WALDRON'S

THE QUEEN'S FRESHMEN

WERE THOROUGHLY INITIATED ON THURSDAY MORNING.

They Were Decorated After a Campus Fight — Officers' Training Corps Is Being Organized.

On Tuesday a meeting of Arts '18 was held and a proclamation sent to the freshmen year Arts '19, and this was the origin of the annual "rush" that began on the lower campus on Thursday morning, and ended on Princess street with the freshmen, very gorgeously decorated, riding on wagons.

About 9.30 o'clock Thursday morning the sophomores and freshmen lined up on the lower campus, and for over half an hour there was battle royal. The freshmen were about sixty strong, and there are certainly some sturdy specimens in their ranks. The fight went on, both sides gaining minor victories for a minutes, until at last the organization of the seniors men counted and the freshmen were thoroughly defeated. They were tied and placed in a circle and the scheduled programme was carried out, without a hitch. Fly-paper as hair decoration, flour to whiten their clothes, and shoe-polish to decorate their faces were soon on the scene, and in a very few minutes the difference between the seniors and juniors could be seen.

After their shoes had been taken off, the freshmen were untied and had to face a battery of cameras. After cheers had been given by both sides, the initiated freshmen were driven in wagons through the principal streets.

One student had his thumb broken and another is in hospital from a kick in the stomach as a result of the rush.

Other Queen's News.

The work of organizing Queen's University Officers' Training Corps is progressing rapidly, the captains of the different companies arranging meetings to stimulate the interest. The students are enlisting in large numbers, and a large turnout is expected when the nominal roll is complete. Capt. Klugh, O. C. "D" Company, has called a meeting for Saturday, and other companies are holding meetings at different times.

A meeting of organization of the Students' Volunteer Band for Foreign Mission work has been called for Friday afternoon by the leader, J. H. Barry.

Russian Aid The Minute It Is Available

(Special to the Whig.) London, Oct. 14.—Russian troops' co-operation with the other Allied forces in the Balkans was promised by Foreign Minister Grey in the House of Commons this morning "the minute they are available."

It was supposed he meant as soon as a road was available for getting the Russians to the fighting zone.

THREE OF TRAVERS' SONS
Are Fighting For Their King and Country.

Toronto Globe.

W. R. Travers is back home in Toronto "after paying the price" for his connection with the Farmers' Bank. He had little to say to the newspapermen. He brightened up and talked a little, however, when mention was made of his sons. Three of them are at the front fighting.

"Two of them," stated the father, who wears a Fenian Raid medal himself, "have come through four battles without a scratch. One of them was Manager of the Crown Bank at Napanee and he enlisted. "That's the one who is a Lieutenant. The two others are fighting side by side in the same company."

Mr. Travers added that his wife had received a letter from Richard Reid, Agent-General for Ontario in London, stating that his sons had done heroic service.

Mr. Travers said that he was feeling fit, although he has aged considerably. He had absolutely no baggage and said he had just $1.00 in his pockets—"what they give all graduates of Kingston, except those of Queen's University, to save them from being arrested as 'vags.'"

The feature photo-play booked to the Strand for Thursday, Friday and Saturday is entitled "Jewel," from the famous novel of the same name by Clara Louise Burnham. It is in five charming parts, and features the cameo of the film's sweet "Ella Hall," a child's play for grown-ups, a grown-up's play for children—dainty, sweet, humorous, tense, strong, a mixture of smiles and tears; a masterful production depicting the highest ideals of right thinking. Other good photo-plays will also be shown. Don't miss this bill. It will sure please.

WHIG TOBACCO FUND FIRE AT PORTSMOUTH

THANKS SENT TO POSTMASTER STEWART.

There Are Still Collection Books at the Whig Office—The Men At the Front Are In Need Of Encouragement.

Postmaster Stewart has received a letter of acknowledgement from Evelyn Wrench, London, Eng., the Honorary Secretary and Organizer of the Overseas Club. The Kingston postmen collected considerable money for the Tobacco Fund which is conducted under the auspices of the Overseas Club. In regard to these contributions Mr. Wrench writes as follows to the Postmaster:

"Please accept my warm thanks for the contribution of $57.85, your district has so generously made to our Tobacco Fund. Perhaps you would be good enough to display this letter so that those on your list may know their subscriptions are sincerely appreciated.

"Your Canadian ads have done magnificently at the front, and here in London we are extremely proud of the splendid courage and intrepidity of our men at the front. I hope you will continue the good work. We must keep on sending them smokes, mustn't we?"

The collections made by the Postmen referred to in this letter were acknowledged some time ago in the columns of the Whig. There is still work for other energetic collectors to do, and collection books await them at the Whig Office. There is a lot of hard work ahead of the Canadians yet, alike in France, the Dardanelles and the Balkans. They will need every encouragement and intrepidity to do their share of the work. Their hours of relaxation can be brightened by sending them tobacco and cigarettes, by all means let us do it. Every donation sent to the Whig will be acknowledged in the paper free of charge.

FRAME DWELLING WAS DAMAGED THURSDAY MORNING.

Chief Armstrong and Some of His Men Given Permission to Fight the Blaze—Good Work of Chemical Extinguishers.

Chief James Armstrong and some of his fire-fighters were called upon to make a run to Portsmouth on Thursday morning for a fire. A telephone message at 9 o'clock told of a blaze in a couple of two-and-a-half-story frame dwellings, owned by Mr. Westlake. One is occupied by William Kirby, the other being vacant.

Ald. O'Connor, chairman of the Fire and Light Committee, gave the chief and his men permission to go to the village. Previous to the arrival of the firemen, chemical extinguishers had been secured from Rockwood Hospital, and every effort was made to check the blaze.

Extinguishers were also brought from Newcourt, and with a combined effort the fire was confined to the roof and the second floor. A portion of the roof had to be chopped away. The firemen from No. 2 station made the trip to the village. The damage will not be very great.

During the progress of the fire Chief Armstrong suffered a nasty cut on one of his fingers. The wound was dressed by Dr. E. Ryan.

This was the first call the firemen have had in several weeks.
