A Million
Corns
Went Last Month

Last month, a million corns were ended in this easy, simple way. And every month a million more go like them.

To each corn was applied a little Blue-jay plaster. In every case the corn pain ended there.

Then the wax in the plaster—the B&B wax—gently freed the corn. In 48 hours nearly every corn came out, without any pain or soreness. A few stubborn corns required another plaster.

That's the story of some seventy million corns ended by this invention. It will be the story of your corns in 48 hours if you treat them in this scientific way. Your friends will testify to that.

If you don't do this, in all probability, those corns will stay for years.

FIFTEEN SUBMARINES

FOR ALLIES MADE AT BETHLEHEM STEEL WORKS

And Put Together at Montreal—It Took Four Months to Make Them. Washington, D. C., Aug. 18.—An achievement of American industry became known here yesterday in the story of how the parts of fifteen submarines were constructed in the plant of the Bethlehem Steel Company, put together in shipyards at Montreal and how finally the fifteen submarines crossed the Atlantic under their own power and are now doing duty in the North Sea and in the Dardanelles.

All this was accomplished in a little more than four months from the time that the order for the submarines was given. The submarines are similar to the "H" boats in the United States Navy. The feat is largely attributed to the industry and enterprise of Charles M. Schwab, head of the Bethlehem Steel Company.

Incidentally it became known that William J. Bryan, as Secretary of State, was fully cognizant of the involved transaction of neutrality. Mr. Bryan, however, did object to the company building submarines and sending them directly from United States ports on their warlike mission.

Some time ago reports filtered past the Canadian censor that German submarines were seen in the upper St. Lawrence and the Bay of Fundy. These reports grew out of the steaming of the American-made submarines, namely, to build the boats and send them directly. Mr. Schwab then did the next best thing. The steel plates and bars and tubes and heavy oil Diesel engines were manufactured at Bethlehem and shipped to Montreal. There they were put together, the plates being shaped and the mechanism being installed.

When Mr. Schwab got the order for these boats he came to Washington to consult Mr. Bryan about the matter. Mr. Bryan ruled against the proposal Mr. Schwab had in mind, namely, to build the boats and send them directly. Mr. Schwab then did the next best thing. The steel plates and bars and tubes and heavy oil Diesel engines were manufactured at Bethlehem and shipped to Montreal. There they were put together, the plates being shaped and the mechanism being installed.

The boats are 150 feet long and 15 feet wide. They have a surface displacement of 360 tons and 430 tons submerged. Their surface speed is fourteen and one-quarter knots and their submerged speed ten knots. They were made after the designs of the Electric Boat Company.

It is known positively that some of the boats are now at the Dardanelles. Whether they have figured in any of the hostilities there is not known.

Make Ross Rifle Machine Gun.
Ottawa, Aug. 18.—An attachment which it is claimed will convert every Ross rifle into a small machine gun was demonstrated at the Militia Department this morning. The attachment is in the form of a magazine which may be slipped on the ordinary Ross rifle, and the rapidity of fire increased to about thirty shots per minute. The inventor is a Russian gunsmith named Shendreech.

THE SPORT REVIEW

Fred Merkle, the New York Giant's first baseman, is making good in the outfield and Snodgrass is slated for release unless he improves in his hitting.

Pitcher James Bagby of the New Orleans Southern Association team has been sold to the Cleveland American League club.

"Tim" Jordan, who was loaned to the Richmond team by President McCarty of Toronto, was released outright at his own request, Jordan has had a poor year.

Frankie Fleming, the Canadian featherweight champion, now training in Rawson, Que., for a series of bouts, may make a trip to Australia next winter.

For the 200-mile canoe race from Prescott to Kingston and Ottawa, Dr. Elmer J. Lake, of Kingston will be referee here. Dr. Lake has made a life study of the Rideau Lakes and will give the paddlers their instructions on arrival.

Ralph Comstock, one of the best pitchers in the International league, who was sold to Cincinnati, has jumped the Reds for the Pittsburgh Federals, according to his team mates. It is said he signed a two-year contract.

The London baseball directorate has concluded to retain possession of the local franchise for another year. The franchise expired Saturday night and a bid was received from former Manager "Jo-Jo" Keenan, who handed in his personal marked check for $3,000. His offer was refused. It is not known who his backers are.

Manager Cristall, of Hamilton has been released, along with Catcher Woods and Second Baseman Zeimer will be in charge for the rest of the season. This makes the fourth change in the managers of the Canadian Baseball League this season, the only original pilots that are left being Shaughnessy at Ottawa and "Knotty" Lee at Guelph.

To prevent the recurrence of pop bottle attacks on umpires at the St. Louis National League ball park, President Schuyler P. Britton, of the local Nationals, announced that henceforth no soda water will be sold in the bleachers. The new order resulted from the action of fans in throwing bottles and vegetables at Umpire Byron in Sunday's game with Chicago.

There is only one amateur sculler in this wide world, and very few professionals able to take the measure of "Bob" Dibble, the Canadian and American champion. The stalwart Toronto oarsman, who sprang into fame some three years ago by winning the junior, intermediate and senior titles in one afternoon at the Canadian Henley, has never been beaten since that time excepting in the English Henley.

Hamilton Spectator: The officers of the Sportsmen's battery, which is being formed here, are seriously considering the matter of having a rugby team in connection with the battery next fall. It is thought that the battery will be quartered here in some of the unions, the one until after the rugby season is over, and as several star rugby players have signed the roll, there is every reason to believe that a team of stars could be mustered. The team should have no trouble in securing a place in some of the unions, as the surplus, if any, at the end of the season, would go for a patriotic cause, there is every reason to believe that the team would be well patronized.

NINE DRUNKS IN COURT.

Police Magistrate Farrell Had a Goodly Assortment. There were no less than ten cases before the Police Magistrate on Wednesday morning. Nine of them were of men charged with being under the influence of liquor. Two of the men appeared on the "prohibited list."

Charles Bryant, who was gathered in last week for being under the influence of liquor while on "the list," stated that he was given his liquor by a man named Thompson. He happened to be out of the city on August 11th, but returned in the evening. On King street, near the corner of Market, he appeared very faint. He told a man named Thompson, who was standing near him, of his trouble, and asked him to get him a drink, which the latter did, although he told him he was on the list. He was remanded by the Court for one day so as to get the man who purchased the liquor for him.

Alfred Bernier, another member of "the list," got tight, and fell into the hands of Clark W. Wright, inspector. "Where did you get your liquor?" asked the Court.

"From the store of Rigney & Hickey, Princess street."

"When did you get it?"

"I got two bottles of rye, one on Saturday last and the other on Tuesday."

"Well, I will remand you for one day," said the Court.

Robert Murray, charged with being drunk, got $1 and costs or ten days.

Donald McDonald was taxed $2 and costs or twenty days for drunkenness. Peter Boyd, another drunk, got the same "doce" as McDonald.

John Stanlon, who was gathered in by Police Constable Garshall Armstrong, while lying on the road near the street car barns on Tuesday night, very drunk, was fined $3 and costs or one month.

Stanley Mackie, a stranger to the city, who was drunk and disorderly, was fined $5 and costs or twenty days.

John Cleaver, an American citizen, was remanded for another week, waiting deportation papers from Ottawa.

Frank Laplan was gathered in for being drunk, but the Court thought it wise to give him a chance.

It Ruins Hair to Wash It With Soap

Soap should be used very sparingly, if at all, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps are made of caustic alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified coconut oil at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.
