Col. Clark, A. D. of S and T. Ottawa, was in camp on Tuesday afternoon, and gave out the information that some of the horses of the 8th C. M. R. would be sent to the Riding Establishment of the Royal Military College, some to the 77th Battalion at Ottawa as officers' mounts, and the remainder to England.

In an interview with the Whig, Col. Clark said that he found the horses of the 8th C. M. R. in excellent condition. He explained where they were going to be shipped, and added that this distribution would take place in the immediate future. The Canadian militia authorities have purchased over 47,000 horses since the war broke out, and these are being used as chargers and for transports, etc. The British Government has purchased over 227,000 horses on this continent since the war broke out, although at present none are being secured in Canada. Col. Clark said that the prices had been very reasonable and the quality very fair.

"How would you like to face one of these things," was the remark on every side when the machine-guns of the 8th C. M. R. were given a try-out on the ranges on Tuesday afternoon. The four guns under Lieut. "Jack" Fraser's command were given a thorough work-out to see if they were properly made and in perfect condition for their work at the front. Several hundred rounds of ammunition were fired, and the guns were found to be in perfect condition and the men very highly trained.

stores of "C" Battery, vice Sergt. Akerley, promoted to take charge of the canteen.

"C" Battery has now 308 men on the nominal roll, including the men of the draft which leaves in a short time for the front.

Eight recruits arrived for the 59th Battalion on Tuesday.

MEN ARE GRAPPLING FOR BODIES OF THOSE ON SUNKEN SCHOONER.

A Close Watch Being Kept On Amherst Island For the Bodies Should They Be Washed Ashore.

A small piece of a spar, sticking up out of the water near Nut Island, is all that is left to tell the story of the terrible catastrophe, which occurred there on Sunday morning, when the schooner Cheyboygan foundered and five lives were lost.

On Wednesday, nothing further could be learned about the missing schooner, and it was felt for sure that the schooner, which went down was the Cheyboygan.

The Whig was in telephone communication with residents of Amherst Island on Wednesday forenoon, and it was stated that no further information was available.

It was stated that men were out in the vicinity of the wreck grappling for bodies. It is the general belief that the bodies will be floating in the water, and that they will come into shore. A close lookout is being kept for them.

"If the life boats had been put out, they could have lived in such a sea as that," said one islander to the Whig. "It was the worst wind storm that has occurred in this district in many years. The life boats would have been swamped before they could have been manned."

Members of the crew of the steamship Altha, which arrived in port, at noon on Wednesday, stated that on their trip to Kingston, with the loss of a glass, one lone spar could be seen at the point where it was reported the schooner Cheyboygan went down. According to their report, the schooner went down about two miles from shore.

Mrs. Joyner, wife of William Joyner, whose husband was on the ill-fated schooner, called at the Whig office on Wednesday morning, and was very anxious to secure particulars of the accident. She did not know where the schooner was going down until the news appeared on the Whig bulletin board, and it came as a great shock to her. Her husband just joined the crew on Saturday last, and this was his first trip.

Mrs. Joyner stated that her husband was a good swimmer, and she believed that he would have been able to save himself.

Lieut. Stagg, Kingston, who went to Polkstone, Eng., with a draft from the 59th Battalion, has been transferred to a telephone corps.

F. W. Coates, Kingston, was in Toronto for the funeral of his uncle, Samuel Nuthall.

Major Allan W. Stroud, who is recruiting for a squadron of cavalry to be mobilized at Toronto, was in camp on Tuesday, and reported that recruiting is going along splendidly. There are recruiting depots in several points in the division, and Kingston has contributed thirty men.

"You're next," said Capt. R. B. Richardson to the Whig representative on Tuesday afternoon. The Whig man had been told a number of things to do since going to the camp, but an order to roll up his sleeve to be inoculated was a new one. The injection does not seem to hurt at all, although Capt. Richardson said the effects are to make the patient feel "generally on the rough" for a day afterwards.

Pte. Sedrall, Canadian Army Dental Corps, arrived at Quebec on the 25th as an invalided soldier, but has not yet reported to the office of the A. D. M. S. at the camp.

The 33rd Battery was pretty well broken up on Tuesday afternoon. Fifteen of Major Sears' men, with Lieuts. Findlay, Elliott and Stevens, are taking a machine gun battery, fifteen are taking a course in signalling, and the same number a class in musketry.

Lieut. E. A. Godfrey, assistant adjutant of the 8th C. M. R., informed the Whig on Tuesday that a lady friend of his has donated a Persian cat to the regiment as a mascot. The regiment has now two odd mascots. One is the famous "Dave," whose breed is a mystery.

The dentists are now working on the drafts from the artillery units. The draft from the 59th Battalion have all had their teeth put into good condition.

Forty recruits are expected by Major R. F. Massie on Monday from Toronto for the 34th Battery. This squad will be remembered, volunteered to a man at a meeting held in Toronto, and addressed by the Major last week. A few men are arriving every day.

Major Plummer, Royal Military College, was in camp on Tuesday, and interviewed Lieut. Col. Clark, who was here on business in connection with the distribution of the horses of the 8th C. M. R.

Two baskets of grapes were donated to the 8th C. M. R. by a Kingston friend of the regiment on Tuesday, and Lieut. Godfrey wished in the name of the regiment to thank the donor.

Capt. A. W. Grey, 59th Battalion, was in Ottawa over the week-end, and returned to camp on Tuesday.

Lieuts. Faithful, Ottawa, and Fairbairn, Brockville, and forty-six recruits arrived in camp on Tuesday, and were taken on the strength of the 80th Battalion.

C. S. M. Blake, 59th Battalion, who has proved such a valuable man to that unit, has transferred to the 80th Battalion, and has been appointed sergeant-major. There are few soldiers at Barriefield Camp who deserve the promotion as does Sergt.-Major Blake. He worked hard with the recruits of the 59th Battalion, and is to a great extent responsible for their present splendid condition. He took charge of the organizing of the band, and has made it one of the best. He will prove a splendid addition to the instructional staff of the 80th Battalion, and his experience in several campaigns will make a valued addition when the battalion gets to the front.

The course in machine-gunnery started on Tuesday morning under Lieut. Graham, who but a short time ago returned from the front. Lieuts. H. M. Wanamaker, W. W. Stratton, G. S. Coward, C. H. Gladney and C. R. Widdifield are taking the course, and when qualified will instruct the 80th Battalion.

Major C. A. Low has been appointed regimental treasurer of the 80th Battalion.

Lieut. Crow is attached to the 59th Battalion for instruction and duty. Lieut. Crow was formerly with the C. P. R. Engineers at Parham.

Gr. Llewellyn has been appointed storeman in the quartermaster's

OPENING DAY OF FAIR

FINE EXHIBITION GIVEN BY THE 8TH C. M. R.

Of Military Field Events And Physical Exercises—Two Horse Races Were Contested Tuesday Afternoon.

Something out of the ordinary was placed on exhibition at the fair grounds Tuesday afternoon in connection with the Kingston Industrial Exhibition. This was the military sports by the 8th C. M. R., Barriefield, comprising bareback wrestling and tent pegging under the direction of Lieut. Ingledew, and physical exercises by the 59th Battalion, under the supervision of Lieut. Godson. No better exhibition of the kind has been seen here. To have a body of men so well trained physically as those of the 59th Battalion, reflects much credit upon Lieut. Godson. Rounds of applause were rendered from the enthusiastic spectators.

The horse racing included the 2.25 class for a purse of $120, and a contest between Judge Murphy's colts, in half mile heats, for a purse of $25.

Starter, Dr. George W. Bell; time-keeper, A. Beauracq; judges, X. E. Weller and F. Laidley.

A lively discussion ensued after the first heat in the 2.25 class race. C. Cole, the owner of "Winnie C.," from Cape Vincent, won the heat, and the judge announced that the time was 2.24 1/2. Mr. Cole objected to this time, because he had several men among the spectators, and they all declared that the heat was done in 2.30. The judge had the mistake rectified.

No balloon ascension was made. The guide poles set up from a local factory were only sixteen feet long, and they required to be twenty-one feet in length. New ones had to be spliced, and they were not on hand in time. The gas-pit was also not ready to inflate the balloon.

Grape-Nuts
 —Made in Canada— from whole wheat and malted barley—richly supplies these needed mineral elements and is a delicious dish served with cream or rich milk.

Grape-Nuts food is splendid for brain workers, and ideal for school children. Being partially pre-digested, it is quickly absorbed by the system—going directly to the up-building of sinew, brain and nerves without overloading the stomach.
