GRIST OF CASES HEARD AF: TER THE HOLIDAY

Accused of Stealing a Gold Watch Remanded for a Weekin Jail For Vagrancy.

Philip B.Jenkins was charged with theft in the Police Court Friday morning. Constable Samuel Arniel gathered him in, and the charge as read out by the Magistrate accused him of stealing one gold watch, the property of James Garrison. Jenkins said "not guilty" when arraigned, and was remanded for a week. Daniel Maxwell, a big, husky chap, vas charged with vagrancy, but delared that he was not guilty, that he was a workingman. According to Constable Arniel, who arrested him, Maxwell has been entering different houses around the city. Tuesday afternoon it is alleged that he entered a home and gave the woman of the house such a scare that she fainted. The police were called, but the troubler made good his quard.
