NEWS FROM ENGLAND

QUEEN'S STATIONARY HOSPITAL CORPS ON SS. ASTURIAS

Lieut.-Col. W. G. Anglin and Capt. Harold Williamson Write Under Date of August 1st.

Lieut.-Col. W. G. Anglin, writing to his wife under date of August 1st from Southampton, England, said that Queen's Hospital Corps was then aboard the SS. Asturias, a magnificent mail ship formerly of the South American route but now doing duty as a hospital ship. All the staterooms had been cleared out and the space so obtained utilized as wards. There were nine chaplains aboard, three for each unit, one being Major the Rev. Thomas Thompson, formerly of Kingston. The officers did not have cabins as they had on the SS. Metagama, but slept twenty-four in a ward. The colonel said it was more like camping out in a big tent.

Met Dr. Mackie At Folkestone.

In a letter from Shorncliffe written on August 15th, Capt. Harold Williamson tells of the arrival the day before of the Queen's Stationary Hospital reinforcements which arrived just in time to join the unit which sailed for Egypt on the 1st. He had the pleasure of meeting Rev. Dr. John Mackie in Folkestone. Mrs. Mackie presented each officer of the Queen's Hospital with a khaki handkerchief with his initials worked on it. Capt. Williamson also met Lieut. Ken. Williams, Kingston, who is with the C.A.S.C.

Stop The Nuisance.

Kingston, Aug. 14.—(To the Editor) Young Kingston was, as usual, out in full force at the Band Concert last evening, and possibly owing to the absence of the police was unusually boisterous. It is positively disgraceful that children are allowed to annoy not only those who go to hear the music, but the band as well. Mr. Light has expressed his disgust on several occasions but to no purpose. What must strangers think of the manner in which our band concerts are conducted? The splendid programme of the R. C. H. A. was greatly marred by the uproar of children. It is such conduct that keeps Kingston in the provincial class. How long is it to continue? Cannot the Chairman of Parks do something to stop this nuisance?—Showpan.

Long Boots To Drive Out the Puttees

Ottawa, Aug. 14.—It has been practically decided by the militia authorities that the puttees worn by the Canadian soldiers will be done away with. Long boots will be worn instead. Just what type of boot has not been decided as yet. The trouble with the puttee is that in the wet weather it shrinks and binds the leg so tightly as to interfere with the circulation, and in the cold weather the feet are more easily frozen.

"It happens to be the writer's work to play around the country," says this correspondent, "and I will say frankly that I have never had any more enjoyable time or any more wonderful surroundings than I had at your 'Chateau Laurier.'"

TAKEN TO PENITENTIARY.

German Who Caused Explosion in a Windsor Factory.

William Leifer, Detroit, a German who was sentenced at Windsor on Thursday to ten years in Portsmouth penitentiary for causing an explosion in the Peabody Overhead Factory at Windsor, and also attempting to blow up the Windsor armories, was taken to the big prison on Saturday morning.

He arrived on the night train in charge of two sheriffs, who placed him in the cells at the police station, where he remained until Saturday morning at nine o'clock. He had shackles on his feet.

Leifer did not appear to mind his position very much. At an early hour on Saturday morning he asked one of the police men on duty to get him a meal. About nine o'clock he was taken out of his cell by the deputy sheriff, who replaced the shackles on his feet.

A funny incident occurred in the hallway at the station when the sheriff was talking to the prisoner. He happened to remark: "If I should want to communicate with you what will be your address?"

"Portsmouth penitentiary is sufficient, as I have not gotten my number yet," was the reply.

The prisoner, who is about forty years of age, is married.

A TRAGIC ROMANCE COMES TO CLOSE

Soldier For Whose Love Princess Killed Herself Dies in War-saw Fight

Amsterdam, Aug. 14.—The battle for the possession of Warsaw brought to a close the tragic romance of Princess Sophia, only daughter of Prince Wilhelm of Saxe-Weimar Eisenach, and Baron Hans Victor von Bleichroeder. The son of the famous German banker was killed while fighting before Warsaw on August 1st. He was at one time engaged to Princess Sophia, who committed suicide in September, 1913, when her father, Prince Wilhelm, refused to consent to their marriage.

First news of the Baron's death was received here to-night from Berlin. He was killed, it is stated, in the last days of the storming of the Polish capital, less than two years after his sweetheart shot herself at her father's castle in Heidelberg because she could not wed him. He was even barred from her funeral by members of her family.

Grand Duke Ernest of Saxe-Weimar was said to have been responsible for preventing the wedding of the Princess to the banker's son. He was head of the house, and although her father was almost induced to permit the match the Grand Duke refused to allow it unless Princess Sophia renounced all her titles. This she refused to do. Her father was unable to take a stand for his daughter because of his financial relations with the Grand Duke.

GERMANS HALTED.

Petrograd Claims That Drive is at Standstill.

Petrograd, Aug. 14.—The Russian armies, having successfully extricated themselves from the Warsaw sack in which the Germans tried to enclose them, are now stubbornly opposing the German advance toward Bialystok on a line seventy miles to the east of Warsaw, and on both sides of the railroad between the Polish capital and Bialystok. The Baltic German campaign appears to be at a standstill with the Russians astride the highway between Vilkomir and Poneviesch, threatening the communications between the invading armies.

The Germans are approaching slightly nearer to Kovno. They are positioned with their heavy guns, to which Russian artillery is replying effectively. Peasants who escaped from the German labor gangs describe the deliberate preparations for the assault on Kovno, which were begun three months ago. The Germans imported an enormous mass of structural materials, built paved roads from the westward, and dug foundations fifteen feet deep for mortars, taking endless pains in preparing the cement platforms.

When the refugees escaped no forty-two centimeter guns had arrived, but those of smaller calibre, each requiring three large tractors, were being hauled into position.

Arrested For Murder.

Buffalo, N.Y., Aug. 14.—All Nagl, or Maxed Shimer, is held here on a warrant from Washington in connection with the murder of Nicolo Caser at Bingasi, Tripoli, three years ago. The information on which the arrest was made was furnished by Caser's son, Joseph, now a resident of this city.
