Had The Right Idea.

We know a man who knows girls, all right.
He's only six years old, but he observes things. We heard his mother calling him down for rudeness at play, the other day, and our eaves-dropping was rewarded with this:
"Billie," called the mother, "I want you to quit teasing that little girl! Aren't you ashamed of yourself?"
"Well, I got to tease somebody!"
"You've got to tease somebody? That's a fine idea, I must say! And so?"
"Yes, 'n she wants to be teased. If I quit, she'll play with some other little boy."—Cleveland Plaindealer.

When War Will End.

"When will the war end?" The "Figaro" gives the following curious prophecy in answer to this question:—Take the total of the two years of the Franco-Prussian War, 1870 and 1871, add them. The result will be the sum of 3741. The first year of figures in this sum, 3 and 7, when added, give a total of 10, while the other gives a total of 5. The peace treaty ending that war was signed on the tenth day of May, the fifth month in the year.

Using the same process for the years 1914 and 1915, the total is found to be 3829, and the respective pairs give each a total of eleven, which fact, in the opinion of the prophet, indicates that the war will end on the eleventh day of the eleventh month, that is, on November 11.

Coins In Soldier's Wound.

A wounded soldier from the front was operated upon in the Royal Berkshire Hospital, England, for an injury to his thigh. When the wound was probed it was found that a piece of shrapnel had carried a portion of the man's trousers pocket into the flesh, and with it several coins, which were successfully extracted.

AMELIA.

On the back of this pathetic little fellow were 18 crosses, marked "kisses."
The horrible injustice of it adds to the sadness of it. But what must be the mental condition of the meddling neighbor through whose love of trouble-making this tragedy was caused. Or, it is more probable a woman who would stoop to such mean-ness is incapable of realizing her responsibility. The pitiful little tragedy is a whole sermon on the text of the necessity for frank and open confidence in married life.

Request Complied With.

The hotelkeeper, hearing of the whereabouts of a guest who had decamped from the hotel without going through the formality of paying his bill sent him a note:
"Mr. — Dear Sir—Will you send the amount of your bill and oblige, who, who."
To which the delinquent replied, "The amount is $13, your respect-fully."
