evening.

F. G. Lockett gave an address to the soldiers in the Militia Y. M. C. A. tent on Sunday evening, which was very much appreciated.

A sergeant in the 8th C. M. R. received injuries at Kingston, Mills on Saturday, which made it necessary to bring him back to the camp in a waggon. While swimming his foot was cut on a jaggy rock. He is now in hospital.

No accidents were reported in the camp on Sunday.

Sunday in the camp was one of the quietest days yet experienced by the soldiers.

Capt. Farrell, 7th Brigade, is expected back from Tweed to-night.

Lieut. Col. H. J. Dawson has formally taken over the command of the 59th Battalion, although he will be assisted in his duties by Lieut. Col. J. H. Fee for the first few days. Capt. R. B. McConnell is acting adjutant.

Capt. Hollis, Medical Officer of the Base Battalion, has returned to duty.

Capt. J. L. McLean, H. Sauva and F. Partridge and Lieut. G. H. Hamblin have reported for duty with the 59th Battalion. The provisional officers will continue at their work until the commissioned officers have arrived.

An order was issued to the 59th Battalion which stated that all N. C. O.'s holding provisional ranks in the Base Battalion would revert to privates in the 59th Battalion. Some of them may be chosen as N. C. O.'s later.

C. M. Copeland, Grand Provincial Secretary of the Militia Y. M. C. A. for Ontario and Quebec, will make arrangements at a conference to be held in Toronto for a series of addresses to be given by prominent men at Barriefield Camp.

F. S. Shepard, Field Secretary of the Militia Y. M. C. A., is expected at the camp this week.

The Y. M. C. A. tents at Barriefield camp, since the change in the sites on Friday and Saturday, are now arranged quite differently. The main lecture tent in which all social work and meetings will be held, is at the south of the line. Next is the refreshment booth. Next is the writing tent, and the fourth for games. In the square behind are six bell tents used by the Y. M. C. A. workers.
