IRON STEALING CASE

HEARD AT NAPANEE—THE ACCUSED COMMITTED.

Frank Peacock Disappears From Home—Napanee Raised $1,700 for British Red Cross Fund.

(From Our Own Correspondent.) Napanee, Oct. 22.—In the Police Court yesterday, before Magistrate Rankin, Hymen Gross, Toronto, appeared on a remand, charged with stealing a quantity of scrap iron from the Dominion Bank in Toronto on August 25th.

C. A. Walters, local manager of the Seymour Power Company, gave evidence to the effect that Gross was with Ellenson when he sold the iron to him, and that $5 was paid on account.

E. Kelly, a teamster, testified that Ellenson had hired him to take away this iron, and paid him part of his charges, and that he thought they were partners, as Gross had paid him the balance of his account when he came to ship the iron.

Robert Blackader said Ellenson had hired him to break up the iron and help load it, and that Gross was with him at the time. Ellenson paid him for his work.

Roy McClain, station agent for the Canadian Northern Railway, produced the shipping bill relating to the iron in question, and signed by one M. Bergstein.

After hearing the arguments of the opposing counsel, the Magistrate decided to commit the accused for trial, bail being allowed in three sureties $50 for himself, $250 by his sister-in-law, Miss M. Wuom, and $250 by A. Nesbitt.

The firemen were given a run yesterday about noon by an alarm of fire sent in from the residence of H. M. DeRoche, Crown Attorney, who is ill in bed.

Frank Peacock, an elderly man, who was engaged in teaming and doing odd jobs around town with a team. He got up last Monday morning about half-past four, and fed his team, and then ate his breakfast and left the house, presumably to finish a job of plowing on which he was engaged.

Latest Thing in Male Fashion Is "Prosperity Overcoat." New York, Oct. 23.—Women will no longer have a monopoly of the art of beautifying themselves with clothes. The turn of mere man has come.

The latest thing in male fashion is an overcoat to be known as the "Prosperity overcoat." It will be made of smooth cloth, only 37 inches long, with a flare of nearly 100 inches around the bottom, and in case of a stout man, fully three yards.

METHODIST PASTORS' SONS RESPOND NOBLY

In Two Provinces Every Eligible Minister's Son Has Joined the Colors.

Toronto, Oct. 23.—Sons of Methodist ministers from Newfoundland to Vancouver, have been among the most responsive to the call of King and Country. In two western provinces every son of the parsonage who was eligible for service has become a soldier.

Roy McClain, station agent for the Canadian Northern Railway, produced the shipping bill relating to the iron in question, and signed by one M. Bergstein.

Besides these sons of ministers, the names of the Methodist ministers themselves, many unordained men and probationers, about 50 in all, have enlisted for overseas service and are either at the front or in training.

MAROONS WANT TO FIGHT

Offer 4,000 Men To Go With Jamaica Contingent.

Kingston, Jamaica, Oct. 23.—The Maroons, a warlike people descended from Spanish slaves, who escaped to the hills on the conquest of Jamaica by the English, and have been free ever since, offer four thousand men to the Jamaica contingent. The offer is under consideration. One suggestion is that they should be employed to fight in Africa.

Canada Would Bar Slackers From Country

London, Oct. 23.—The feeling in the Canadian Emigration Department in regard to recruiting necessities is such that if there were any attempt on the part of military eligibles to enter Canada in large numbers, the Dominion Government would probably make effective certain general provisions of the Immigration Act, declared Obed Smith, chief commissioner of emigration.

Certain evening papers have raised a scare by asserting that young men were trying to emigrate to North or South America. So far as the British dominions are concerned, both the Canadian and Australian emigration agencies have plainly told slackers that they are not wanted.

ZEPPELINS DRIVEN OFF. Nine Times Out Of Ten, Says Home Secretary.

London, Oct. 22.—Sir John A. Simon, the Home Secretary, replying to a question in the House of Commons as to whether it would not be possible to warn Londoners of Zeppelin raids, asserted that nine times out of ten, the German airships were driven off before they even reached the coast.

"If the public was warned every time Zeppelins were sighted, on their way to England," said the Home Secretary, "nine times out of ten they would be disappointed. Besides the Government could not say which part of the metropolis would be visited, as the Zeppelin crews themselves have not the remotest idea where they are. After all, if the public were told it would not prevent the dropping of bombs and would only have the effect, judging from previous experience, of bringing the people out into the streets."
