

School Suits Are Ready

It's time to be thinking of School Suits again!

Start the boy to school with a good suit.

It will help him along in every way. He will command more respect, have more respect for himself and take more interest in his work than he will if he is made to wear an unsightly, ill fitting Suit.

School Suits, double breasted style or Norfolk cut; durable materials, strongly put together, well cut, well tailored.

$4, $4.50, $5, $5.50 up to $8

Dressed in one of these excellent School Suits, the boy will do himself justice.

SECOND OLDEST IN STATE.

Mrs. Nancy Sweet Passes the Century Mark.

Albany, N.Y., Aug. 19.—The state census enumeration has revealed a woman who claims to be 115 years old. She is Mrs. Susan Gillis, colored, No. 571 Classon avenue, Brooklyn. Mrs. Gillis has a daughter eighty-four years old, a granddaughter forty-two years old, and a great-grandson eighteen years old.

The next oldest person shown by the census is Mrs. Nancy Sweet, of Oswego, 102 years old. In Watertown a woman of ninety-eight years vigorously objected to being classed as "without occupation," as she did her "own housework."

TWO KINGSTON BOYS

IN THE TRENCHES WITH THE PATRICIAS.

"Jack" Mills and Young "Bill" Nickle Write To Stanley Trotter—The Two Sleep Together.

S. E. Trotter has received interesting letters from "Jack" Mills of last year's Frontenac hockey team, and W. Nickle, of the Collegiates, who are at the front with the Princess Patricias. The letter from "Bill" Nickle reads in part as follows:

"Jack" Mills and I sleep together and eat together so you can see that there is no ill-feeling between the Frontenacs and K. C. I."

The letter from "Jack" Mills read in part as follows: "We crossed on the same boat as the Queen's Engineers, viz., the SS. Northland. Two destroyers met us and took us into Plymouth. From there we went by train through London to Shorncliffe. In Shorncliffe we had plenty of hard work but we also had our fun. When the scouts and map-readers were taking the course at Shorncliffe, we were one of the three from our platoon. We had an easy time of it and the work was very interesting.

"Our three weeks' stay in France was easier than the time we had in England. We left England on the night of July 13th. We fell in at 6.30 p.m. It was raining hard then. When we finally got to the wharf where the boat was, it was 10 o'clock, and we were soaked. Going across the channel it was very rough and nearly everybody was sick. When we landed in France it was raining again and we had a long up-hill march. When we finally crawled into camp it was getting light. We slept on the train and next morning we marched about four miles to where the 'Pats' were resting, with the exception of the room and nice new hay, so we were very comfortable. When it gets dark the night is livened up by the singing of the Queen's bunch, who stick together and if anything is done you may be sure it is Queen's."

Corpl. Joseph Ewart Writes. Corpl. Joseph Ewart, Portsmouth, who went overseas with the First Canadian Contingent, writes home that he has been unable to get any trace of Pte. Thomas Stephenson, who has been reported missing for some time.

In a letter to his father, Thomas Ewart, he states that he has been resting for a week or so but is now back on the firing line. All the Kingston boys are reported to be in good health.

Dr. D. A. Volume, Erskine, Alberta, with his wife and daughter, are visiting his mother, Mrs. A. Volume, Alfred street. Dr. Volume leaves to-night for Montreal to sail for England, having received an appointment with the Royal Army Medical Corps.

Capt. George Richardson is now attached to a reserve battalion in France for the purpose of allowing his men, who have seen so much active service, to get a rest.

At Brockville, Ont., Mildred Derbyshire, granddaughter of Senator Derbyshire, accomplished the feat of swimming across the River St. Lawrence. The distance is two miles.

Women interested in the Collins picture case got into a tongue contest in court, and hot names were called. The chief of police had them pushed out of the room.

NEVER SPOKE A WORD.

After Bullet Hit Hamilton Officer In Head.

Hamilton Herald: S. F. Washington, K.C., received from Surgeon C. Hoshal, of Cayuga, a copy of a letter from his brother, Lieut. A. J. Hoshal of the 4th Battalion, with reference to the death and burial of Lieut. Washington. "I think I spoke of Mr. Washington, our machine gun officer who shared my dug out at La Bassée Canal. He never said a word, yesterday afternoon came to see us, and he was hit. Wash was one of the most popular officers of the Fourth Battalion, about 21 or 22 years old, had gone through everything, and George, you don't know how we all felt. This morning he was buried in the rear of our trenches, and I was one of the pall-bearers, also Captain Wallace, Captain Macgaffin, Captain Dyas, Mr. Fields and Mr. Day. They had him on a stretcher, with the Union Jack wrapped around him, with his cap on top. Six of us carried the body on the stretcher on our shoulders, ahead of us forty men, with reversed rifles, and in the rear all officers that could be spared from the trenches, and in the rear of us General Mercer and his staff attended. At the grave our minister was in attendance. Then the firing party fired three volleys, the pall-bearers saluted the body and the rest followed. They are getting morning was a sad one to look around and see how few we are, and us one by one, and I must say this to think how many of us were at Salisbury."

Difference in Governments. Toronto Star: The Laurier Government went down to defeat on a big issue of its own choosing—a new and advanced policy, which the country at the polls refused to accept. That is the difference between its downfall and that of some other Governments, Federal and Provincial, in Canada. The Laurier Government went down in its full vigor of life, busy, aggressive, attempting to do too much, that is to say, attempting to do more than the country was prepared to see done.

Some Governments die in bed of old age, like the Federal Government in 1896, and the Ross Government in Ontario. Some Governments are shot down with their boots on like the Mercer Government in Quebec and the Roblin Government in Manitoba.

It is a rare thing in Canada to find a Government, strong in office and long in office, going to defeat on its own legs as the Laurier Government did—not from rust and wear and not from scandal—but from advocating an enterprising new policy, which the country was not prepared to accept.

The writers of the day should not overlook this, for the historians will not. And it stands as one of the high factors in politics.

Competent Actuaries.

Assure there will be no necessity for raising rates. Thomas Ronan, chief ranger for the local branch of the Catholic Order of Foresters, received a letter from the high chief ranger of the order, Chicago, in which he said:

The question of adequate rates was agitated in our order for years and we finally adopted them in 1911. Our loss on this account was very trifling, and we have already begun to regain the loss occasioned by the new rates. Adoption of the new rates has permitted us to invest in our reserve fund about $550,000 per year, and we expect the fund to increase at this rate as the years go by. The reserve fund at present is over $5,000,000, and we are assured by competent actuaries that there will be no necessity for raising our rates. We have completed thirty-two years of successful operation and have met every claim on our benefit fund with promptness during all that time. We are the largest Catholic insurance fraternity operating in the United States and Canada.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out of this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular, free.

Sir James Aikins, Defeated.

Canadian Courier: As a leader of a forlorn hope in Manitoba, Sir James Aikins has not added to his reputation. His political friends may admire his courage in taking hold of a discredited party in Manitoba and trying to save it from extermination. But the people of Manitoba plainly resented his methods.

Sir James is a fine man, but he has never been accused of being a leader of men. As a corporation lawyer he won success. As a speculator in days when wealth was easily gathered in the West, he was a success. As a smooth, pleasant figure at a Methodist Conference he was charming. As a man who would fight for the public and go down to defeat for a principle, if necessary, he had no record whatever. As a leader he was an unfortunate choice, because he had few of the qualities which make for leadership.

Sir James broke into politics late in life—too late to make any impression at Ottawa, where he has served for some years. His only notable achievement since he secured a seat among the two hundred and twenty-one gentlemen who make up the present House was the securing of Knighthood. Why he was so honored has never been explained to the satisfaction of the public. Certainly his grasp of public questions and his debating ability is not to be compared with that of men like Hon. Arthur Meighen or Dr. Michael Clark.

The disappearance of Sir James Aikins from public life, now that he has been rejected by the people of Manitoba, would not create any aching void. This is not said to be unkind. Sir James has not the equipment to make him an indispensable leader in the public life of the Dominion.
