ON BARRIEFIELD HEIGHTS WITH THE OVERSEAS TROOPS

An evidence that the young unmarried men of the 3rd Division realize that they are needed on the firing line is shown in the fact that more of them are volunteering for service. Upon making enquiries at Barriefield camp, the Whig representative was informed by several of the officers that they notice a great change in the situation during the past month or so.

In some of the battalions which were mobilized in Canada, a very large percentage of the men had a wife and family. Lieut.-Col. Ketcheson, commanding officer of the 80th Battalion which is being mobilized at Barriefield, informs the Whig that out of the first eighteen men who reported at the camp grounds only three were married.

The married men who enlist are allowed a certain sum each month for the support of their wives and family if they have any. The more unmarried men who volunteer for service, the more money the Militia Department will be compelled to pay out.

The 80th Battalion promises to be one of the finest units in Canada. Although the order for mobilization was only given a few days ago, the troops have commenced to gather. In the course of a couple of days it is expected that the battalion will be about three hundred strong. When roll call was taken on Tuesday, thirty-four responded. Eighteen were privates, one was a sergeant while the remainder were officers.

A fatigue party composed of the men of the 59th Battalion was busy all day Tuesday putting up the tents so as to be in readiness when the 80th volunteers arrive.

The men of the permanent Ordnance Corps were busy on Tuesday issuing the camp material for the battalion.

A number of the officers who will likely be appointed to the new battalion are those who have qualified at the infantry school which has been held at the camp.

As a result of some military information appearing in papers outside of the city, which did not meet with the approval of high military officials, the "closure" has been placed on the officers at Barriefield camp.

The following appeared in camp orders on Tuesday—

"Attention is directed to paragraphs 35 and 36 of O. (Canada) relating to the communication of information of a military nature to the Press, commanding officers will take the necessary steps to ensure that the provisions of these regulations are thoroughly understood by all ranks under their command."

Although it is not denierly known it is generally believed that the information which caused the trouble, appeared in one of the Ottawa dailies, and was sent from Barriefield camp.

Norman Burns, son of "Jack" Burns, Queen street, who enlisted in the bugle band of the 59th Battalion, has been promoted to the rank of corporal.

His uncle is at the present time in England as a corporal of the 21st Battalion bugle band. Corporal Burns is at the present time in command of the 59th bugle band as drum-major. Blake has been promoted to senior position in the battalion.

Corpl. Burns was formerly connected with the bugle band of the 14th Regiment, but enlisted in the 14th home guard shortly after war was declared.

Some of the non-commissioned officers in charge of the Russians who have enlisted in the 59th Battalion experience considerable difficulty in getting the men to understand on account of them not knowing the language. Although an interpreter is used it is then sometimes difficult. Most of the Russians are attached to the base company. As fast as the men show that they know the work, they are attached to the companies.

On Tuesday afternoon the officer in charge of the base company had the men out on the parade ground instructing them in the art of bayonet fighting and in squad drill.

Col. T. D. R. Hemming left for Trenton on Tuesday to attend a big patriotic and recruiting meeting which is to be held in that town on Tuesday evening. He had two invitations for the same evening but as he promised to go to Trenton he had to decline the Brockville invitation. For the past few months Col. Hemming has been called upon, on many occasions to go out and sound the call for more men.

Capt. Wilgar, officer in command of No. 5 Company, Field Engineers, is talking on more men on the strength of that unit.

Col. G. H. Ogilvie is in command at Barriefield camp in the absence of Col. Hemming.

Complaints have been made by officers at the camp about young girls, and in some cases married women, who persist in hanging around the grounds. Although the guards try to keep them off the ground, they manage to slip in.

Few people realize the great work which the Y.M.C.A. authorities are doing in distributing writing material to soldiers, free of charge. The young man who is in charge of the "Y" post-office states that he gives out about one thousand sheets of writing paper each day. He considers that there are about seven hundred letters written on "Y" paper each day. Some days he sells over twenty dollars worth of stamps.

The Y.M.C.A. officials do a great deal of work of distributing the mail. It is brought from the city to the central office, which is situated on the grounds and the mail, which is marked care of the "Y", is taken over in large bags. The men seem to like to go to the big tent for the mail.

The officers of the 59th Battalion challenged the officers of camp staff to a rifle match at the ranges on Tuesday afternoon. The staff have "some" good shot but the overseas officers think they are also good.

Capt. W. Swaine, in charge of the musketry work at the camp, is kept on the jump all the time. On Tuesday afternoon he had a squad of men from the 8th C. M. H. at the small ranges. All the men are compelled to shoot at the small ranges before they get a chance at the hundred yards on the large ranges.

Capt. the Rev. G. I. Campbell was one of the marksmen at the ranges on Tuesday. Although he has had no experience with the rifle he is becoming quite proficient. Capt. Campbell is living with the men on the camp grounds.

Lieuts. Waddell, Huycke and J. L. Thompson, 59th Battalion, have left for Ottawa to take the musketry course.

On account of nearly all the men of the 8th C.M.H. being in Brockville, things were very quiet in their lines on Tuesday. Only enough men were left at the camp to keep things in shape. All the horses were taken along.

The men of the 32nd, 33rd and 34th Batteries, which have recently been mobilized, are anxiously waiting for the clothing to arrive. Some of the men who came to camp with some old clothes, thinking that the new issue would be on hand, are in need of garments.

Some citizens, who have been driving down the front road in vicinity of the Cartwright property must at the far end of the camp grounds have been very much surprised when they were held up by a military guard. The guard has been placed there for the purpose of getting any soldiers who might attempt to get into the camp grounds late at night without showing the proper pass.

Every camp in which soldiers are being trained for overseas service will be represented at the School of Cookery which opens at Barriefield camp on September 15th. Sergeant Kerrison, who is to be in command is making all arrangements so that no time will be lost when the military cooks arrive at the camp.

J. J. Graham, formerly Chief of Police at Nananoo, arrived at the camp on Tuesday, for the purpose of taking the officers' infantry course which is to be held for the next six weeks. Chief Graham, who was formerly a member of the Kingston police force, realizing that the call to service was urgent, has resigned his position and will go overseas as an infantry officer.

Another school of Infantry opened at Barriefield camp on Tuesday. The men who will take the course have arrived but will not get down to hard work for a day or so.

The sergeant of the military police of the 59th Battalion has been transferred to the 14th Home guard, doing duty at the fort.

At Tete de Pont Barracks. The officers and non-commissioned officers, who have been attending the Royal School of Artillery, will hold a smoker for the instructors on Wednesday evening at Tete de Pont Barracks.

The officers and non-commissioned officers, who have been attending the Royal School of Artillery, are busy at the Ontario hall writing their examinations, which will be completed on Wednesday evening. Field work will be carried on for the rest of the week.

Some of the non-commissioned officers of the R.C.H.A., who have been in Toronto attending the exhibition, have returned.

Winner Is Bereaved. Sad news awaited "Bob" Gamble, who, with his partner, won the capricious race from Prescott to Ottawa, when he arrived in Ottawa. It was to the effect that his nine-months-old daughter was seriously ill. The child passed away on Monday afternoon. On account of his bereavement, the reception planned by the Rideau Club to Gamble and Durand has been postponed.

The man of nerve may develop into a nervous wreck. Repentance must, as a rule, go ahead of reform.

COMING TO THE GRAND.

"Peg O' My Heart" For Thursday September 9th.

The delicious Irish wit of "Peg O' My Heart" booked to appear at the Grand Opera House on Thursday evening, Sept. 9th, is the kind one of ten reads about, but rarely meets face to face. It ripples, it scintillates, flashed like sunlight upon the stream, slips behind a cloud, with every promise of rain, and just as the tears are about to run over, the captivating brogue and irresistible humor, kindly in intent, comes to the surface and are welcomed with smiles and laughter. Not in years has the stage presented a character so lovable, so sincere, so human, so happy, so sorrowful, so sturdy, so boyish, so girlish in tenderness and sympathy as "Peg O' My Heart." The human qualities of "Peg O' My Heart" constitute its great charm.

"The Trail of the Lonesome Pine." "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" which appears at the Grand on Monday, September 13th, machine and night, is the story of big humans, big hearts, and big purposes, beyond all the wild spirit of feudalism there is the blue in the skies canoping the lonely rugged tree; the sweet spirit of June, and the iron willed, masterful Judah.

A most elaborate production has been given Eugent Walter's dramatization of John Fox Jr's wisely read book, and those who love June in the romance will be more than charmed with June of the stage and her presentation of the mountain heroine, who has already become enshrined in the hearts of a million book lovers.
