PAGE of NEWS

Londoners Are Only Curious With Zeppelins Overhead

Ilions Watch Huge Gas Bags up Above City and Far From Being Panic-stricken Are Only Made White-hot Mad-Attacks Only Boom Recruiting.

The following is a published description of a Zeppelin raid over the heart of London: Above the din of the orchestra there sweeps over the theatre a cavernous bass "Boom." "Zeppelin," whispers a pretty girl sitting next to a Scotch officer. "No," you hear him whisper. "It's a door banging." He's lying, and knows it. "Zerpelin."-

"Zeppelia," the whisper runs through the audien :e.

If you knew what was transpiring in the street you'd be out there, instead of waiting for the last act to end. Such a scene is being enacted out there as the old town of London, in all its rich, thousand years' history never beheld until Germany tried her

The curtain goe. down. You fil' out of the theatre into a crowded station. and traffic is at a standstill. A million quiet cries make a subjued roar. Seven million people of the biggest, city in the world stand gazing into the sky from the darkened streets. Here is the climax of the twentieth century. Among the stars floats a long. gaunt Zeppelin. It is dull yellow, the color of the moon. The long firgers of the searchlights, reaching up from the roofs of the city, are touching all sides of the death messenger with their white tips. Great booming sounds shake the city. They are Zeppelin bombs - falling - killing burning. Lesser noises-of sheeting -are nearer at hand, the noise of aerial guns sending shrappel into the

Fires and Battle

"For God': sake don't do that!" says one man to another who has just struck a match to light a cigarette. Whispers, low voices, run all through the streets. "There's a red light in the sky over there; our houses may be burning," exclaims a woman, clutching at a man's coat. "There are a million houses in London; why ours particularly?" he responds. group of men talking French stand gazing up from the street. They are in waiters' clothes and have rushed out from the supper room of one of the most luxurious hotels in the world. -"We've got it-it can't get away. There's shrapnel all around it."

"Oh-my neck!" says a pretty girl in evening wraps. "I can't look up a minute more." But she does. All about you are beautifully garbed women and men in evening clothes. "Oh's," "Ah's," and long-drawn out exclamations of admiration like the sounds made by holiday crowds watching fireworks, greet the brilliantly white flashes of shrapnel.

Suddenly you realize that the bigapparently near the great airship.

crowds. If the man up there in the of the enemy. sky think they are terrifying London they are wrong. They are only making England white-hot mad.

Brothers All the redness. You pass the old church battles to change tie lin of oper militant and whose conception of God carry their arms in the right hand, bound to become their tomb. We learn, in a side street. At the gateway ation during action. He attributed to is impersonal the Emperor's convict but never with the left, the reason besides, that the roads and the have guarded it for centuries past. "Yet one must have common sense. But it is nothing of the kind, as Mr. for a long distance, especially if food in the desert. But he's got a bigger job on his hands I cannot understand how generals can Sydney Brooks points out. To the several hundred soldiers' tayonets and "It is a plan to exterminate the statues. These have been erected in leader of the haka, a full-blooded than any of them ever had before. make mistakes; it is perhaps because English and the Germans God is a rifles clashed. To cut noise down to whole Armenian people, quite quietly. many of the towns throughout the Maori, wrote M.A., LL.D., after his The verger's white-haired wife stands they wish to act by inspiration. The different being. To the English "He a minimum troops during a night at- It is another kind of massacre, one of country. People drive nails into the name, and spoke better English than beside him. They are talking with most difficult thing is to guess the is the Lord God Almighty, a terrific tack never march in step. The steady a more terrible nature. Do not for statues, each nail costing roughly 25 many a white man. three girls such as never come into plans of the ene my to perceive the overshadowing being, feared and re rhythmic tramp of several hundred get that all men of from 20 to 45 cents, the proceeds usually going to the lives of church sextons except on truth in all the conflicting reports that vered, and kept in our private sanc- men would be heard for miles. Years of age are a the front. Those the Red Cross funds. The idea is nights like this. They are pointing you receive. It is like a fist fight, tuaries, to be appealed to in moments | 'Hard roads are avoided, and the of from 45 to 50 work for the military that the statue should be covered with out to the aged couple with cheaply The more one hits the better it is of profound grief or emotion, but cer soldiers march in broken step each transports. As to those who have paid nail armor, and there is scarcely a jewelled fingers the slowly fading yel- necessary, however, to study the map tainly no companion to our ordinary side of the road, on the grass, if post the regulation tax for exemption for German town of any importance Palace. A little while ago the King

GOTT STRAFE ENGLAND

The above reproduction is of a poster extensively used throughout Germany in connection with the "God punish England" madness. "From the illustration," says the London Tatler, "as will now be obvious to all, the German 'Gott' is the personage whom we regard as the Devil. This fully explains and justifies the Kaiser in his many references to the intimacy between the German 'Gott' and himself.".

ing of the story of to-night's Zeppelin | ed one iota by this Zeppelin raid that raid have crumbled into dust. They only ended in the loss of harmless typify London and England-unchang- lives. The next day recruiting tripled.

"The devils!" exclains one, and then How To Win Battles As Told By Napoleon

Brilliant Advice of the Greatest Soldier-Common Sense, Maps, "Mathematics and Constant Vigilance the Recipe

gest city in the world has been the of Napol on and select from it every mathematics; in a thousand circumnight battlefield on which seven mil- observation of the greatest of military stances mathematics will serve to rec- soldiers suddenly rose from the lion harmless men, women and child- geniuses that bears upon the art and tify ideas. Possibly I owe my success ren live. Here is war at the very science of war. Anybody can read heart of civilization, threatening all what Napoleon advises. There is to my mathematical ideas. A general the millions of things that human nothing manifestly obscure about his ought not to have too vivid an imaginhearts and human minds have created principles. If only one could read it, ation; that is worse than anything. in past centuries. Mourners to-night and then proceed to discomfit and de Because the eneny has captured an will leave the side of their dead to stroy the Germans. One naturally outpost it does not necessarily follow look into the sky fearfully. Little turns to those precepts that ar, col- that the entire army is there." children, who have said Now I lay lected under the head, "How to be a me down" and have gone to sleep, Great Captain." Napoleon was a great will be awakened and rushed into cel- captain, and he knew undoubtedly how he reduced to the possession of one which would have been its end." lars to save them from death. There one ought to act in order to be one. gift—to see the truth clearly, and even are more cries-"Good God, it's stag. He says in the first place that one in a talk to see through all the phases gering!" as a shrapnel flash breaks ought to make aggressive war. Napo- of a question to its base; a gift one leon recommends that the soldier who might think that has to be born in a What a roar of joy would go up aspires to be a great captain should man and cannot be acquired, even from the millions of this great city read and reread the maxims and cam- though all the military chronicles ever if they could suddenly see the yellow paigns of Alexander, Cæsar, Hannibal, written were read and digested. Nat- rying out a considerable number of object transformed into the flash of Gustavus Adolphus, Turenne, Eugene urally enough, he blamed his own retheir most important movementr unone gigantic explosion, little white and Frederick the Great. He fails to verses to hard luck and was unable der the protective cover of darkness. gloved hands clap their approval at mention Marlborough in this connector see that his enemies had any milithe Zeppelin's near approach to death; tion, though at another time he said tar, gifts at all. He asserted that which is becoming increasingly popuwhite teeth sparkle in smiles; men that Marlborough was the only Eng. Wellington was an ordinary man, who lar, and night fighting has developed roar with delight. These men and lish general he would consider fit to was merely prudent. He had an alibi into quite a science. All manner of women, flowers of the twentieth cen- cross a sword with. He insists that for every defeat. Of Waterloo, he said ingenious ruses are practiced to entury culture, have become elemental. there is nothing vague or mysterious that all failed whe. all had won. "It able large bodies of troops silently menians. "The misery of our people Dirty, bloody, battle-mad soldiers felt about the art of war. Its general prin- might have restored Europe." the same way in battle. Killing has ciples are unchanging, and most of been put into the hearts of these them have to do with the blunders

Experience no Teacher

Napoleon said it was remarkable

London to-night. Neither man nor were to this effect: "The time for a the Germans is above all things a tion being the usual marching formation to be the first of another. Hence there remains statues." Berlin has the most impost trically-driven turning plant. In many woman, neither good nor bad—just commander-in-chief to work is night very human comrade, a partaker of ation of "fours" put in two. Should only the aged and women and children ing one—a huge effigy of Hindenburg of the rooms at the different Royal human, outraged, mad, unwilling to If he uselessly fatigues himself during the common round to be resognized an alarm be sounded the troops can to exile. These unfortunate people The figure of Hindenburg himself is residences may be seen substantial, die. It is a miracle the great gas bag the day he is worn out at night. At in whatever is loved or enjoyed. He quickly conceal themselves each side have to pass through districts which no less than 33 feet high from the well made pieces of furniture that are Vittoris we were beaten because is also an intensely German deity, of a road, if they are marching at were reputed dangerous even in times soles of his mighty boots to the crown the handiwork of the King's carpenter. On the Plinth of "Chinese" Gordon's Joseph (Napoleon's brother) slept too peculiarly associated with the Ger the side of it, and they are far more of peace and where there was great of his colossal hat, and the statue All the packing cases in which the monument sits a soldier and a girl much. If I had slept the night of man soil, the supreme war lord and likely to escape detection than if they risk of being robbed. She is tracing invisible figures on the Eckmuhl I would never have executed guardian of the German nosts. The had to scamper noisily from the thorest of the German nosts. The had to scamper noisily from the thorest of the German nosts. The had to scamper noisily from the thorest of the German nosts. The had to scamper noisily from the thorest of the German nosts. The had to scamper noisily from the thorest of the German nosts. The had to scamper noisily from the thorest of the German nosts. The had to scamper noisily from the thorest of the German nosts. The had to scamper noisily from the thorest noisily from the stone pavement, his arm is about her; that wonderful manœuvre, which was German heart responds to Him even oughfare itself. When advancing where without cessation. Twelve, Ar- of the German St. Michael has been their Majesties and charitable instiher face is bent to his. Maybe they've the finest I ever made. I multiplied when the German intellect refuses to over country at night, troops, when menians were hanged at Caesarea on erected. Hamburgers are now spend tutions are also made in the workshop

A French colone has been at con- the rest is the gift of heaven. siderable pains to scan the literature be a good general one nut know Analyzes Himself

STRANGE GOD OF HUNS

seen this Zeppelin to-night, but just myself by my activity. A general-in relax its scepticism and refuses still ever poss ble, choose the direction of the charge of having obeyed instruction of th now she's listening to the old story chief ought not to sleet. The t ca. more sternly to be cause of 3,000 packing cases are turned Seventy-third Royal Highlanders, which in turn represented independent companies from Whig clans, raised between 1715 and 1745 to keep the peace of the Highlands. Each company wore the tartan of its commander, and most of these tartans such as that of the Campbells and Munroes, were of a dark character. Thus these companies gained the name of (in Gaelic "Freimdun Dhu," or Black Watch, as opposed to the "Leidman Diarag," or Red Soldiers. The title, "Royal Highlanders," was bestowed in 1758, and at that date, no clan having a prior claim to give a tartan to the whole, a new dark tartan was expressly designed, which has since been peculiar to the regiment. Like all British regiments, the honors gained were won in far-sundered places and embrace Martinique, orunna, Waterloc, Alma, Sebastopol, Lucknow, Ashanti, Tel-el-Kebir, Egypt, and Paardeburg, South Africa. Many of these battles were fought against foes which are now not merely friends, but comrades in arms, as witness Waterloo, Sebastopol, Lucknow, and, latest of all, Paardeburg.

MORAL GAIN BY WAR

Inspiring Interpretation by Most Famous Philosopher of France

As President of the Academie des Sciences Morales et Politiques, Henri Bergson, France's most dearly loved philosopher, delivered an address on the meaning of the war. He shows how, when Germany was working out her natural self-development, Prussia -an artificially-created State, not one of natural growth-introduced and succeeded in imposing on Germany her mechanical system of Government, her mechanical army, which strangled the free, human, development of the people. By the defeat of France in 1870-71, Bismarck induced the whole of Germany to accept Prussian materialism. In the great industrial development that followed, lust of conquest took a new form in the thirst for wealth. So came the desire to dominate the world, and the trust in material force to secure that end. The alliance between militarism and industrialism has made Germany ruthless and regardless of all rules in the conduct of the war. Wishing to strike at the enemy's industry and wealth, she was filled with the spirit of destruction, and to make the war short, in the interests of German comterrorizing the enemy population.

Such, says M. Bergson, is the explanation of the spectacle before, the world. "Barbarism reinforced by the capture of civilization." Humanity, physically enlarged enormously by the ad ance of the mechanical arts, was busy trying to fill up "the soulless void in the body politic by creating more liberty, more fraternity, more justice than the world has ever seen.' Then, in the person of Germany, brute force sought to usurp the place of moral force. But, says Bergson in a fine passage, great miracles then hap-To pened; moral forces suddenly revealearth," and "in a nation thought to be mortally divided against itself all became brothers in the space of a day. From that noment the issue of the conflict was not open to doubt." Great spiritual gains, Bergson is confident, will be the issue of the war, and the philosopher of the future will see "how humanity was saved by material His own great gift of generalship suffering from the moral downfall

NIGHT FIGHTING IS BEST

Owing to the havoc caused by modto advance across country and launch an unexpected attack on the enemy.

Turks Thought The Maoris Were Savage Cannibals

Von Teufel (to von Tirpitz): "Allow me to confer the Sulphur Cross upo your Excellency!" - "Westminster Gazette." London.

Scientists Of Britain Not German-Taught to be brought oversea to fight for the Mother Country, and having the spirit of their ancestors, do it well. Back

British Military Inventors Have Led Where Others Copied-Writer Pleads For Mobilization of Scientific Brains

The British Empire is mobilizing its initrates—and nitric acid is an essenindustries for the manufacture of tial ingredient in very explosive—the getting serious when the palisade shells. When shall we mobilize our German chemists produced their plant gates of the pah opened and a line scientists? asks a British writer. The by which nitrogen was extracted from of brown figures carrying gourds fillurgency of this question is emphasized | the air. by the news that the French Academy merce, she adopted all methods for of Science is in the closest possible touch with the French army. Officers inform the academy of new needs as by the Huns, but it is sheer nonsense. naively that both parties hitherto had they arise and submit questions for One of the most famous American mil- been enjoying themselves, and it solution. Thus in present conditions lionaires states that he has made an would be a pity if so small a matter wire entanglements are usually re- immense fortune out of British brains as lack of water should put a stop moved by a very clumsy process- and declares that the British are great- to what was really a most pleasant using high-explosive shell to tear down er inventors then all other nations. siege. Such a thing was unthinkable, their supports. It might be possible Sir William Ramsay recently showed There was abundance of water in the to devise some more effective scien- that the most rem rkable chemical in- pah for both besieged and besiegers. tific means of achieving this end. The ventions of the last few years were With further complimentary referpresent idea is to meet poisonous gas the achievements of Englishmen. by the issue of respirators. It would be better and quite as practicable to neutralize the asphyxiating gas with some other gas or vapor. To give an example, chlorine fumes would be rened. In place of choking vapor there would be a snowfall of a solid viscous substance, chlorine of sodium, or com-blockade interfered with the supply of been discovered.

Science Decides

British are inferior to the Germans in to arms, but the chief leading the scientific acquirements and inventive water-bearers smiled. He made a

We Show and Huns Learn

Europe to be equipped with the macontent with a tiny allowance of these hold their trenches with machine guns ing the night worked by half a dozen men, whereas The war is more and more becoming we are compelled to offer the German a matter of science. German scien- high-explosive shells a splendid target he has exchanged his old Tower mustists have given various kinds of as of many splendid lives. Britain led ket for the Mark II. Star L. E., with phyxiating gases and bombs charged the world in the adoption of the Dread- which he is a phenomenal shot. The with formaline and other choking nought type, and here again the Ger- Maoris started to Lig themselver in, fumes. They have turned out high mans merely copied us. The one real and made their bivouacs in an old explosives in gigantic quantities and German invention is the Zeppelin, and watercourse on the left flank. Then of relative stability. When the allied to this a reply could long since have the Paksha (white man) General

Latest Turkish Atrocities Show Deliberate Fiendish Plan .

A letter written by a man in Conmember of the British Parliament, dewas never greater. We now know with certainty that the Armenians The success of such tactics depends have been deported in a body from very largely on the silence with which all towns and villages in Cilicia to they are carried out. During night the desert regions south of Aleppo-Well might the allies despair of win- operations troops are strictly ferbid. The refugees have to traverse or foot that though he had fough; sixty battles ning or justifying their cause if they he knew no more when he finished were to accept the German Emperor's which is to say, across their shoulder. one to two (or even more) months The redness of a burning building than when he began. Casar, too, belief that God was always on his This is to prevent the muzzle of the before they can arrive at the remote fills the sky. The dome of historic fought his first battle like the last, side, says The New York Sun. To rifle glittering in the moonlight above point of the desert assigned to them St. Paul's cathedral looms up against He said that it was a great arc in people whose religious feeling is not the undergrowth. The men have to as their dwelling place, which is stands the old verger, half dressed. this principle, of which he claimed to tion, so constantly intimated, that the being that the bayonet is slung on Euphrates are strewn with corpses of It has been his duty for the past half be the discoverer, his victory at Mar. Almighty is with him and against his the left side, and the weapon would the exiles—and those who survive are century to guard against church engo. The simple t manœuvres were, enemies comes as a shock. It seems continually rattle against the raffe, and doomed to certain death, since they thieves and fires as other sextons in his opinion, the best. He added: insincere and wanting in reverence, cause a sound which could be heard will find neither houses, work, nor thoughts or actions." But, to quote sible, two columns of men occupying military service, they have either been which has not erected in some prom- had this workshop entirely refitted. brothers and sisters in the streets of His observations about general's Mr. Brooks, "the lieber Herr Gott of each side of the lieber herr Gott of each side of a meeting secretly held at Bucharest charity.

by the Trochak and Henchak Societies. In addition to this hanging 32 Maoris, privates and office.s, lined up. persons were condemned at Casarea With protruding tongues and a rhythto penalties varying from 10 to 15

"On the other hand, many have fallen from blows from clubs. Thirteen Armenians were killed on their way the beat of their feet echoed through from Chabine Karahissa to Sivas. Not the gullies of Gallipoli. The leader a house has been left without search, now declaimed fiercely, now his voice nor have the bishops' houses, the sank to an eerie whisper, still perchurches, and the schools. Hundreds feetly audible, and as he crouched low of women, young girls and even child to the ground so the men Lihind him ren thrown in the prisons. The churches and convents have been pillaged, defiled and distroyed. The vil- a sibilant hiss, a stamp of the right lages around. Van and Bitis have been pillaged, and their inhabitants put to slapping the hard ground the sword. All the inhabitants of Hara-Hissar were pitilessly massared, with the exception of a few tened to this blood-curdling screnade, children who are said to have escap- and one of them in explanation pro-

Hun Charity Statues

Colored Troops From New Zealand, Some of Them Collegebred, Puzzled Enemy When They Indulged in Old-time War Dance-Are Splendid Fighters.

An officer of the New Zealand coningent writes: "At Galipoli a group of men were sitting roun! the entrance to a dug-cut. In their midst squatted a Greek interpreter translating into very bad Englisi some of the news contained in a copy of the Constantinople newspape. Tanin. The article said: "Information is still lacking as to the composition of the enemy's forces, but it appears from indications received from Europe that they must consist chiefly of black men from Africa and Australia. Tisus the Straits for the first time in history have had to endure attac by cannibals." No wonder the listening Australians and New Zealander: laughed uproariously. The British force at Gallipoli had been strengthened by the arrival of the Maori contingent, direct descendants of most chivalrous and warlike ancestors, to whom the poaka-roa, or "long pig," as a human joint was termed, was a much esteemed delicacy. Nowadays the Maori, instead of fattening his slaves, spends his time, if he is ambitious, in getting his M.A. degree or in passing his accountancy examination's.

A Splendid Race

These men who landed at Gaba Tepe are the first Polynesian troops to be brought oversea to fight for the in the Maori wars their forebear warriors were besieged by British troops. The 65th Regiment, it was, sat Jown around the fortress gates and prepared to starve out the men inside the pah. The hikite peep, as the Maor's called the besieging regiment, ran out of water first, and the situation was ed with water approached the British trenches. Fearing a ruse the colonel There is an ill-founded idea that the of the 65th ordered his men to stand ness. This has been much exploited courteous speech, in which he said ences he took his leave, and the thirsty hikite peep, watched the brown The British army was the first in backs for a minut, or two in amazement and then buried their faces in chine gun and to grasp its value. Hav. the cool gourds. The next morning ing done this it stood still and was the pah was empty, and the garrison had walked out a back way through guns. The Germans ordered just be what had looked like an impassable fore the war 50,000 machine guns. The swamp. Only a few old women were result is that they are aften able to left to shout and .ake a noise dur-

While Morlems Shivered

Now the Maori fights with us, and came along and addressed them, and afterwards occurred a scane that has no counterpart ir the weird and varied annals of the Dardanelles. The mical slapping of hands on thighs and years of penal servitude. These are ending abruptly, they began the for the most part law-abiding mer- Maori haka-the war dance. Shrill and high the leader intoned the solo parts, and the chorus crashed out. As the dancers became more animated posed. Suddenly, after a concerted crash of voices, the chant ended with toot, and the detonation of palms A hundred yards away in the Turkish trenches perplexed Moslems Itsduced his copy of the Koran. Ominous nods and headshakings followed its reading. "For the first time in Many of the war charity schemes history the Straits have had to en-

Buckingham's Workshop

One of the finest carpenter's work-AVELY YESE.