GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

Vaudeville Programme for Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Elsie Janis in "Betty In Search of a Thrill" is the feature photoplay that the management of the Grand Opera House has secured for Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. The vaudeville includes the Honolulu Duo in a high class singing, dancing and musical act, that comes to the Grand highly recommended. Another good act has also been secured, making one of the best bills that will be seen in the city for some time.

Last evening a large audience witnessed the fine feature play, "The Puppet Crown." Peggy Worth, the singing comedienne, was applauded for her efforts, while the contortionist and aerial wonder scored a hit with her daring feats. The same bill will be given to-night.

Guy Brothers Minstrels.

This is the oldest minstrel organization before the public to-day, and George R. Guy, the proprietor and manager, was blacking his face in minstrelsy years before the present managers or performers thought of it, and he is not a "has been" yet, but a comedian up-to-the-minute. The show is as good as many and better than most, and it is patronized by the elite everywhere. Go and see the real first-class minstrel show at the Grand on Friday evening, October 1st.

MARRIED AT BOWMANVILLE.

A Former Kingston Girl Was the Bride.

A very pretty house wedding took place on Saturday at the home of the bride's parents, "Cragnaire," Bowmanville, when Alice MacTaggart, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Martin (formerly of Kingston), was united in marriage to Emerson Macgregor, B.A., B.Sc., of London, Ont., son of the Rev. James and Mrs. Macgregor, St. Andrew's Manse, Niagara. The ceremony was performed by the father of the groom in the presence of the family and a few intimate friends. Miss Helen Martin was her sister's bridesmaid, and the groomsmen were Captain Delaporte, Toronto. Mr. and Mrs. Macgregor left on the evening train for Toronto, and after a short honeymoon will go to their new home in London, Ont.

OF THE CHALMERS CHOIR BOX OF GIFTS

Which Reached Him—Caused Great Pleasure—People Asked to Send More Such Donations To the Soldiers.

The following extracts are from a letter from Col. A. E. Ross to Mrs. J. R. C. Dobbs referring to a box of gifts sent to the front during the summer. The welcome this box received will be of interest to the public, many of whom will be encouraged to send along gifts to the boys for Christmas. Col. Ross says: "I have the good news that your case of presents has arrived and in good shape. Everything was in order just as you packed it, a few pounds and one package of tobacco broken. The case came at noon (Sept. 12th) and by night I had a box packed and away to Capt. George Richardson for the men in the 2nd Battalion, and a bag away to the men in the 3rd Battery. They seem to have the largest (Kingston) representation at present. Then I gave some things to my own men. There are about thirty with me from Kingston, but I know they have been well looked after, so we are letting the most go out to the men of the other units."

"People always ask, 'What can I send you?' I will advise any enquirer to go ask the members of Chalmers choir. When I separated out the contents of the box, I had a pile of tobacco, a pile of candy (and from our experiences there are only two places where one can get candy, Canada and the United States) a pile of chewing gum, a pile of socks, a pile of underwear, a pile of handkerchiefs, some playing cards, whistles, safety razors, soap, not a thing missing that we needed. I felt like Santa Claus, and don't you forget it, the men enjoyed it, even to the jokes. 'The sweetest girl, the most beautiful' and the one who wants him to meet her 'alone by moonlight.' Talk all the love to Tommy you like, it won't hurt you and it makes his way pleasant. These little messages are almost sacred to him."

"How good to read the familiar names, Dr. Jordan, Mrs. Yule, Dan Couper, etc. Just think of those pipes and tobacco from Dr. Jordan, yet some say tobacco is 'defensive.' Then there is George Lee. I would like to know who 'Alice' and 'Mary' are! What fun you all had in the packing. Well you know that we all laughed and read the notes as if we were Christmas morning and we all had great pleasure in remembering it. How different to the experience of the Princess Pats who stood on parade for church service this morning as a Presbyterian Padre conducted the service. He asked them to sing a hymn of 16 verses omitting the 4th verse. From the 8th to the end, only gasps were to be heard!"

"Regarding horse ambulance, I am sorry any would try to block it, especially when they know so very little of what is required. I tore my coat and pocket at a game of baseball, so you will know how good those bats and balls you sent were to us. We patch with adhesive plaster, but it doesn't stand the wet very long. Later we start rugby."

Capt. George Richardson was also heard from regarding the distribution of the gifts sent on by Col. Ross, and expressing the warm appreciation of the recipients and the welcome with which they were received. The next box to Col. Ross will be shipped by the above choir in the course of two or three weeks so as to insure its arrival for Christmas. All friends of "the boys" in the city who would like to put in a gift, are heartily welcome to do so. The gift must be of an appropriate character, with full name, Christian name only, or initial of given name, and address. Every addition of a message of good cheer, affection or fun would surely be appreciated. The parcels can be handed to any member of Chalmers choir, or sent to the office of J. R. C. Dobbs, 41 Clarence street or the residence of R. H. Robinson, 234 Baitie street.

Didn't Know Fair Grounds.

Three Americans, who were in the city on Tuesday, started out on a street car to reach the Fair grounds, but instead landed up in Portsmouth. One of them inquired from the conductor if he knew where the exhibition grounds were. The conductor replied in the negative and the Americans had to content themselves with viewing the penitentiary and asylum.
