STOLE FARM PRODUCE

FROM WAGON OF THOMAS WESTON AT CATARAQUI.

Thieves Also Stripped Apple Tree—The Theft Was a Daring One—A Constable Is In Need.

A daring theft occurred at Cataraqui on Monday night when the farm of Thomas Weston was visited by some unknown persons. Before retiring for the night Mr. Weston and his hired help arranged the produce in the market wagon in readiness to leave for city on Tuesday morning at an early hour. Upon going down to the wagon on Tuesday morning Mr. Weston noticed that some person had visited the place during the night and carried off three crates of red raspberries. When he made a search in his orchard he found that the thieves had visited that place and stripped one of his harvest apple trees.

It is evident that the persons who did the deed must have had a wagon as they could not carry the stolen goods away. They must have known the farm well or they could not have located the harvest apple tree. For some months the market gardeners at Cataraqui have been troubled by thieves. Mr. Cook, a gardener, when speaking to the Whig about the affair, stated that he had reported the presence of thieves to the police some time ago, and also stated that the residents of Cataraqui would be willing to chip in and pay the cost of a constable if they thought they could catch the guilty parties.

Letters To Editor

A Croquet Challenge.

Kingston, Aug. 7.—(To the Editor): The Lampan's jolly badinage of "The Lampan" with respect to the premier and apparently unassailable position occupied by that splendidly equipped, and seasoned sporting organization, "the Kingston Ladies Croquet Club, and also, the absence or lack of the chivalrous sporting instinct that would impel the gentlemen of Kingston to maintain a cricket club, or to give battle to the ladies at their favorite but by no means exclusive pastime, on their beautiful lawn amidst most charming surroundings, permit me to say: "The northeast side of Kingston, or that part of it contiguous to the old carworks site, boasts an infant croquet club, less than six weeks old, composed of respectable young mechanics, and laborers, who feel that in considering this moot question they are justly entitled to championship honor at this ancient, interesting, and scientific game. "They therefore—if it is not considered infra dig"—are prepared, under suitable management, to meet any, and all comers, in a series of games, at the city park, or a place to be mutually agreed upon, for the 1915 croquet championship of Kingston.

"Permit us to further suggest that the tournament could be conducted on similar, or, somewhat similar lines to the Kingston amateur baseball series, say on Wednesday afternoons, and evenings, that day being largely a half holiday. A cup could be donated, tags, or tickets issued to the spectators, and the proceeds donated towards the purchase of a machine gun, the Mowat Memorial, the Daily British Whig's popular soldier "bacca" fund, or any deserving cause agreed upon by the competitors.

"Now don't all speak at once! First come, first served. If you want to see who are the real bosses of Kingston croquetism, somebody please start something, and convert the "Lampan's" jolly joke into a source of public pleasure and profit.

A. NORTHEASTER.

NOW A LIEUT.-COLONEL.

Major W. T. Connell Is Given a Higher Rank.

LIEUT.-COL. W. T. CONNELL.

It was learned on Tuesday morning that Dr. W. T. Connell, who went overseas with Queen's Stationary Hospital, with the rank of major, has been promoted to the rank of lieutenant-colonel.

Lieut.-Col. Connell is on his way at the present time with the hospital unit for the Dardanelles, and will be stationed at Malta or Egypt. Queen's Stationary Hospital has no less than four lieutenant-colonels on its staff: Lieut.-Col. Etherington, who is in command; Lieut. H. R. Duff, who is attached in an advisory capacity; Lieut. Col. W. Anglin, chief surgeon, and Lieut.-Col. W. T. Connell.

Bars Closed Early Monday.

The benefit derived from closing the bars at seven o'clock were not very apparent on Monday night. As the new law is admittedly aimed at the soldiers they take it as an insult rather than an inconvenience.

Some people are of the opinion that Kingston will be similar to Niagara if the present regulation is not changed. At Niagara, a soldier in uniform cannot be served with liquor at any time. As a result of this move on the part of the License Commission, a number of "blind pigs" are selling liquor to the soldiers. The effects are said to be worse than before the new law was put into force.

Notified the C. N. R.

The Superintendent of the Street Railway Company has notified the C. N. R. Company of the narrow escape a street car had Monday when a C. N. R. train engineer ignored the signal near the Montreal street crossing and came ahead while a car was about to cross the tracks. The car was successfully thrown off the tracks by the street car, and a collision. The street railway superintendent states that the next time a locomotive engineer ignores the signal, the matter will be reported to the Dominion Railway Board.

Auto Tourists Increase.

The wet weather does not seem to be interfering seriously with the tourist traffic. For the last three weeks the number of motorists coming through the city has been a great deal above the average despite the weather and the condition of the roads. The greatest number of points before the battalion leaves Canada will become the owner.

Presented a Cup.

Lieut.-Colonel C. T. Williams, officer commanding the 41st Regiment, Brockville, has presented a cup to the 59th Battalion, now in camp at Barriefield. It is for competition in weekly sports and the company winning the greatest number of points before the battalion leaves Canada will become the owner.

Beautiful New Stock To Choose.

City Council May Meet.

A special meeting of the City Council will likely be held next week to make arrangements for the new garbage collection, which will be inaugurated about the first week of September. It is expected that a mill of the taxes will cover the cost of collection of both garbage and ashes.

FIT OUT FOR TROPICS

THIS WAS THE ORDER TO QUEEN'S HOSPITAL.

A Military Taylor Engaged And Then Came Order to Move to the Dardanelles—The Auto Ambulance Car in Service.

Queen's Stationary Hospital which went overseas at same time as the 21st Battalion received orders on July 26th to get an issue of clothing suitable for a tropical climate was the information received in letter which arrived in the city on Monday afternoon.

The Kingston officer writing home stated that they sent up to London for a military tailor to come down at once as they expected to leave in a few days for the Dardanelles. The orders to leave for the Dardanelles must have arrived a few days later as the unit left on August 1st.

One officer writing home stated that some of the men were very anxious to go to France but the majority of the unit appreciated the fact that the war office saw fit to send them to the Dardanelles.

The wives of the Kingston officers are anxiously waiting word that the unit has safely arrived at their destination.

Dr. J. C. Connell, Dean of the Medical Faculty of Queen's University, stated to the Whig, on Tuesday morning, that he had received word that the motor-ambulance, donated to the Queen's Hospital by A. Davis & Sons, has arrived in England and was taken to the Dardanelles. The motor-car, given by C. Bermingham, is being used daily by the officers while they were in the vicinity of Folkestone.

The reinforcements for Queen's Hospital, which left the city about three weeks ago, arrived safely in England in time to go with the rest of the unit to the Dardanelles.

Some of the Kingstonians who went overseas with the hospital as auto drivers have taken a course of instruction in the art of motor-driving since arriving in England.

A VERY FINE EVENT.

Was the Opening Ball at Thousand Island House. Alexandria Bay, N.Y., Aug. 9.—Saturday evening the opening ball was given at the Thousand Island House. The decorations in the ballroom were especially artistic and beautiful. Festoons of American Beauty roses were hung from the ceiling, and the huge open fireplace in the right hand side of the ballroom was banked with ferns, as was the stone mantel-piece. There were 5,000 roses used in the decorations of the ballroom, and the chandeliers were covered with American Beauty tinted shades, so there was a soft pink glow of light for the dancers. There were many beautiful figures danced, and several special dances. Among these were the lucky number dance and a chair contest, as well as cotillon figures. The lucky number prizes went to Frederick Johnston and the chair contest to Edward Gotham. Many beautiful gowns were worn, and there were several hundred people at the dance, as well as at the supper at midnight. This was served in the dining room of the Thousand Island House, and the table decorations were of ferns and American Beauty roses. There was confetti in profusion, and many beautiful favors were distributed in the cotillon.
