THE EFFICIENT FOOTMAN

NIGHT WORK BEING GIVEN THE TROOPS IN THE CAMP

The 38th Will Be All Called Out Shortly

SEVERAL PROMOTIONS

HAVE BEEN ANNOUNCED IN THIS BATTALION.

Major C. Ferguson becomes Senior Major, Capt. J. E. McNeil Junior Major, and Capt. J. H. Glass Adjutant.

Practically all the moving of the troops at the front is done at night, and the soldiers at Barrieffield Camp are to receive as thorough a training in night work as they have received in day work. On the field of battle at night there is, if possible, no shouted orders whatever.

As soon as a battalion or other unit decides to rest at night, the first thing to see to is placing the outposts. These are an absolute necessity to avoid a surprise attack. Men must be placed in such a way that should an attack be made the main unit can be made ready for its rest at night.

There is first placed an outer guard, which is always on the alert for the least sign of danger. It is so placed that should an attack come, a second line of men immediately behind can be made ready. These in turn engage the enemy or defend the position until the main body can be drawn up into position for defence or attack.

On three different occasions companies from the 38th Battalion have remained out all night on duty as outposts. The schemes were all worked out very near the camp.

It is being planned to have an extensive series of night attacks for the different units in camp. The 38th Battalion is now quite capable of doing the work, as the recruits have all been drilling steadily. Lieut. Col. Edwards, officer commanding, is planning to call out the whole battalion in the near future to see how the officers and men would do on active service.

prised at the quality of the men being trained at Barrieffield camp.

After the parade the soldiers were dismissed for the day and the visitors, after motoring through the grounds, visited the fort. They expressed themselves as highly pleased with their visit.

Capt. W. S. Wood, 43rd Regiment, who is seconded to the 38th Battalion at Barrieffield camp, has been awarded the Colonial Auxiliary Long Service Medal.

IN MARINE CIRCLES.

Movements of Vessels Reported Along the Harbor.

Steamer Jeska arrived at the cotton mill with a cargo of coal from Fairhaven.

Schooner Abbie L. Andrews arrived at Crawford's wharf with coal from Fairhaven.

Steamer H. N. Jex arrived from Charlotte with coal for Robert Crawford.

Steamer Hinckley is in port from Oswego, awaiting orders.

M. T. Co.'s Bulletin: Tug Hall arrived from Montreal with two light barges, will clear to-night for Prescott, light; tug Bronson is due to arrive to-night, light, from Montreal, and will clear to-morrow with one grain barge for Montreal.

The Canadian Steamship Line steamer City of Hamilton, which went into the Kingston shipyarding drydock on Tuesday morning, left on Thursday morning.

The report is that the steamer will be laid up in the course of a few days, and will later undergo a remodeling. The entire cabin will be taken off and the steamer made into an all-round freighter.

During the past season the passenger trade has fallen, and there is no prospect of it ever making any further gain. Every day the passenger trade is falling off, and other boats are likely to be laid up until further notice.

Steamer Fairfax passed down 8 a.m. Thursday; steamer Lonic and barge Reid due down Thursday afternoon.

Visiting Hereabouts.

The Poughkeepsie, N.Y., Evening Star says:

Dr. and Mrs. J. E. McCambridge, Mill street, have arrived at Jones Falls, Ont. for six weeks of fishing and touring in their car. To-day Dr. McCambridge had an engagement to instruct his friend Dr. F. H. Marks, of this city, in the mysteries of fishing for big-mouth bass and the delights of a shore dinner cooked by a Canadian guide. Dr. Marks is touring Canada in his car. Dr. Marks expected to bring back at least one large sized fish-story. He and Dr. McCambridge, fellow commissioners in the Board of Health also planned to run to Kingston and inspect the garbage disposal plant of that bustling city.

Dr. McCambridge is a son of Mrs. McCambridge, 384 Princess street.

T. F. HARRISON CO

There is still a scarcity of magazines for the soldiers who are detained at the Field Hospital. Any citizen who has some that he wishes to give away should phone No. 431 (the Military Hospital on Queen street) and they will be called for.

Ptes. H. Cassidy and T. J. Sweeney, 59th Battalion, are in the Kingston General Hospital with tonsillitis.

There are now fifty-two patients at the Field Hospital and about forty in the city hospitals.

The officers taking the Provisional School of Infantry were examined on military law and discipline on Wednesday morning.

The recruiting campaign throughout the division for the 8th C.M.R. is proving highly satisfactory. Thirty-five men are expected to arrive from Ottawa and Peterboro districts and the choice of 100 men secured in Toronto will be brought here.

Capt. F. K. Ketcheson, 15th Regiment, Belleville, has taken the position as adjutant at the fort vacated by Capt. Kennedy who has reported for duty with the 59th Battalion.

The soldiers at Barrieffield camp were paraded before the commandant, Col. T. D. E. Hemmings, at four o'clock on Wednesday afternoon in honor of Dr. Michael Clark, M.P., and W. B. Northrup, M.P., the speakers at the recruiting meeting in the evening. The soldiers certainly looked splendid on the march past and the visitors were pleasantly surprised.
