creased in the early afternoon, the weather having cleared somewhat, while waiting, after dinner, for some of the speakers, who were late in arriving, the crowd patronized the booths freely, and indulged in pleasant social intercourse, the ladies meanwhile preparing the table for supper.

The programme proper consisted of speeches and music, the addresses were of a high order, and sufficiently varied to keep up the interest to the very last.

The music was by Mr. James, and Miss Nellie Medcof, Holiford, who sang very acceptably. A duet appropriate to the time and place in the grove beside the lake, "Come Where the Lilies Bloom So Fair," sung without accompaniment, it was exceedingly well rendered.

After supper, when the sports were called on, there was time for only three events. The tug-of-war—Verona against the world, was won by the former.

The boys' potato race was won by Claude Percy and E. Vandewater. The baseball match between Verona and Oak Flats was won by Verona by 4 to 2.

Much to the regret of the committee on sports, the ladies walking race, the sack race, the bun-eating contest and the men's relay race had to be left out, as night came on too quickly. For those all suitable prizes were in waiting.

In his address on Education, Public School Inspector Truscott, urged as means to keep the children at school regularly, good school room accommodation, good equipment and an efficient teacher.

Death Of M. C. Smith. Napanee Express. Death occurred to an old time resident of Napanee in the person of M. C. Smith, of 1446 23rd Avenue, Oakland, Cal., on August 1st, 1915; aged eighty years. The deceased was the first to be called of the three children of the late Mathias Smith of Richmond, leaving to mourn his loss, Mrs. Margaret Brownson, of Duluth, and Jacob Smith, now residing on the old homestead. The deceased was married twice, his first wife being Miss Hester Hughes, twin sister of John Hughes, of Robin, Ont., the son, Louis, now living in Oakland, and a daughter, (Josephine.) Mrs. George Yerex, Picton, who recently made her father a prolonged visit, accompanied by her husband, George Yerex. His present wife, formerly Miss Emma Nis, Trenton, and their son, Morton, both reside in Oakland, Cal. It is likely to fool an American heiress when a foreign nobleman talks through his corset instead of his hat.

Gananoque

Aug. 28.—On her regular trip to Kingston yesterday the Britannia carried a fair crowd.

The last dance of the season of the Gananoque Yacht Club was held last evening, and drew a fair crowd. Miss Veda Miller, Brockville, spent yesterday with friends in town.

Recent visitors in Kingston were: Mr. and Mrs. J. Lattimore, Mrs. G. W. Pergau, Mrs. Lucy McCreedy and Mrs. J. Wadsworth. William Allen has returned from his camping trip up the back lakes. Miss Nellie Kirk has accepted a position in Hamilton. Mrs. Maurice Pleasant and daughter, Irene, Bennington, Vt., are at L. S. Knapp's, Arthur street. Miss Laura Ferris left for Toronto to visit her sister, Mrs. William Watson.

Miss Agnie Jensen and Mrs. Vaughan, Chicago, are at L. S. Knapp's. Mrs. George Pergau and Mrs. Lucy McCreedy, Lynn, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Lattimore, Stone street. Had Experience. Harvard Lampoon. The Co-ed—I don't see how you can read Chaucer so readily. The spelling is so queer.
