NO CHANGE JUST NOW.

Lloyd George's Canadian admirers, who are a legion, do not believe that he is eager to oust Mr. Asquith from the Premiership of Britain.

HAS ANYBODY SEEN KELLY?

The public prosecution of the Premier, and his associates in the late Manitoba Government, is not a bluff game.

THE MAGIC OF MONEY.

This week's cartoon illustrates another feature of Community Building. It brings out prominently the central idea of this educational campaign.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The German spy is intrepid. Either that or he is helpless to evade the consequences of the covenant into which he enters.

PRAYERS FOR VICTORY.

The Governments of Britain and Canada are looking to the churches for moral strength in this war.

bellious feeling. Then the thought recurs that the Empire is in danger and that it must be saved at any cost.

In the second place Britain is the foremost of the Allies and Britain is a Christian nation. Her constitution is based upon the truth of the Bible God and the Right above all else.

Again the hands of the Church are raised towards Heaven, and they are to be kept raised if the Allies would succeed.

WHY PASS THE HAT?

Canada's Acting Minister of Militia, Hon. J. A. Lougheed should not have encouraged individual patriotism or private generosity to pass round the hat for the purchase of machine guns.

All Canadians would gladly contribute if the mere process of passing round the hat could cause two machine guns to be made where one was made before.

The country is being told that the Borden Government is so incompetent that Canada's soldiers will not be equipped with machine guns unless the people take the work of buying these machine guns into their own hands and purchase the guns with their own contributions.

Canada's Government could not be expected to refuse offers that come from generous and wealthy individuals who are anxious to purchase machine guns. But Canada's Government ought not to encourage individuals to do the work that the Government should do.
