Charles Simpson enlisted after viewing Waldron's Store Window.

After looking at the patriotic display in the show windows of R. Waldron & Sons, Wellington street, Charles Simpson, a local market gardener, realized that it was his duty to enlist for overseas service. He waited upon Major E. C. Barrett, recruiting officer for the 80th Battalion, and signed up. He is married, but his wife realizes that her husband should go to the front.

Mr. Simpson has had some experience at cooking, and intends to take a course at the School of Cookery, which is to be held at Barrieffield Camp.

Waldron's window is thus an aid to recruiting.

VICTORY AN EMPTY ONE.

"To sum up, we may fairly say that while the Germans have prevailed, by sheer weight of guns and an immense cost to themselves, in forcing back the Russian front, nothing but barren territory and evacuated fortresses have been gained. Thus their strategy has clearly failed, and the victories they claim may only prove, as military history has so often demonstrated, to be defeats in disguise." (Lord Kitchener to the House of Lords.)

Windsor, Ont., Sept. 16.—William Respa, recently arrested on Bois Blanc Island for alleged complicity in dynamite plots on this side, was given his preliminary hearing before Magistrate Miers in Walkerville, and was committed for trial.

The prosecution surprised the prisoner by confronting him with Lefter, who was brought from the Ontario penitentiary. Lefter identified Respa, and implicated him in the conspiracy.

He also involved Albert Kaltschmidt, of Detroit, saying that after the Peabody explosion in Walkerville, Kaltschmidt expressed some disappointment that greater damage was not done, but declared "We will get the whole town yet, including the armouries."

The Crown is tightening the case against Kaltschmidt, and when extradition is again requested, the authorities feel sure Washington will surrender the man who is regarded as the chief dynamite conspirator.

WHAT HAVE YOU FOUND?

Nearly everyday somebody loses something—a watch, a pocketbook, a bunch of keys or any of a thousand other articles. In most cases these are found by somebody else. That "somebody" doesn't know who the article is being lost to. To assist them in finding the owners, and to help the owners get their goods back, is where a daily newspaper like the Whig—which everybody worth while reads, by the way—can be of use. We can introduce the lost article to the owner, the article can be returned, the word of thanks passed or the reward tendered. Best of all, we will henceforward do it for nothing, just as a little act of kindness to our 99,999 readers. So the next time you find a lost article, send along the facts to the Whig—without any money, mind you—and we'll do the rest.

GOT PIECE OF TORPEDO.

Allan Line Officials Can Prove German Attack.

Liverpool, Sept. 16.—A high official of the Allan Line declared positively to-day that the liner Hesperian was sunk by a torpedo and not by a mine as the Admiralty claims.

It was stated that Second Officer Richards of the Hesperian picked up a piece of the torpedo and that other fragments were secured by other members of the crew.

Work Of Ordnance Corps.

The Ordnance Corps, associated with No. 3 divisional area, Kingston, is regarded as one of the best regulated organizations in Canada and it is also most efficient in its work. The clothing department handles its work rapidly, and no uniform is kept on hand for more than twenty-four hours; the recruits are clothed as rapidly as the goods are received. Whatever reflection that may be on the Ordnance system it has no reference whatever to the third divisional staff.

To Re-erect High Building.

Watertown, N.Y., Sept. 16.—A ten-story office building will replace the Paddock and American Blocks at Arsenal street and Public Square, if the negotiations which were started between Frank W. Woolworth, head of the five and ten-cent syndicate, and the trustee of the Henry Keep Home, materialize. Plans for the building have been practically completed and will be carried out at once, provided Mr. Woolworth's offer is accepted.

Prize Court Makes Seizure of U. S. Goods

(Special to the Whig.)

London, Sept. 15.—Valuable cargoes on several ships bound from America to Copenhagen were seized by the Admiralty Prize Court in a judgment handed down to-day.

In delivering the judgment of the Prize Court, Sir Samuel Evans charged that a number of American shippers had attempted to evade the British blockade of Germany through false manifests and warned them that their acts would "weigh heavily against them in the future."

The value of goods confiscated is estimated at more than ten million dollars. American meat packers are the heaviest sufferers.

MAKES GOOD SHOWING

Company Benefits From Buying Cheap Cotton On Credit.

Montreal, Sept. 15.—The directors of the Dominion Textile Company have been presented with a statement covering the operations of the quarter which, under the conditions prevailing, is probably one of the most satisfactory ever put before the board. The good showing made was not due so much to the volume of business—although this has been improving steadily—as to the basis on which it was conducted.

The explanation of the manner in which the company has been able to get in on the cotton market reveals one of the many industrial situations which have developed as the result of the war conditions prevailing. When the market was demoralized, as the result of American exports being largely cut off, the price descended to low levels. Taking advantage of the conditions prevailing Textile bought substantially, and according to the Financial Post—the buying was done on capital advanced by the American banks, which were willing to back strong concerns in their buying campaigns in order to aid in restoring stability to the market.

Increase Its Output.

Hamilton, Ont., Sept. 15.—During the past week the Steel Company of Canada instead of making machinery which will increase the output of forgings by 50 per cent. So far the company has confined its operations to small shells, but work has now been commenced on the 60 pound shells.

Some weeks ago the plant was turning out over 10,000 forgings a day. The increase of 50 per cent. in capacity does not mean that the plant is now turning out 15,000 forgings a day, as the shells now being made are considerably larger than those turned out a few weeks ago.

In addition to 60-pound shells, the company has a contract to make 6-inch shells, which require 135 pounds of metal alone.

Beet Sugar Factory.

London, Sept. 15.—Ace K. Davis, local real estate broker acting for group of American capitalists, began negotiations with Industrial Commissioner Phillip relative to the erection of a large sugar beet factory, which would employ between 600 and 1,000 hands and would require some 20 acres of land. Concessions are sought from the city.

Renowned Nipissing Deal.

New York, Sept. 15.—Since its advance some weeks ago from 53-8 to as high as 71-2, Nipissing has been comparatively quiet, profit-taking sales causing a reaction to the present level. Advance was originally thought to be based on inside buying from sources acquainted with Nipissing's projected purchases of an important new silver property. In the regard it is understood that negotiations are proceeding slowly, and so far as is known, no hitch in the plan has yet occurred.

Goodrich Dividend Coming.

New York, Sept. 15.—The Moody Manual estimates earnings of the Goodrich Company for the present year at about ten per cent, as compared with five per cent. in 1915. It is suggested that these earnings forecast a dividend on the common stock in the near future.
