PERTH CITIZEN DEAD

THE LATE JOHN GRAY CAMPBELL, AGED 80

Father of John Campbell and Mrs. John Macmillan, Kingston—A Sketch of His Career.

Perth Courier.

On Monday last, 16th inst., John Gray Campbell, of this town, passed through the portals of death to the great beyond after having lived many years beyond the time the great Hebrew ruler and moralist assigned to man as his stay upon this earth.

Born in the year 1826, in October, he had finished nearly his eighty ninth year when the final call came. He was a son of the late Mr. Peter or Patrick Campbell, who came from the historic Glen Lyon district in Perthshire, Scottish Highlands, and settled, with the township, pioneers, on the 6th concession of Bathurst, where he died and where deceased was buried. The grandfather, John Campbell, was the leader of the family in this immigration, but he died very early after his arrival, in 1838.

His mother, whose maiden name was Ann Gray, came from Bathurst, Scotland, and was a sister of the late Robert and George Gray, once well-known in Bathurst. All the family, on both branches, were sturdy Presbyterians and were staunch Liberals; and it was one of the proudest boasts of deceased that early in life he became an active supporter of the late Hon. Malcolm Cameron, and an eager worker in the elections where he was a successful candidate in this county far back in its political annals. A consistent Reformer he remained to the end of his days.

For many years back he kept each day's issue that came to him, and during this time unbroken files may be found among his records. Brought up on a farm he early drifted into lumbering, and operated in the work of getting out logs and timber in the Mississippi, Tay and Fall rivers, and other waters in the rear townships, and he knew every mile of territory where this business took him.

Among the mills leased and worked by him was that in the Chester neighborhood near Fallbrook, belonging to the late Mr. John Playfair, His son John M., of Kingston, took him and a company of friends in his car to this place one day this summer, and it was a great pleasure to him to revisit this scene of his earlier labors and to narrate reminiscences of his experiences here and elsewhere when strenuous endeavors were no difficult task for him.

UTILITIES COMMISSION

CONSIDERING THE STREET RAILWAY POWER QUESTION

To Have Another Conference—Commission Objects To Fire Underwriters' Statement About Waterworks Boilers.

The Utilities Commission has now before it all the reports it asked with reference to the cost of furnishing power to the Kingston Street Railway Company, and considered them at a special meeting on Friday afternoon. Its members want to give the company power at the lowest possible rate, but is confronted with some difficulties.

According to the old power agreement with the City Council, which has expired, the company received power for 1.20 cents, which included the cost of coal and attendance. No overhead charges were made. As power is now being produced somewhat cheaper, the above rate would be a little lower. The Hydro-Electric Commission reports that the cost of producing power is 2.13 cents a kilowatt hour. Prof. C. W. Burroughs, who made a report for the Utilities Commission, reports that the cost is 1.96 cents.

It was decided to submit copies of both reports to the Street Railway company, and another conference will likely be arranged between the Commission and company representatives.

Waterworks Boilers Sufficient.

The Commission takes issue with the report of the Canadian Fire Underwriters' Association with regard to the Waterworks boilers. The Underwriters' Inspector reported that they were insufficient for the engines. Prof. Burroughs who had just previously gone over the boilers, has reported that the inspector's findings are absurd, as they are not borne out by the facts. Mr. Birkett remarked that the full boiler capacity of the Waterworks did not require to be used. General Manager Fothergill objected to the sweeping findings of the Underwriters' Inspector, saying that they were incorrect. At the suggestion of Mr. Chown, the General Manager was instructed to prepare a statement in reply to the Underwriters' report and submit it at the next meeting. The opinion prevailed that the report should not be passed over, but that the Commission's objections should be recorded.

A Big Power Bill.

A. Davis & Sons objected to their electric account for July. It is issued under the new schedule of rates, and is very high. The bill amounted to $393 for 4,600 kilowatts. In June, the company's bill was only $69.55 for 3,740 kilowatts.

Manager Folger said that some other bills issued had been found to be lower than his. He expected that perhaps half a dozen of the large power users would object to their bills, but the rate charged was less than $25 a horse-power. The commission decided to wait till all the bills for the month were issued before taking action on them. Some readjustment will likely be made.

In order to have the new accounting system installed more rapidly the Commission instructed the General Manager to secure the services of the Hydro-Electric accounting expert at once to assist in the treasury office.
