Bishop Bidwell Hears of Death of His Nephew

The Bishop of Kingston has just received the sad news that his nephew Lieut. Claude Bidwell, eldest son of the Bishop's elder brother, A. S. Bidwell, of East Dereham, England, has been killed in France. Lieut. Bidwell was in business in London, England, at the outbreak of the war, and enlisted as a private in King's Shropshire Light Infantry, ultimately qualifying for a commission. He had only recently gone to France, and fell the first time he was in action. He was twenty-one years of age.

Death of Peter McCallum.
At the family residence in Gananoque, the death occurred on Wednesday of Peter McCallum, aged seventy-seven years. Deceased was born in Sunbury, where he resided until his marriage, when he took up his residence on a farm near Brewer's Mills, living there until four years ago, when he retired from active pursuits, and removed to Gananoque. Shortly after he suffered a stroke of apoplexy, from the effects of which he never recovered, although he was able to be about at times. Besides his wife, five sons and two daughters survive: Rev. J. Archibald McCallum, D.D., Philadelphia, Pa.; Dr. Samuel McCallum, Niagara Falls, Ont.; James F., a lawyer; Peter and Donald, real estate brokers, Winnipeg; Mrs. Jones, Vancouver, B.C.; and Elizabeth, residing at home. The late Mr. McCallum was a faithful member of the Presbyterian Church, and highly esteemed by all who knew him.

SERVICES WERE HELD IN SEVERAL CHURCHES ON THANKSGIVING DAY.

Union Worship in Sydenham Street Methodist, Cooke's Presbyterian, and the First Congregational.

The annual Thanksgiving services for the four Methodist churches in the city was held in Sydenham Street Church on Monday morning. Rev. A. Brown conducted the service, Rev. H. E. Curry offered prayer, Rev. G. Campbell read the lesson, and Rev. George S. Clendinning preached. Mr. Clendinning chose as his text Psalm cvii, 43, "Whoever is wise, and will observe these things, even they shall understand the loving kindness of the Lord." The speaker first referred to an article in an American paper which, in commenting on Canada's proclamation for Thanksgiving Day, asked the question as to what Canada had to be thankful for. In an optimistic way the speaker pointed out that Canada was thankful for the bountiful harvest, the conditions of prosperity, and, notwithstanding the war, the wonderful confidence of the people. Under the circumstances Canadians were thankful for the war.

Mr. Archer, of St. Andrew's Church, choir, gave a solo during the service.

St. James' Church.
Special harvest thanksgiving music was rendered by the choir of St. James' Church on Sunday. The program included the "Kneeling Te Deum," in which the solo parts were taken by Mrs. James Foster and Miss Esford; a jubilate from "Tours," an anthem, "Praise, O Praise Our God and King," in which the solo part was taken by Ernest Harris; an anthem from Apocrypha, "Every Sweet Smelling Tree," by West, in which the solo parts were taken by Mrs. Foster and John Tomkins.

Cooke's First Congregational.
Special Thanksgiving Day services were held in Cooke's and the First Congregational was a union service for the Baptists and the Congregationalists. Rev. John Lyall, Calvary Congregational Church, preached the sermon, and also assisting in the service were Rev. D. Laing, Rev. Mr. France and Rev. E. LeRoy Rice.

In his address, Rev. Mr. Lyall dealt with some of the things for which we ought to be grateful, and spoke from the passage of scripture, "Forget not all his benefits." He dwelt more particularly upon the cause for gratitude arising out of the recent progress of the war. A British Empire had been formed, linking the colonies to the Mother land.

At Cooke's Church, the sermon was preached by Rev. J. D. Boyd, who set forth, in a forceful discourse, the many reasons for thankfulness. During the service Miss Ada Ross-vear sang a solo.

St. George's Cathedral.
On Sunday special services of thanksgiving were held in St. George's Cathedral. At the Choral Eucharist at 11 a.m. the anthem in C, "Praise the Lord, ye Heavens Adore Him," was well rendered. The preacher in the morning was the Very Rev. Dean Starr, speaking on the text from Rev. xix, 17: "I saw an angel standing in the sun." He directed attention to the phrase "in the sun," in its sinister German significance, and in St. John's sublime conception of the divine presence in splendor, power and blessing. "The angel in the sun" is the Son of God Himself. This divine presence is seen in the majestic power and the varied and elusive beauties of nature which even the poet's versatility and facility of expression cannot fully give to us. Again, God's presence is seen in human experience as evidenced in Holy Writ and in the lives of even modern saints, and tested in the fire of affliction. Finally, God has made known his presence in history, in the vicissitudes of the Israelites, especially during the exile; and in modern times in the French Revolution—the eternal principles of Christian civilization emerging from national upheaval.

Two lessons are outstanding the necessity for taking a long view of history in order to see God's footstep across it; and also the necessity for taking a clear view of Christ in relation to the scheme of life—Christ supreme and transcendent, yet entering into the life of each and blessing it.

At Evensong, Stainer's anthem in G, "Ye Shall Dwell in the Land," was handled with considerable delicacy. Canon Gould, secretary of M. S. C. C., preached on the Crucifixion and its significance in the life of the individual and of the nation. His vivid description of the events immediately preceding and including the Crucifixion was very striking, the more so as it was evident that he was quite familiar with the city in which they took place, and could recall its various parts in review before his mind as he spoke. He ended his sermon with an appeal that nothing in the present time of distress would cause the people of the Canadian Church to forget or forsake her missionary work.

KHAKI CLUB CONCERT.

The Soldiers Were Entertained on Monday Evening.

A splendid concert was given to the soldiers in the Khaki Club building on Thanksgiving evening by a number of Kingstonsians who are interesting themselves in the soldiers' welfare. The concert was very well attended. Among those present were Mrs. G. H. O'Leary, Mrs. J. B. Carruthers, Mrs. W. F. Nickle, Miss L. Kirkpatrick, C. York M. Brownfield, E. Richardson, D and K. Carruthers. These ladies served refreshments to the soldiers. A number of officers and civilians were present, among them being Charles Harvey, who gave vocal selections. W. F. Nickle, M. P., spoke a few words to the men during the evening.

Charge Was Dismissed.
When Andrew Forsythe was arraigned in the Police Court on Tuesday morning he was charged with assaulting as well as using bad language towards one, Daniel M. Corrigan. Forsythe stoutly denied the charge which was dismissed by the Magistrate.

FOLLOWED JUDGE'S ADVICE.

Official Version Given of the Suddard Trial.

Some misunderstanding having arisen as to the proceedings at the trial of Albert Suddard, indicted for the murder of Mrs. Nancy Job, the following official version is submitted:

Prisoner's counsel relied on three grounds of defense: (1) That the accused did not kill Mrs. Job; (2) that if he did, he was insane; (3) that if not insane he was so under the influence of liquor that it did not amount to murder.

As to the two first defences, Justice Lennox charged strongly against the prisoner. He said that in his judgment there could be no doubt at all that the woman's death was caused by the act of the accused and that nobody else could have committed it. This, however, was purely a question of fact, and the jury should not accept the opinion of the Court unless it accorded with their own opinion after they had carefully weighed the evidence. The judge was even more emphatic as to the defense of insanity. He defined what is meant by insanity as a legal defense, and told the jury that he could not find any evidence that in his opinion pointed to, much less supported, a defence of insanity according to the legal meaning of insanity. Feebleness of mind was not insanity. There was no evidence to show the prisoner was in such a state, that he could not understand and appreciate his act.

As to the two first defences, therefore, set up, in the opinion of the court there was no ground for an acquittal.

As to the defence of intoxication however, his Lordship told the jury that there was ample evidence, if they accepted it, to show the prisoner was so under the influence of liquor he had drunk during the evening that he did not know that what he was doing was dangerous or likely to cause serious personal injury, and if the jury came to the conclusion that this was the condition of the prisoner as a matter of fact then they ought not to find him guilty of murder, but of manslaughter only.

CAPT. GOODWIN HERE.

But He May Soon Return To The Front.
Capt. L. F. Goodwin, (formerly Guttman), who was sent out from England on special business, is in the city from Ottawa, for a short time, and had a very busy time on Tuesday renewing old friends and acquaintances. He is feeling fine and is ready to get back to the front just as soon as the War Office wants him to go. For the four months, prior to his receiving orders to come to Canada, he was at the front in France.

Veterans' Association.
There was an unusually large attendance at the meeting of the Kingston Veterans' Association held on Monday evening. Lieut. F. Ingledew presided. Dr. Evans presented a report of the work of the Veterans Reserve Corps and explained its organization, songs, recitations and addresses by Col. Spenser, H. Crothers, C. E. Davidson and a number of others entertained the members, the remainder of the evening. There are now seventy-five names on the roll of the Reserve Corps.

Band Awarded Prize.
At the demonstration held in Belleville on July 13th, a prize was offered for the best band taking part. The 14th Regiment band, of Kingston, was present, but was under strength. However, the band made such a splendid showing that the judges decided to award it a special prize. The prize a fine music stand, was received by the bandmaster, Edward Hunt, on Tuesday morning.

Important Change of Time.

"Till the Boys Come Home," a Boy's Production, Is New British Song

Ivor Novello, Who Composed the Air Which Rivals "Tipperary" in the Affections of Tommy Atkins, Is but Twenty Years Old.

(Special to the Herald)
Herald Bureau,
No. 130 Fleet Street,
London, Sept. 22.

High up in a pretty flat over the Strand Theatre lives Ivor Novello, the twenty-year-old young man who composed "Till the Boys Come Home," which is certainly the most popular war air here since "Tipperary." For months the men in khaki have sung it as they swing through the streets and lanes; no concert is complete without it, every office boy whistles it and recruiting bands blare it forth and the few Italian street organs that remain grind it out with variations.

It is not a ballad to fire the martial spirit, but rather a reminder of home set to a swinging yet most touching melody. Here are the words of the chorus:

"Keep the home fires burning,
While your hearts are yearning,
Though your lads are far away
They dream of home.
There's a silver lining

What Caused Panama Slide.

Capt. Connell, San Francisco, who recently spent a few days in the city is still at New York and with the Panama Canal out of business. On the eastbound trip he was delayed a couple of days by the trouble in explaining it he said that there is a cut through rotten or loose rock, for some five miles at Culebra. It is 300 feet wide and at places 60 feet deep. There should be 40 feet of water. There is a constant dribble of earth and rock down the sides with occasional large slides. Then again it fills up from the bottom just as our sink holes on railways press down in one place and up at another. The biggest dredges are constantly employed in keeping the waterway open but in spite of them the canal is now closed and may not be open this year.
