

School Suits Are Ready

It's time to be thinking of School Suits again!

Start the boy to school with a good suit.

It will help him along in every way. He will command more respect, have more respect for himself and take more interest in his work than he will if he is made to wear an unsightly, ill fitting Suit.

School Suits, double breasted style or Norfolk cut; durable materials, strongly put together, well cut, well tailored.

$4, $4.50, $5, $5.50 up to $8

Dressed in one of these excellent School Suits, the boy will do himself justice.

Now Is The Time to Buy

Prices have already advanced in the general market, owing to the increased duties, freight and insurance, added to the great scarcity of raw materials, and it is very difficult to obtain delivery of many lines.

We consider ourselves fortunate in being able to place large orders in advance for many lines of goods in time to save the high advance in makers' prices and are able to offer you Hosiery, Underwear, Blankets, Flannels, etc., at much less than the present wholesale prices, and we advise an early selection of any of these goods you may require for

WALDRON'S

THE TOBACCO FUND

THE WORKERS ARE NOW BUSY EVERYWHERE.

The People Are Urged to Give To a Worthy Cause—Nothing Too Good For the Boys at the Front.

"Nothing is too good for the boys at the front," exclaimed one man as he contributed a dollar bill to the Tobacco Fund. "Those fellows are doing my fighting for me, and if I can make it a little bit pleasanter for them I'm going to do it every time."

"Here is one dollar to help to get some tobacco for the poor boys at the front, who are suffering in the trenches. God bless them. I wish I had more to send."

The fund was considerably augmented on Monday when J. L. Whiting, K. C., sent to the Whig his cheque for $10.00. That will buy a good many packages of tobacco, and such a generous gift will no doubt be appreciated at its full worth.

Read the letters from the trenches, and you will quite realize the necessity of this campaign. The Overseas Club did a splendid work when it inaugurated the movement to supply every soldier on the fighting line with a package of tobacco. The Whig was glad to co-operate, and it is giving time and space—and money—without any charge whatsoever, in order that the appeal to the people of Kingston and district may be productive of good results.

If you haven't already given, bring or send your contribution to the Whig. It will be acknowledged through the paper, and with your gift will go a return postcard bearing your name and address, so that the soldier who gets it can write you his own thanks from the battlefield. The fund now stands as follows:

Wind and Sun Likely to Save All the Crops

The cool wind and bright sun on Tuesday morning brought joy to the hearts of the farmers of this country. It is the only chance of saving this year's crop. The cool weather brings with it promise of continued dry weather and this means an opportunity of bringing in the crop. The principal crops in the centre and north of the country are hay and oats, and these are for the most part still in the fields. It is impossible to harvest with the usual machinery in wet weather as the wheels sink into the ground and make binding an impossibility. With even a short dry spell of weather it will be impossible to cut both crops, if not by machinery then by hand. In the southern part of the county, rye and barley are grown to some extent. As these mature several days before the hay and oats, they have to a great extent already been taken off.

Alderman H. C. Nickle, chairman of the local branch of the Canadian Patriotic Fund, had a busy time on Tuesday giving out the checks for the month.

BRITISH TRANSPORT SUNK.

Ranking next to the Lusitania disaster, and causing as deep an impression, is the loss by submarine of the transport ship Royal Edward in the Aegean Sea. The Royal Edward is one of the C.N.R. Atlantic liners and was carrying some 1,300 troops to the Dardanelles. She was presumably under escort at the time of attack, and how she became the target of an Austrian or German submarine is not apparent at this time of writing. She had a crew of 250 in addition to the troops, and only 600 lives were saved. Apparently the submarines are very elusive and can dodge the patrols no matter how vigilant the watches may be upon them. The success of the British submarines in entering the Sea of Marmora, under Turkish mines or warships, makes the point more clear. This is the first terrible casualty so far as the British transports are concerned. Hitherto but a few lives have been lost in the movement of troops anywhere and to any point. The record has been hitherto without a parallel. The shock of this loss will be very severely felt, and will accentuate, if this is necessary, the horrors and tragedies of the war.

NO ORDER HAS COME ABOUT WINTERING TROOPS.

Eleven men arrived from the western part of the division for the 32nd Battery at Barriefield on Tuesday morning. The men are being taken care at Tete de Pont Barracks for a day or two.

The strength of "C" Battery on Tuesday morning was 177 men, showing that the recruiting has been very successful. The strength of the battery is 164, but this number will again be reached if any of the recruits in the battery proved unsuited to the work.

Arthur Pearson, son of Sergt.-Major J. Pearson, was taken on the strength of "C" Battery on Tuesday morning.
