Soap Is Bad For the Hair

Soap should be used very sparingly, if at all, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified coconut oil at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

SHELL CRISIS IS OVER

RUSSIA'S ARMY IS NOW IN FIGHTING CONDITION

While Seven Teutonic Armies Are Floundering in Fog and Mud, Being Prevented From Feeling Out Russian Positions:

London, Aug. 27.—The shell crisis in Russia is over, according to an announcement made by Chairman Shingareff, of the Duma Defence Committee, to the Daily Chronicle's Petrograd correspondent.

The quantity of munitions, the statement continues, has been more than doubled and all necessary supplies are going forward promptly. The Russian army is in splendid fighting condition, it is stated, and the machinery of the internal administration is gradually being adapted to the new conditions.

"The word 'evacuation,' says the correspondent of the Daily Chronicle, 'is losing its terror in the minds of the people, who are beginning to regard the idea of somewhat protracted mobility as a feasible military scheme.'

The Daily Mail's Petrograd correspondent also telegraphs in an optimistic vein. He says a new phase of the Russian operations is now beginning in which the Russians will have two useful Allies—namely, autumn mist and autumn mud.

"Already," says the correspondent, "seven Teutonic armies in many places are floundering through marshy districts where there is a thick fog in the morning and evening and where the rains are turning the roads into deep mud. Amid the lakes and bogs where the operations must now take place the Germans will find it difficult to move narrow causeways under the concentrated fire of the Russian artillery, which thus will be able to inflict terrible losses at small cost. The foggy weather will prevent the German airplanes from feeling out the Russian positions."

"An indication of what the Russians will do next is given in an official announcement that the time has come for the Russian armies to select a suitable position upon which to remain until it can be made to serve as a point of departure for a decisive advance. In other words, the Russians now plan to dig themselves into a fortified defensive front such as exists in the west."

MILLIONS IN ADVERTISING.

Britain Has Spent Huge Sums for Men and Money.

London, Aug. 27.—How many million dollars the British Government has spent in advertising during the first year of the war no expert accountant has yet had the facilities to estimate. It is a safe statement to make, however, that no nation ever spent one-tenth as much on printers' ink in the same period.

Kitchener's army has been raised chiefly by advertising. Full-page, half-page and smaller advertisements in the papers for daily occurrences. The billboards have been covered with the greatest variety of posters any advertiser ever had painted.

The recent big war loan, the largest in the history of governmental borrowings, was the occasion of another tremendous advertising campaign. Even the big advertisers who have contracts for the outside pages of the dailies were pushed into the advertising line. Mr. Bull could ask Britons to pour their savings into the nation's till.

Now there are signs of a third big advertising movement by Great Britain in its "thrill campaign." Already the posters are urging people to eat less meat, to eat more vegetables, to insist that each loaf of bread weighs two pounds, to report any dealer trying to sell a smaller loaf, and giving similar advice as to economical housekeeping.

Getting Along Smoothly.

It is well understood in the business world that a man's outward bearing has much to do with success or failure. A man otherwise excellently qualified may fall of a post because he has not learned the difficult art of getting on with his fellows. He is quick to take offence, perhaps, or is inconsiderate in speech, offending others. Surface courtesy is perhaps rightly distrusted; but gracious ways assumed for mere selfish ends in time defeat those very ends. In the give and take of every kindness under the sun, the brusque or the suave bearing. Yet it saves one many a hard knock to learn to elude displeasure, and to take example in self-control from the testiness of others. If for no deeper motive than self-protection the habit of getting on smoothly with a neighbor is worth cultivating. Said one man to another, "You never think of anyone but yourself." The other replied, laughing, "Don't tell on me, will you?" This retort humorous illustrates the "soft answer" of a proverb whose threatening phrase proves that its lesson is still unlearned.—Christian Science Monitor.

DECLINE OF FOOD PRICES

Statement Of the Labor Department Shows Improvement.

Ottawa, Aug. 27.—The Department of Labor has issued a review of war prices in Canada. It refers first to the fact that the beginning of 1914 showed an improvement over previous years, food prices having declined while financial conditions were improving, and goes on to describe the disturbance of all markets and industries by the outbreak of war. Tables of wholesale prices are presented, showing that from July, 1914, to July, 1915, the principal price increases were in the groups, grains and fodder, dairy products, miscellaneous foods, woollens, metals, building materials, drugs, chemicals, etc., the only great decrease appearing in raw furs. Fish, fruits, and vegetables and lumber also showed lower prices. In a table of retail prices the cost of a list of thirty foodstuffs shows a rise from $7.42 to $7.50, due chiefly to increases in flour, bread, rolled oats, tea, sugar, coffee, butter and cheese.

"Rentals," says the report, "show the greatest decline, more than offsetting the rise in food prices in the average for the Dominion."

VAUDEVILLE AT THE GRAND.

A Large Audience Present on Thursday Night.

The performance of vaudeville and pictures presented at the Grand Opera House last night was one of the best entertainments seen in the city for some time. A large audience was present, and all were thoroughly pleased. The feature picture was "Blanche Sweet in 'The Captive.'" This picture tells a beautiful romance of the Balkan war. The other pictures shown were a two-reel Universal photoplay, "A Prophet of the Hills," a comedy picture, "The Lady Doctor of Grizzly Gulch," the Famous Pathé colored pictures, and the Pathé Pictorial News pictures of the leading events in the present war.

The vaudeville consisted of Frank Montgomery, assisted by Florence McClain, in a budget of nonsense entitled "A Breeze From Broadway," embellished with singing and dancing. This act carries its own special scenery, and is one of the best that has appeared in Kingston for some time. It made a hit with the large audience.

The same bill will be shown tonight and also on Saturday afternoon and evening.

GREEN BARBED WIRE FOR ALLIED ARMIES

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 27.—Barbed wire painted a foliage green is now being manufactured here for use of the Allied armies in Europe. Barbed wire is ordinarily galvanized, but because of the scarcity and high spelter, a local manufacturer devised a scheme to paint it. Steel men say that reports from abroad show that at a short distance away it is impossible to see the green wire.

Denies Arabic Carried Gold.

Liverpool, Aug. 27.—The assertion in press despatch from Germany that the steamship Arabic carried gold on her last voyage called forth yesterday a reiterated denial from the White Star Company. It is stated that the Arabic had on board no specie whatever.

WAR BULLETINS.

Asia Minor and Syrian coasts from Samoa Island to the Egyptian frontier are blockaded by the Allies preparatory to landing Italian troops.
Premier Borden is now on his way home. Military necessity precluded previous reference to his departure.
Danger of a break by the United States with Germany is now over. Germany orders submarines to spare innocent travellers and will make reparation for murdered citizens.
Germany is alarmed over the cotton shortage as a consequence of the contraband declaration. German children are tearing up old rags to serve the purpose.
Another big aerial expedition was carried out by British French and Belgian aviators to Monthulst forest which they set afire.

Women troubled with constipation find Rexall Orderlies far superior to the usual harsh purgative. Sold only by Geo. W. Mahood, The Rexall Store, 10c, 25c and 50c boxes.

FOR FORTY-FOUR YEARS

Z. PREVOST HAS BEEN IN BUSINESS IN KINGSTON

And During All This Time He Has Occupied the One Store On Brock Street—Came Here From Montreal in 1868.

Forty-four years in business in Kingston, and all of that time in the one store, is the unique record of Zoticque Prevost, merchant tailor and clothier, of 55 Brock street.

Mr. Prevost is one of the oldest merchants in the city, and also one of the best-known. By his energy he worked up a good business, and there are many citizens who have had dealings with him continually for many years. He came here from Montreal in 1868, and three years later, opened up his shop on Brock street, and during this long term of service, he has not missed many days from his shop. Just recently he suffered quite a severe illness, but is now better. It is the wish of his host of friends that he will be long spared to continue his business. Mr. Prevost was born at Pointe Aux Tremble, near Montreal, and at the age of thirteen years moved to Montreal, receiving all of his education in his home town and Montreal. He loves Kingston, and says that there is no reason why it should not rank as one of the best places in Canada as a business centre.

Mr. Prevost was married in this city, and at the present time two of his sons are engaged with him in the business.

Mr. Prevost has been a constant reader of the Whig ever since he came to Kingston, and speaking to a Whig representative he said that it was a splendid newspaper. He is a great reader of both of the English and French newspapers, and is a keen follower of events.

J. J. C. Pelletier, Brock street, who conducts a store on Princess street, was for twenty years employed by Mr. Prevost as cutter. About a year ago he left Mr. Prevost to go into business for himself.

Of the old merchants of the city, Mr. Prevost made special reference to John McKeelvey and Richard Waldron.

FIRE CHIEF ARMSTRONG

Moved To Have Association Known As "Dominion" Association.

By an almost unanimous vote the fire chiefs attending the annual convention of the Provincial Fire Chiefs Association at Ottawa, decided to change the association in fact and name to a national association, and henceforth it will be officially known as the Dominion Fire Chiefs Association.

Acting-Secretary Chief Armstrong, Kingston, put the motion to widen the scope of the association. He said that in 1909 it had been the intention to change the name to make it Dominion-wide in name as well as in fact. The word "provincial" had slipped in some way or other when the constitution had been adopted. He said there were chiefs from Quebec and every province of Canada in the association. He, therefore, moved that the word "Dominion" be substituted for the word "Provincial," where that occurs in the constitution of the association.

Couple Fast On The Rocks.

Belleville Intelligence.
J. A. Nichols, caretaker of Gull Light House heard a crash and a call for help recently shortly after midnight. Upon investigation, he found a motor boat fast on the rocks and he hurriedly offered assistance. It appears that a bride and groom from Hamilton had started on their honeymoon journey by a motor boat and not being familiar with the lake, came too close to Gull Light. The bride was made quite comfortable in Mr. Nichols' quarters, while he and the groom removed most of the cargo from the boat before it could be freed. The pleasure seekers left about four o'clock that morning intending to make the Thousand Islands.

The Seven Stages.

Only a baby, kissed and caressed, Gently held to a mother's breast.
Only a child toddling alone, Brightening now its happy home.
Only a boy, trudging to school, Governed now by a sterner rule.
Only a youth living in dreams, Full of promise, life now seems.
Only a man battling with life, Shared in now by a loving wife.
Only a father burdened with care, Silver threads in dark brown hair.
Only a graybeard, toddling again, Growing old and full of pain.
Only a mound o'ergrown with grass, Dreams unrealised—rest at last.
