The Vancouver and Westminister facrosse clubs will play a benefit game Saturday to help out the finances of the Vancouver Baseball club. This is the first time in history that the lacrosse boys have been called upon to help out a baseball club.

Ty Cobb has stolen forty-seven bases in sixty-three games. If the Tiger terror keeps on at this rate he will steal well over 100 cushions by the end of the season, and thereby bust all big league records. matter of fact, his present would net him about 115 stolen

Jess Willard, world's heavyweight champion, places a valuation of $100,000 on the two arms that gave him the title at Havana. He made application to a Rochester, N.Y., insurance agent for a one year policy n that sum, $50,000 on each arm.

Professionalism is still a factor in lacrosse. The disease has affected some of the Cornwall players. But then they have such a large bunch of youngsters at Cornwall that the directors there are not worrying in the least about "the hold-outs". To get a place for all the applicants for the teams is the chief trouble just now.

Eight thousand people attended the International League games in Montreal Last Saturday and Sunday. Hot Stories.

A contributor to The Chino Herald, telling of the experiences during a summer trip into the desert, narrates that while he watched a lizard run across a sun-baked open strip of sand it disappeared in a puff of vapor. The intense test of the sand had turned the moisture of its body into to Germany; O'Dwyer, inventor of insteam, the pressure of which rose so high that the little creature was blown into bits so minute that no trace of it was afterward to be found. In backing up his statement, he quotes an old prospectors' allegation that in Death Valley, during the heat of the day, water poured from a canteen will not reach the ground being turned into steam as fast as it leaves the mouth of the canteen.

Paper Money.

Marco Polo (1254-1324) of Venice was the first person to announce to Europe the existence of paper money in China under the moguls. The fact has induced the belief that the moguls were the originators of it. But in the history of Ghengis Khan and the mogul dynasty in China published in the year 1739 the author speaks of the suppression of the paper money which was in use under the dynasty of the Sung, who reigned in China previous to the moguls, and he also mentions a new species of notes which were substituted for the Hood's Pills in China previous to the moguls, and

A Beggar's Pride.

A wretched beggar, whose "I am blind" sign was a lie, was arrested with several companions who made a specialty of preying on churchgoers. He explained that he only practiced fraud on week days and begged honestly on the Sabbath.

A great deal of moralizing and of cynicism might be expended on this old man's singular ethics. Yet each person has his standard of conduct, and includes in its reservations no less inconsistent than the beggar's niece favored him for a long time delicate attitude toward Sunday. Anything that the man who makes Spearmint chewing gum has to say about advertising is interesting.

Millions have been spent to "nationalize" this product, and Wm. Wrigley, Jr., who has used every kind of advertising medium, knows something about relative values.

He says:

"We are firm believers in newspaper advertising, because: Newspaper advertising hits the spot we want to reach. Newspaper advertising carries our story to the consumer with his daily news.

"Newspaper advertising does effective team work with the local dealer."

Spearmint Gum is regularly advertised in the Whig.
