Trooper McGee Kicked In Face By Horse-Sergt Robert Stanton Has Gone To Halifax To Join The R.C.

At 8.30 a.m. Thursday, citizens who were on Princess street. saw something which has probably never received an injury to his face by bebefore been seen on Kingston, ing kicked by a horse on Wednesday, Canadian Mounted Ribes, under Lieut.-Col. J. R. Munro in full war regalia on the start of a hundred mile march through the country. Every man was mounted. The men were in their shirt sleeves, and "business" was the word they suggested. On each horse the rider took with him his blanket, riffe, mess-tin, water bottles and bandoliers. Before leaving the camp ground Col. Munro gave his orders, among them being that the greatest care must be taken of the horses. Two spare horses went with each squad-

They were directmen and fodder for the 250 horses. Meals were to be served regularly on the way. The Army Service Corps were able to do this part of the arrangements, as easily as if the regiment was remaining in the camp. The regiment expected to reach Napanee early Thursday evening and camp in the Exhibition grounds for the night.

Lieut.-Col. J. R. Munro gave the 8th Regiment, C.M.R., a lesson in what to do in case of a surprise attack, on Wednesday afternoon. About two o'clock bugles sounded at the Orderly tent the regimental alarm. The buglers of the different squadrons took it up and four minutes afterwards the regiment was on the parade ground. Within five minutes after the "call to arms" was sounded, even the Mounted Orderlies Thorody 18 who had to saddle their horses, were ready for action. The squadron were then detailed to command poitions around the camp.

The test showed the men the nec sessity of getting ready for action in a very short while. Col. Munrosis hightly pleased with the way men (even the recruits) acted and commended them for their work.

The secret of the success of the 21st Battalion was the number of Although it is not even up to full strength yet, several long marches nesday, have been taken. A hot talion. meal was served at noon about six miles from the camp.

It is a pleasure to state that there was only one man in the 1,000 men of the battalion who had to be carried back to camp, which shows the beneficial effects of the daily drill and the camp life.

Lieut.-Col. H. J. Dawson evidently follows the slogan that what the men do he will do, although it is customary for commanding officers to ride. Col. Dawson headed his battalion on foot on Wednesday. The quartermaster and transport had the only horses in use. The return to the camp was made about 6 p.m.

He was presented by George Van Horn with a sterling silver mounted pipe as a token of appreciation on the part of the Frontenac Hockey Club for his valued services. The team has lost a splendid player.

The Administration building of the Army Service Corps has been given a coat of red paint and is a pleasing part of the prettiest grounds in the camp. An addition has just been completed and will be used as an office for the transport officer and the O.C. of No. 3 Company, C.A.S.C.
