A SOLDIER'S DEATH

HE WAS STRICKEN WHILE ON HIS WAY HOME.

Had a Hemorrhage and Was Taken In an Ambulance to the Hospital—He Died Before Reaching Institution.

Bombardier James R. Hart, R. C. H. A. medical orderly at Tete de Pont Barracks, died suddenly on Wednesday afternoon. Bomb. Hart was on his way home from the barracks to 246 Montreal street when the sad affair took place. He was crossing the field opposite McGowan's cigar factory, on Rideau street, when he was stricken with a hemorrhage and when found by Corp. Akerley, also of the R. C. H. A. was in a low condition. R. J. Reid's ambulance was called but the deceased died on his way to the Military Hospital, Queen street.

Bomb. Hart was born in England thirty years ago and came to this country and enlisted with "B" Battery, R. C. H. A., at Toronto in 1905. He came with the battery in 1908 to Kingston and has been here since.

During his work in the service he was faithful and was popular with both officers and men. In the medical office he proved valuable and as efficient as an orderly.

A sad part of the affair is that his wife returned only two weeks ago from a vacation trip to England where she visited his mother Mrs. W. Hart, Birmingham, England. A wife and three small children survive.

A military funeral will be held on Friday afternoon, Major the Rev. G. L. Starr, of St. George's Cathedral, conducting the services.

NOT ONE APPLIED

To Be Used For Duty on the Harvest Fields.

"Although the military authorities have given orders that any man who has volunteered for overseas service, and would like to work on the farms getting in the harvest, will be given a pass, not one soldier has offered his services to me," was the statement of Lieut.-Col. George Hunter, Immigration Officer, to the Whig on Thursday morning.

The officer states that the farmers are badly in need of help on account of so few men coming out from England. "In one week during the haying season I could have placed fifty men, but could not get one."

At the present time there are a few men looking for work, but as they are not the best class of men for the farm the farmers will not take any chances.

The farmers, seeing that they were going to be up against it for lack of hired help, arranged matters so that they work together and get the crops in. The men get together and bring in the different crops as fast as they are ready, and for that reason much work has been accomplished. In some cases women who are strong go out in the fields and drive the horses and also pitch hay.

Speaking about the conditions of the crops since the recent rains, Col. Hunter stated that farmers inform him that they will be at a great financial loss. The corn crop in some cases will come up again. Any corn planted on clay will rise again, but the corn in sand is a total loss.

To Be Stiff Game.

The senior baseball fixture on Saturday is between the Vics. and Ponies, and a very closely contested game is expected. Both teams are fighting for the championship of the League, and the Vics. have not enough of a lead to make the game at all secure. Owing to the importance of this game a large crowd is expected to be present.

Movements of Vessels Reported Along the Harbor.

The steamer Hinkley is at So-ward's wharf, with sand from the Sand Pit.

The schooner Julia B. Merrill cleared for Charlotte, with feldspar.

The tug Florence and two barges cleared for Montreal from Richardson's elevator with oats.

The sloop Ariadne arrived from Rideau Canal ports with a cargo of wood.

M. T. Co.'s Bulletin: The steamer India passed down with lumber on the way from Sault Ste. Marie to Quebec; steamer Windsor cleared from Montreal Wednesday night to local coal at Erie for Quebec; tug Emerson is due to arrive to-night with the barges Winnipeg and Dunmore with coal from Fort Colborne.

The steamer John Duncan is at the Kingston Shipbuilding wharf in a disabled condition as the result of the severe gale in which it was caught on Tuesday afternoon. The Whig interviewed Wheelman J. Leninger on Thursday morning. He said when leaving the False Ducks Islands at 1 p.m., Tuesday, the water was comparatively calm. Hardly had the steamer been a quarter of an hour out when the terrific gale blew its fury and threatened to swamp the whole party. Mr. Leninger said the wheel would not answer and the steamer became caught in the trough of the waves. These rolling fast and high threatened to turn the John Duncan over. Full steam was turned on and the constant wear and battering of the waves wore the bearings to a critical condition. At the same time the boilers of the steamer began to leak. Finally the steamer swung around and after three hours hard labor was able to reach McDonald's Cove. At this point the John Duncan laid over Wednesday and made her course to Kingston on Thursday morning to go into the drydock for repairs.

The steamer Wainondah is at present occupying the dock and it is not expected to be floated until next Monday. As soon as it is, a general overhauling will be made to the steamer John Duncan. The captain of this boat is B. Paulmier; mate, Dan McVicker; wheelman, J. Leninger and E. Quinn.

POLICE COURT BRIEVITIES.

Two Drunks Lined Up Before the Magistrate.

Mayor Sutherland had an easy time of it on Thursday. Two drunks were the only offenders, and both were given a chance. As both were over the age for recruits, the acting magistrate did not have a chance to make an appeal for recruits.

"I have a job to go to at once," said the first offender.

"Get to your work and don't come back here again," remarked the magistrate.

The other fellow said he could get a job, and the magistrate told him to get busy.

WANTED TO BE A SOLDIER.

But Will Likely Be Sent Back to Brockville Home.

On Thursday W. H. Wylie received a letter from the authorities of a Home in Brockville, having the custody of the Scotch boy who ran away from a farmer and came to Kingston to enlist for service at the front. If the farmer does not want to take the boy back he will be sent to the Home in Brockville.

This is the youngster who wanted to get to the front to have a shot at the Germans. The order for his death was given by his brother. He had a brother wounded.

Death of U. S. Consul's Father.

On Wednesday afternoon the American Consul, F. S. Johnson, received a telegram from Vineland, New Jersey, that his father, Col. Edmund Johnson, was dying. Consul Johnson left immediately. A telegram received on Thursday morning stated that he father had passed away before he reached there. Col. Johnson had been retired for a number of years past, and died from advanced age.

Four Men Injured.

Four men driving in the stage between Lyndhurst Station and the village were injured when the horse ran away. Those injured were the driver, W. A. Brown, and three travellers, J. A. Travers, Brockville; William Leadbeater, Lyndhurst; and L. Smith, of Seely's Bay.

ARE NOT SATISFIED

TEMPERANCE WORKERS WILL PROTEST TO LICENSE BOARD.

Claim That New Order Will Not Help the Conditions—Soldiers Will Still Have Plenty of Time to Get Liquor.

The temperance workers of the city are not at all satisfied with the action of the Provincial License Board in closing the local hotel bars at 7 o'clock, while the soldiers are stationed at Barrieffield Camp.

A prominent temperance worker, speaking to the Whig on Thursday morning, stated that the decision of the board did not meet the requests of the temperance people of Kingston, and for that reason a meeting of the workers had been called for the Y. M. C. A. building on Thursday evening, when the matter would be gone into thoroughly, and a resolution would likely be forwarded to the board.

The closing of the bars at 7 o'clock does not relieve the situation, the temperance people claim, as the soldiers can get all they want from the time they leave the camp grounds until the bars close. The closing of the bars at 7 o'clock means that the soldiers will "hike" for Kingston as soon as the parades are over, instead of waiting, for their money, as the statement of another prominent worker. The men are off parade at 4.30 o'clock.

A prominent member of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, when interviewed by the Whig, said: "If that is all the board can do for us they might just as well leave the matter alone."

Rev. George S. Clendinnen, pastor of Brock Street Methodist Church, stated that he believed the early closing hours would relieve the situation somewhat.

Rev. Dr. Malcolm Macgregor, Moderator of the Presbyterian Assembly, said the temperance workers wanted the bars to close at six o'clock, as they felt more could be accomplished. He believed the entire traffic should go.

Some people ask the question "What will the Provincial Board do if the soldiers are quartered in Kingston this winter, the same as the 21st Battalion was last winter?"

Rev. G. I. Campbell appreciated what the commission had done; he had hoped that the bars would have been placed out of bounds.

The hotelmen are up in arms over the action. None of them hesitate to say that almost three-quarters of the bar trade will be lost. It may ruin some hotels, what a Whig reporter was told by certain proprietors.

A. A. Welsh, proprietor of the Hotel Frontenac asserted that he thought a soldier should be placed on the bar trade as a civilian because many a pretty decent chap in uniform comes in after hours, and is refused. The time limit already is too short and to cut him off almost entirely is both detrimental to the soldier and to business.

J. Hanley at the British American Hotel declares that if business is injured by the Provincial License Board's action, we will have to raise the hotel rates to make good the loss. A month's trial will be given to test the result and if it is seen that business has been depressed then some action will take place.

From the Windsor Hotel comes the advice that the wholesale liquor stores will be made a picnic resort. The Provincial License Board's action is as bad as putting a man on the Indian list.

J. M. Theriault looks at it from the working man's point of view. He thinks all soldiers should be banned and leave the working man alone, free to drink when he has an opportunity. As it now stands he cannot secure a draught until eight o'clock in the morning and by that time he is at work. All day he cannot touch it and when evening comes by the time he goes home in dresses for the night it is too late. Mr. Theriault stated that he thought many men would not go home and their families would suffer thereby. It will also injure business wonderfully.

Letters To Editor

What Young Ladies Think.

Kingston, Aug. 4.—To the Editor: We are disgusted to see so many young and able men standing about the streets of Canada. All young men ashamed to wear khaki should be presented by the young ladies with a white feather. It would suit them much better than yachting-duck and white flannels. At such a serious time as this, they would then perhaps realize their duty toward their King and Country.—FROM TWO WILL WISHING YOUNG LADIES.

HAVE TAKEN ACTION

Against the Street Railway For Damages For Accident.

The executors of the estate of the late Richard Spooner, Glenburnie, who met his death at the corner of Division and Princess streets, while driving across the tracks some four months ago, have entered an action for damages against the Street Railway Company. J. L. Whiting, K.C., is acting for the estate, and the firm of Nickle & Farrell is acting for the company. The amount of the suit is not stated in the action.

New York's Biggest Success

"A Little Bit of Heaven Shure They Call It Ireland" Sung By Mr. Chauncey Olcott

Have you ever heard the story of how Ireland got its name? I'll tell you so you'll understand from whence old Ireland came; No wonder that we're proud of that dear land across the sea, For here's the way me dear old mother told the tale to me:

Shure, a little bit of Heaven fell out the sky one day, And nestled on the ocean in a spot so far away; And when the angels found it, shure it looked so sweet and fair, They said, "Suppose we leave it, for it looks so peaceful there;" So they sprinkled it with star dust just to make the shamrocks grow, 'Tis the only place you'll find them, no matter where you go; Then they dotted it with silver, to make its lakes so grand, And when they had it finished, shure they called it Ireland.

'Tis a dear old land of fairies and of wondrous wishing wells, And nowhere else on God's green earth have they such lakes and dells, No wonder that the angels loved its Shamrock-bordered shore, 'Tis a little bit of Heaven, and I love it more and more.
