

Better Clothes and Better Service

Nine-tenths of the men of this country now wear Ready for Service Clothes. Two-thirds of these men wear the good kind of clothes, while the other third keep the cheap factories going.

It's only a question of time when the third last mentioned learns that it is poor economy to buy cheap clothes and then they will join the vast majority in the purchase of Good Clothes.

THE SORT OF CLOTHES WE SELL

We beg to make it understood that we do not handle the kind of the one-third wear, but we have everything in the good lines—Clothes that are a credit to maker and wear.

- Elegant Fall Suits, $15, $18 up to $22.
- Handsome Overcoats $12, $15, $18 up to $25
- Raincoats $8, $10, $12 up to $18

WALDRON'S

REVIEW HELD BY SIR SAM

Who Gave the Troops Some Good Advice.

KINGSTON WILL HAVE

ONLY THREE BATTERIES QUARTERED FOR WINTER.

So the Minister of Militia Told the Whig—"That is All You Are Going To Get." He Continued.

The Minister of Militia showed the soldiers at Barrieffield Camp on Wednesday morning that he knows when the soldiers are ready for the front and if they are not ready at a certain time he is to blame. He sees everything that is going on, and if necessary criticizes the most minute detail. Major-General Sir Sam does not like formality. He cares not a fig for carefully planned out arrangements, for, as he said, at the front movements cannot be carefully planned out two or three days in advance.

For years and years the marches past at Barrieffield Camp have been held on the western parade ground and the inspecting party took up a position under a huge Union Jack at the centre of the west side. Tuesday morning the ground was very muddy and the clouds above predicted a generous rain at any time. The Minister of Militia as usual did the unusual. He reversed the whole plan for the march past. He took a position at the south side of the field near the Gananoque road and had the troops drawn up before him there. Afterwards he rode to the centre of the field and ordered difficult movements performed. Instead of acting as an inspecting officer he gave orders for a variety of movements, all on the double and when, as he told the Whig later, the soldiers did splendidly it is indeed a compliment. The soldiers at Barrieffield Camp or anywhere for that matter never received such a grilling inspection. By the method adopted by the Minister, every man and every officer on parade had to show what he was capable of doing.

It was a case of act and act immediately and this combined with the fact that the ground was muddy and that the troops were doing something they had never been called on to do before, shows the strict way adopted by Sir Sam in his inspection. After the review he had the officers of the different units drawn up before him.

and he gave them a "heart-to-heart" talk. He told the men what was necessary for good results to be obtained when the front is reached and gave technical directions as to changes that he would suggest for the training of the men.

Interviewed by Whig. The Whig representative "cornered" Sir Sam as he was getting into his automobile to be driven to the city to see Principal Gordon of Queen's University.

"Do you know that you are riding in a Ford?" was the question put by the Whig man and the answer was characteristic. "I gave the boys in Ottawa some dope on that last night and you will get a despatch about what I said."

"What about the disposing of the soldiers during the winter?" the Whig reporter asked. "I gave the Whig Sir Sam queried Col. T. D. R. Hemming, who was standing near, as to what troops were coming to Kingston, and when he heard that there were three batteries he said that that was almost equal to a battalion. When reminded that the 21st Battalion was trained in Kingston, as well as the artillery last year, he said: "Well, that is all that you are going to get anyway."

The Minister, accompanied by Capt. Daly, Ottawa, Col. T. D. R. Hemming, Camp Commandant, and W. F. Nickle, M. P., drove to see Principal Gordon. The party returned to the camp for lunch, at the headquarters mess. After lunch the presentation of the colors to the 59th Battalion by Mrs. R. S. Waldron was planned. The Minister will dine with the officers of the 59th in the evening.

SPAIN TO REMAIN NEUTRAL.

King Hopes World Peace Will Be Signed in Madrid.

London, Oct. 5.—The Morning Post's correspondent at Madrid attributes the following statement to the Spanish Premier:

"Spain continues to observe neutrality respecting both belligerents, and places at the disposal of either group her diplomatic services should they be required. The neutrality will be preserved until the end of the war."

"It is Spain's desire to do everything possible to promote the cause of peace. No other nation has a greater right to exert that role. It is my hope, shared by the King, that the world peace will be signed at Madrid, an event which is not improbable."

JUSTICE LENNOX APPEALED

To Men to Enlist and For Money For Soldiers' Comforts.

After opening the autumn session of the High Court this afternoon, and referring the Suddard murder case to the Grand Jury, Justice Lennox made a strong appeal for men to enlist for overseas service. If men could not enlist it was their duty to give, and His Lordship invited juries, court officials and all others to contribute to the fund being raised to buy comforts for the men at the front.

The Court adjourned until ten o'clock Wednesday morning, as His Lordship desired to be present at Barrieffield Camp for the presentation of colors to the 59th Battalion. The Grand Jury will report on the Suddard case at that time.

GLAD TO SEE DENTISTS

After a Year Chewing on Army Rations.

James McDermott has received a letter from his son, Pte. Edward McDermott, who is attached to the Motor Transport Company with the First C. E. F. The letter is dated Sept. 20th, and in part says:

"There has been quite a shifting of officers on account of the new Canadian Army Corps being formed. There are some pretty fair dentists here now, and it is pretty near the time, as you may imagine the condition of a man's teeth after a year of army rations. They are kept very busy, and you can only get a part of a job done at one time."

Sandy In London.

Philadelphia Ledger. Sandy was spending his holidays in London, and whilst strolling down by the Thames was accosted by a boatman, who asked him if he would like to go for a row.

"How much is it?" Sandy asked. "A shilling an hour," he was told. "After a few minutes anxious thought he decided to have half an hour, so they accordingly set off. On their return, the wily Scot found, after looking at his watch, that they were away twenty minutes. "Hoots! ma man, ye've only given me twenty minutes," he said. "Oh, that's all right," said the boatman. "Your time shrinks in London, you know."

"I dinna ken that—and hoo much are ye charging for it?" "Sixpence, please," was the reply. "Sixpence, is it? Here ye are, then," said Sandy, handing the boatman a three-penny bit. "The boatman looked hard at it. "Want six pence, please," he said. "No, no, it was a sixpence when I gied it ye, but maybe money shrinks in London, ta."

Higher Economy.

Among the Japanese economy is held to be a high virtue. Two old misers of Tokio were one day discussing ways and means of saving. "I manage to make a fan last about twenty years," said one, "and this is my system: I don't wastefully open the whole fan and wave it carelessly. I open only one section at a time. That if good for about a year. Then I open the next, and so on until the fan is eventually used up." "Twenty years for a 'good fan' exclaimed the other. "What sinful extravagance! In my fan, we open a fan for two or three generations, and this is how we do it. We open the whole fan, but we don't wear it out by waving it. Oh, no! We hold it still, like this, under our nose, and wave our face."—Everybody's.

Ontario Tail-End.

Port Arthur, Ont., Oct. 5.—"Is Ontario to suffer the curse of the man who puts the bottle to his neighbor's lips?" asked Nellie McClung, in a public address, as she spoke of this province as being the tail-end among those driving the liquor traffic out and Manitoba being about to do so. Those who must have the liquor were looking to this province to supply it, and those who hoped to continue in the trade were coming here, said Mrs. McClung, who perceived more than any other single individual helped to deal the death blow to the traffic in Western Canada.

Might Try It Sometime.

"Your Honor," said the arrested chauffeur in a Chicago court. "I tried to warn the man, but the horn would not work." "Then why did you not s'aken speed, rather than run him down?" A light seemed to dawn upon the prisoner. "Gee Your Honor," he said, "That's one on me—I never thought of that."

To Send Gifts to Soldiers.

The local Union of Christian Endeavor has decided to send Christmas gifts to the Kingston soldiers at the front. They will be sent to Capt. H. E. Pense for distribution.

A NAPANEE BEQUEST

OF $1,000 TO THE KINGSTON GENERAL HOSPITAL.

Kingston Citizens, When Making Their Wills, Are Asked to Remember This Institution.

The meeting of the Board of Governors of the Kingston General Hospital on Monday afternoon was one of the most interesting held for a long time.

The report of the visiting governors brought up an interesting discussion of various matters connected with the management of the institution, while it is felt that the institution has made wonderful progress in the past, the desire is very strong with the Board of Governors that it should continue to grow and increase its fields of usefulness.

The matters brought up for discussion were referred to the Committee of Management, which will bring in a report at next meeting.

The Committee of Management reported that all preparations were being made, in the way of overhauling furnaces and looking after drains and storm windows for the comfort of the patients during the coming winter.

The Medical Superintendent reported that September had been a very busy month, a large number of patients having been treated.

The Management Committee reported that a communication had been received from Messrs. Harrington, Warner & Grange, solicitors for the estate of the late Harvey Warner, Napanee, stating that he had bequeathed $1,000 to the hospital, payable in four equal annual instalments of $250 each. This is the second bequest from citizens of Napanee, the other being from Mr. Thompson a few years ago for the same amount. The management hopes that some of our well-to-do Kingstonians will, when making their last will and testament, remember the work of the Kingston General Hospital.

The next meeting, the first Monday of November, will be the annual meeting, when the officers for the coming year will be elected and full reports of the different departments of the work be presented.

The visiting governors for the month are Prof. I. A. Martin and A. Shaw.

The members present were: A. F. Chown (chairman), R. E. Keen, B. W. Robertson, W. H. Macnee, Canon G. H. Grouet, Prof. I. A. Martin and F. G. Lockett.

"C" SQUADRON, C.M.R.

Recruited At Kingston By Major W. A. Stroud.

The officers appointed for "C" Squadron, Depot Regiment, have been confirmed as follows: Major W. Alan Stroud, 4th Hussars, Kingston; Capt. E. Campbell; Lieuts. M. Carey, R. D. Bardshaw and R. C. Suringham, 3rd Dragoons, Peterboro; Lieut. R. L. Sparks, 4th Hussars, Kingston.

The nominal roll shows an enlistment of thirty-nine men, and six officers and six men to be transferred from the Home Guard. The troops are:

Donald H. Kelly, Walter Fall, Edgar Hutton, Clayton Sarges, Herbert A. Karl, Frederick I. Anson, John Barnes, Harry Barnes, Harry Elmer, Herbert Conway, Fred Conway, William Shaw, Joseph Scanlon, Melville Reid, Lois Brown, Edward King, D. Dougherty, John Gallagher, Valentine S. Prouse, W. T. Mills, William Burns, George Asher, John D. Elmer, John Morris, Frank Black, Andrew Forsythe, H. Patton, H. Jamieson, N. J. Northmore, S. Holland, N. J. Holland, W. Byron, N. McQueen, M. Murray, James Hughes, Fred Atkinson, A. H. Nicholson, Soil Rosinen, Scammell.

HENS ON STRIKE.

Eggs Are Now Selling At 35 Cents a Dozen.

The hens are on strike. Storekeepers and housewives are complaining about the boost given in the price of eggs. Saturday they sold at thirty-five cents, and on Tuesday's market there was no change in the price reported. The cold weather is responsible for the supply dropping off. Old Probs had better send a message some more warm weather.

There is also a scarcity of potatoes. They are selling at 90 cents and $1 a bushel and at this price some dealers found it hard to get them on Tuesday. The wet weather was hard on the potato crop.

A deputation of Toronto labor men waited on the members of the Ontario Cabinet on Monday to protest against the closing of the Toronto bars at seven o'clock.

The times seems to be right to change it to read that money makes the automobiles go.
