On Barrieffield Heights With Overseas Troops

Recruits are being received every day for the batteries at the camp, taking the places of those who recently left for the front and are now on the ocean. Sergt. Thompson, the well-known policeman of Belleville, brought down seven recruits on Thursday. Five of them came from Campbellford, and all are Canadians of the finest type. They all are intelligent and splendidly built men and will be a credit to the 33rd Battery. Among the other recruits secured for Mayor Sears' battery on Thursday was Michael Cole who was two years on the South African Cape Mounted Police. Another was James Breakell, a saddler from Gananoque. Lieut. Hamilton reports that he has already secured thirteen recruits at Peterboro and expects at least a dozen more by Monday for the 33rd Battery.

Another 33rd Battery recruit is "Jack" the son of J. W. Johnston, M.P.P., Belleville.

Five recruits arrived on Thursday and five on Wednesday for the 34th Battery bringing the total number of recruits since the draft left up to twenty.

No recruits arrived on Thursday for the 32nd Battery.

The strength of the three batteries is as follows, 32nd, 104; 33rd, 118 and 34th, 135.

The team that will play against the Army team from Niagara camp on a week from Saturday will be the same as that which will line up against the cadets of The Royal Military College on Saturday. A signal practise of the team was held on Thursday evening and the players showed up splendidly. The men on the team are confident of defeating the Niagara team in the Toronto game.

Maj. R. F. Massie, O.C., 34th Battery is expected to arrive back in camp on Friday from Toronto here he has been recruiting for the battery.

Major S.A. McKenzie is spending a few days in Gananoque.

There are now 110 men in "C" squadron, Depot, C.M.R., under Major Stroud at camp. Lieut. R.L. Sparks is acting adjutant and Lieut. Bradshaw is acting quartermaster. Lieut. Bradshaw on Thursday issued clothing to a portion of the men. The other officers of the squadron are Capt. Campbell and Lieuts. Burlington and Carey. Lieuts. Uglov, Ottawa and Stevens of Montreal who were for a time with the 8th C.M.R. have been attached for duty as have also Lieuts. H. Ormond and S. M. Duncan, 5th P.L.D.G., Ottawa.

Major W. Allan Stroud, O. C. "C" squadron, C.M.R., arrived back from Toronto on Thursday.

Pte. Guirey, Army Service Corps on Thursday afternoon fell and cut his knee on a rock, making a deep cut which required nine double stitches by Capt. R. B. Richardson to close the wound. He was rushed to the General Hospital after the operation.

H. Walker, Y.M.C.A., while handling an orangeade bottle cut the bone, severing the tendons. Major Alger, M.O., 80th Battalion, and Capt. Richardson dressed the wound.

J. Holway, cook for the Y.M.C.A. cut a deep gash in his finger on Thursday and was treated at the Field Hospital.

Pte. C. A. Macpherson, 59th Battalion, received a telegram from Lindsay on Thursday which read: "Come home; a son."

Twenty men and the band of the 59th Battalion left on Thursday to join the battalion at Morton House where the battalion spent Wednesday night. Thursday night the battalion bivouaced at Harrowsmith and is expected to return to the camp at 5 p.m. Friday. The departure from Harrowsmith was planned for 10 a.m. Friday.

There are 1,019 men of the 59th Battalion on the route-march, with a detail of 115 men under Lieut. A. G. Scott who is recovering from operation at the camp.

H. Kelly, of the orderly room staff of the 59th Battalion, is in Peterboro on leave. He was married on Friday morning to a Peterboro lady.

"Mac", the big British bull mascot of the 34th Battery, is evidently enjoying the camp life. He has a more or less quiet disposition when not bothered with, but according to reports he takes a violent objection to being forced off the beds of the officers. His headquarters are usually in Major Massie's tent, but anywhere is home to him.

Q. M. S. Boss, C. M. S. C., gave a lecture to the N.C.O.'s of the 39th Battalion on Kit inspection on Thursday evening.

CHURCH IS ADVANCING
 IN ITS WORK IN JAPAN, SAYS BISHOP HAMILTON

The Greatest Need At the Present Time is For More Workers—The Opportunities For Service Are Many He Declared.

That the church was making progress in Japan, was the encouraging report that Bishop Hamilton, of Japan, gave in his address at St. George's Hall, on Thursday evening. While the progress could not be regarded as rapid, still a great deal was being accomplished, and this in spite of the very small number of workers. "If we could only get more workers," he said, "we could do so much more." Bishop Hamilton made a strong plea for more men and women to help in the work of carrying the gospel message among the Japanese.

Bishop Bidwell presided at the meeting, which was fairly well attended. Bishop Hamilton is a most entertaining speaker, and his talk on his work among the Japanese and his story of the manner in which the Christian work was received, was most interesting. At the close, he was tendered a very hearty vote of thanks on motion of Bishop Mills, who stated that the address had been both instructive and interesting.

Bishop Hamilton said that the opposition to the Christian religion, which was so strong a few years ago, was fast dying out in Japan. Everywhere the people were giving their attention to the call. This fact was established in the Sunday schools of the Canadian diocese, where there were 3,200 children and of which number not more than 200 came from Christian homes.

The people appeared to be quite willing to allow the children to attend these Christian services. The opportunities for work among the people were many, and the readiness with which the people regarded the message, was a feature of the work. More workers was the great need.

"I hold that we are making progress," said the speaker. "This growth of Christian influence shows that we are making progress, and that the progress cannot be judged alone by the number of converts."

Bishop Hamilton spoke at some length on the growth of Japan as a manufacturing country. Japan, he said, was developing into one of the greatest manufacturing countries of the world the supplying of the great east.
