AN ORANGE PARADE

"NO SURRENDER" PAINTED ON BLANKET WITH AXLE GREASE

Had Not Seen Harry Since the Battle Of Ypres.—Think He Was Hit In the Conflict—A Church Turned Into Ruins.

Miss Florence Darling, Sydenham, has received the following letter from her brother Douglas, now in France with the Canadian Contingent: "We are back in the trenches again after a short rest. Where did you hold the Orange celebration this year? We certainly had some walk with files and tin pans for instruments. We had a banner made of a blanket and had 'No Surrender' painted on it with axle grease. Believe me we had a large turnout. We also had our pictures taken."

"I have not seen Edward Barry, formerly employed at the firm of Roney & Co., since the battle of Ypres. The last I saw of him he was alive and well. He was in the front line of trenches but had to retreat back one trench. After that I know nothing about him, but I think he got hit. The Germans advanced over the ground. If he was wounded they picked him up. If he was killed they likely buried him. Again he might have been burned by a shell bursting close to him. If he was a prisoner he would likely write. That is all I can tell you about him. I can't tell you where we are now but it certainly gets rough at times. The Germans fired several large shells last night in a village behind our trenches and burned a lovely church to the ground. It is in a heap of ruins and certainly looks a shame that any men would do such things."

SATURDAY'S BASEBALL

VICTORIAS DEFEATED PONIES BY 4 TO 3.

In a Ten Innings Game—This Victory Means the City League Championship For the Victorias.

After one of the most exciting and closely contested baseball games of the season the City League Championship was played on the cricket field, the day by a score of 4 to 3 in a ten-innings battle. The victory means the City League championship for the Vics, as the Ponies can hardly overcome a two-game lead with the season so well advanced. Walsh and Gallagher opposed each other and the former had by far the better of the argument. His support was also more steady than that afforded his rival, but Gallagher's own error was directly responsible for the termination of the struggle in the tenth as his bad leave to first paved the way to the victory of the Vics.

Walsh was steady in all but the seventh innings when the Ponies leaned on his slants for a double and two singles, while he was guilty of two wild pitches which accounted for two runs. He displayed excellent command over the pill in the ninth however, when after Saunders had singled and stole second with nine down, he fanned Sleeman, Gallagher and H. Saunders in a row. In the tenth he also lightened up with men on, and although McKay and Walsh singled they failed to score, because Dr. Walsh had command of the situation, and C. Stuart, Cherry and Toland were easy outs. The Ponies' run in the first on a single by Stuart and T. Saunders lucky double to left.

The winners failed to count until the fourth when singles by Laird and G. Dick, errors by Toland and Cherry, a passed ball and a hit by pitcher, scored two runs. In the fifth the winners counted again when H. Dick's double and Pound's single scored Dick.

In the tenth Laird should have been an easy out but Gallagher threw badly to first, the runner going to second. He was advanced to third on an out and scored when Walsh held Dr. Walsh's roller, threw to Sleeman who heaved poorly to third, the ball hitting Laird and rolling to the outfield.

"Teddy" Saunders carried off the batting honors with a double and two singles, while Somerville had two doubles to his credit. Walsh fanned seven and failed to issue a pass, while Gallagher struck out six, committed a balk, had a wild-throw, an error and issued a base on balls.

An Exhibition Game. When the Havana Red Sox and a picked team from the City Baseball League met at the cricket field on Tuesday afternoon in aid of the Mowat Memorial Hospital citizens will be given an opportunity to see one of the best exhibitions of ball played this season. When Stanley Trotter and his collectors make their rounds during the game it is to be hoped the spectators will give liberally. The local players are giving the benefit for the cause and it is as little as the citizens can do to contribute. The hospital is in need of the funds.

WILL GET HIM YET

WERE LAST WORDS OF LIEUT. HERCHMER STEWART.

Who Fell While Leading a Party of Men to Stop a German Soldier Who Was Sniping.

"I'll get him yet," were the last words uttered by the late Lieut. Herchmer Stewart, who was killed while fighting in France with the Princess Patricia's Light Infantry.

A letter received by the family, who reside at Harrowsmith, brought this news. It appears that on the day Lieut. Stewart was killed, his men had been suffering greatly by the German snipers who were perched in the trees and barns in the vicinity of the Canadian trenches. So many of the Canadian soldiers were getting hit that it was decided to get rid of these Germans. After scouting around for some time, the Canadian landed on some, but there was still one man who continued firing. After watching for some time, Lieut. Stewart and his men spotted the German in a barn. The lieutenant called for volunteers to go with him. In a few minutes he had sufficient men, and started on the trip, from which he never returned. When they got near the barn the Canadian soldiers fired, but the German was too quick for them, as he shot Lieut. Stewart, who fell to the ground. As he fell he said: "I'll get him yet."

The men who were with Lieut. Stewart evidently "got" the German, as they state that they took time to bury their young leader.

What Belgian Women Suffer.

An evidence that the German soldiers care little or nothing for the safety of the lives of the Belgian women and children is shown in a letter received by Mrs. H. W. Marshall, Colborne street, from her father, Major Long, who is now serving with the Canadian troops in Belgium.

In his letter Major Long enclosed a handkerchief which a Belgian woman made for him one day. He stated that while paying the woman for her work, some German soldiers dropped a shell on the house in which the woman lived. She was immediately compelled to pick up and make for a new place of abode. This is just an example of what the women of Belgium are compelled to live through.

Major Long is well known in Kingston, having for some years been attached to the R. C. H. A. A short time ago he was wounded, but is now fully recovered.

Napanee

Aug. 9.—In the Police Court on Saturday before Magistrate Rankin, two young men from Odessa were charged with theft of canned goods and tobacco from a rig at the yard of the hotel there. After hearing some evidence, the Magistrate dismissed the case.

About six o'clock Saturday morning, a house owned and occupied by Mrs. Isaac Zuffmann on Water street was discovered to be on fire. The firemen responded quickly, with the result that the house suffered little damage. A kitchen at the back was destroyed with the contents, including a sum of money of about forty dollars, which Mrs. Zuffmann had placed in a teapot. The damage is covered by insurance. The local license holders have decided that in future, soldiers in uniform will not be served over the bar here.

A rousing patriotic rally will be held here about the first week in September, in order to stimulate recruiting. It is understood that Sir Wilfrid Laurier has consented to come and speak and there will be other speakers of national reputation.

An inquest was held Saturday by Coroner Cowan at Roblin, the body of the late Hawley MacFarland who was killed on Friday at C. Wood's cheese factory, and considerable evidence was given. The jury brought in a verdict of accidental death.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Seymour, Toronto, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Barrett, Pearl street. Rev. S. Selery has returned home after spending a month's holidays.

The Wilton Red Cross Society will hold a lawn social Tuesday, in aid of their soldiers. The Salvation Army Band, Kingston, will be in attendance. With the acceptance of their son, Frederick, for overseas military service, with the 8th Mounted Rifles, now in training at Bordenfield, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Walker, Thomas street, have three sons serving their King and country, the other two being already in England with the 39th Battalion.

A Unique Statue. A wooden statue representing a man in armor has been erected in Vienna by one of the war relief committees. Anyone who subscribes as much as twenty cents is permitted to drive a nail in the statue, it being hoped that ultimately the whole statue will be covered with nail heads, so that it will look as if covered with real armor. It is then intended to preserve the statue as an emblem of Austrian patriotism.

"For Better or Worse." Because her husband is confined in the state hospital at Pontiac, Mich., Judge Law refused to grant Carrie McBean a divorce. The court learned that McBean had supported his family until he became afflicted. He informed Mrs. McBean that she had taken her husband "for better or worse," and the fact that he had become mentally afflicted was not proper cause for divorce.

James D. Kennedy, aged twenty-two, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kennedy, Syracuse, formerly of Northport, was fatally injured when an automobile in which he and another young man, were riding crashed into a telephone pole.
