WRITES VERY ENTERTAININGLY FROM THE FRONT.

The Weather is Growing Wet And Cold—Major Duval, a Field Ambulance Officer, Dead—Baseball League in the Canadian Division.

"We are having a rather quiet time here now, and are in the same place we have been in since we moved from the Clivenchy region. We are expecting some more, but have not the slightest idea where it may be.

"The weather here is getting more and more like it was last winter on Salisbury Plain, wet and cold. However, our experience of last winter has prepared us somewhat for what may be to come. War, we are told, is never pleasant, and we are pleased when the weather is the worst feature of it, as it is now. We have had some hard times, but have come through pretty well.

"At present No. 1 Field Ambulance is rather blue, as we have just got word that Major Duval, one of our officers, who was wounded at Ypres, has just died. He was my tent-mate for some time. We all liked him very much. We came to face just such things as this, but when it comes right home to us, to our own corps, it does seem hard.

"We, who are from Kingston, are very pleased to hear any news from there. You would be surprised to see how we all follow what is going on in Kingston. We fully realize that the war is not by any means all fought here, but how much you people "behind the guns" are doing to make it possible and easy for us to be here.

"You will be interested to know of the baseball league here in the Canadian Division. It is divided into two sections, the winners of each section to play for the final decision. No. 1 Field Ambulance has played six, won six games, and has two to play. They fully expect to win the next two. Then they will be one of the two teams in the finals. That is not too bad a showing for a small corps like an ambulance, is it?

"You asked if there could be anything you people could send us. I cannot think of anything better than copies of the Whig and Standard. There are some of both coming in now, but they are not always there. They get round the front. Indeed, the folks at home seem wonderful in the way they think of our lads here. It certainly shows they are not forgotten. You may be sure that the lads here are not forgetting. I wish you could be along side some of the bivouacs at night to hear the discussions about the Limestone City.

"Our ambulance is still serving the trenches, as we have been steadily for two months. We have an advanced dressing station, where patients come from the aid posts which are immediately behind the trenches. Each battalion has its aid post, and we have bearers at each with wheeled stretchers ready to bring in any casualties to the advanced dressing station, where they are met with motor ambulances and brought to our main dressing station. From there they are taken by motor ambulance convoys to the clearing hospital. This sounds cumbersome, I know, but it is really a wonderful system, and has proved itself the best way of handling the wounded and sick that there ever has been in any war. The old methods would never have begun to cope with the demands in some of the operations we have seen. One can easily say that hundreds owe their lives to the immediate and thorough attention they were able to get."

THE BUSHY HOUSEWIFE.

What to cook and what to serve is often a vexatious question to the busy housewife. Variety is essential, but oftentimes the pressure of other duties leaves little time for thoughtful preparation. To be up and along this line, and also to offer many new ideas, has prompted the Whig to publish a Daily Menu. Read it to-day and every day on page four. Full menus for each meal are given, as well as details concerning the preparation of each. These articles have proved very helpful wherever published, and the Whig heartily commends this new feature to its women readers.

THE TAILORS' UNION

To Try And Make New Agreement With Employers. A meeting was held by the local tailors' union in Labor Hall on Monday night, and an address was delivered by the general organizer, James Waits, Toronto. The speaker dealt principally with the conditions of trade throughout Canada, and the necessity of a general organizing effort. The address was so appealing that some six or seven tailors who formerly held aloof from joining the ranks of the local union signed up, believing that in union there is strength. A label committee and an organizing committee were appointed. The union will ascertain what agreement can be arrived at between the employers and the employed. William Egge presided over the meeting.

Beautiful New Stock to Choose. Prevost, Brock street, has this year an extra fine assortment of tweeds, chevots and serges for his order clothing department. His ready-made clothing and gents' furnishing departments are well assorted with new goods.

A Heavy Rainfall. There was a very heavy rainfall around Harrowsmith and district on Monday night. Kingston had a light shower about four o'clock on Tuesday morning. At the Outer Station it is stated that there was a very heavy rainfall during the night.

DRUNK IN POLICE COURT.
Asked To Be Given Chance To Fight Germans.

"Please your honor, won't you let me enlist?" This is a question Magistrate Farrell has put to him almost every day in the Police Court now. Men gathered in for drunkenness grasp at this as a drowning man would a straw. Some really have the desire to cut out drinking and bring up, while others merely ask for this privilege with the hope that it will see them through to get their liberty.

Michael Ryan was before the Magistrate on Tuesday morning, charged with being drunk, and was taxed $1 and costs. He immediately asked for a chance to go to Barriefield camp.

"We will see about that," put in the Magistrate. Ryan, no doubt, would make a good soldier, and as the country needs men, he may be taken on. "Let me off Your Worship, and I will go right over to Barriefield and enlist," said a young man in the court a few days ago, for being drunk. He did brace up, and is now making good with one of the overseas battalions.

TELL THE CHILDREN.

Tell your boys and girls to turn to page four to-night and read the new feature the Whig has secured especially for them. "Sleepytime Tales." These are just the sort of bedtime stories all children delight in. They are interesting, wholesome, and instructive. The Whig hopes that its boy and girl readers will not miss any of these delightful tales.

No Gas Supply in Some Parts Of the City

From seven o'clock this morning until Friday evening the people living beyond Alfred street and north of Queen street will be without a supply of gas for cooking and lighting. It has been found necessary to make some repairs to the machinery of the big gas tank which has been in use for ten years, and the tank had to be emptied this morning, two fire engines being used to pump out the water. It is unfortunate that people who cook with gas only should be caught during a fruit and vegetable preserving week, but the gas plant people had to effect the repairs as soon as the trouble was discovered. Every consumer affected was notified Monday about the cut-off, and asked to make provision for heat and light for a few days.

Received a Bad Fracture. John Arden, the boy who was struck on Princess street by an automobile, Monday afternoon, received a very bad compound fracture of his left leg. The bone was thrust through the flesh. The injured lad's father is at present with the Canadian forces in France, and his mother is in England.

WITH THE BOWLERS.

The Trains in the Final Championship Game. W. M. Campbell is the skip of the team which will contend with the team skippered by J. M. Leckie for the Queen's Bowling Championship. Mr. Campbell's team has been doing exceptionally good work, and defeated J. M. Elliott's rink on Monday evening by a score of 23 to 11. The game was watched by one of the largest crowds of spectators that has yet attended a bowling match. Mr. Elliott bowled once and knocked the jack into the side where Mr. Campbell's rink had placed their bowls and this had a great bearing on the result as it gave Mr. Campbell's rink a lead of seven.

The three rinks in this interesting position in the semi-finals, including Mr. Elliott's rink which is now eliminated, are as follows:
O. O. Boyd, E. Williamson, Dr. E. H. Young and W. M. Campbell (skip)—23.
Prof. Day, R. H. Crooker, Dr. Buchanan and J. M. Elliott (skip)—11.
C. E. Taylor, Dr. A. E. Knapp, L. A. Zuffelt and J. M. Leckie (skip).
In the doubles Mr. Elliott was also defeated on Monday evening. The doubles were J. M. Elliott and W. J. Moore vs. A. A. Turcott and F. Crocker the result being a victory for the latter team by a score of 17 to 5.
