WALDRON'S

TRUSTEES OF QUEEN'S

APPRECIATE THE CONDUCT OF THE STUDENTS

In Enlisting for Overseas Service—Make Liberal Provisions for Members of Staff Who Have Joined.

The trustees of Queen's University at their recent meeting expressed their warm appreciation of the conduct of the students who have rendered their services to the cause of their country in the present war. The action of the two companies of Queen's Engineers that have been for months on the firing line, the work of Queen's University Hospital Corps, first at Shorncliffe and now, in much extended proportions, at Cairo, the service rendered by the Officers' Training Corps, and by the graduates and under-graduates who have joined the several Universities' companies that have been already formed, the new battery that is being instituted, all came in for grateful recognition by the governing body of the University. Indeed, it was largely through what he calls the "splendid patriotism" of the students that Dr. James Douglas, the present Chancellor of Queen's, was led to offer a new library building to the University.

At a recent meeting, the Senate passed a resolution with a view to encourage medical students to complete their studies and thus increase their efficiency for service. The trustees, anxious to avoid anything that might even seem likely to chill the readiness to enlist, expressed regret that the resolution of senate appears to discourage certain classes of students from active participation in the service of state in a military capacity.

The trustees have made liberal provision for those members of the staff—eighteen in number from the several faculties—who have already joined the colors, believing that the Universities should be among the foremost institutions of the country in their patriotic zeal and effort in the present crisis.

Patient Dead, And Reported He Was Drowned

Three Linc—Patient Dead. A patient at Rockwood Hospital named John Fitzpatrick, thirty-three years of age, died on Thursday. A report was around the city on Saturday morning that the man was found drowned near the hospital grounds, but Dr. E. Ryan, superintendent, when asked by the press, would give no information about the matter, refusing to either confirm or deny the report.

The report says that the man was found drowned by one of the hospital employees, and suicide was hinted at.

The remains were taken to Smith's Falls on Friday for interment. Deceased had only been at the hospital about a week.

THEATRICAL NEWS

At The Grand.

If you want to see the real war settings at home and all of the modern engines of war in action it will only be necessary for you to see the new war play at the Grand Opera House on next Tuesday evening. From the beginning to the end of the performance occurs a series of war scenes realistically accurate in every detail, with a charming love story cleverly interwoven in the plot. The deadly gas-bomb, the interior of a submarine under water, the attack of the Zeppelins, and the saving of a Canadian troop ship with two thousand brave Canadian boys on board are shown. The signal tower on the Irish coast which is attacked and destroyed by aeroplanes and a host of other realistic war scenes. The recruiting scene in the first act is one of the most gripping moments of a play.

For Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday the programme selected for the Grand Opera House includes Mabel Taliaferro in a stirring romance of the gold regions, "The Three of Us," a motion picture of the well known play, A two reel Universal photoplay, a comedy picture, and the Pathé Pictorial. News showing some of the leading events of the world. The vaudeville booked is exceptionally good and includes Grace King, in a musical act, and Kramer and Paterson, in a novelty acrobatic and posing act, that will be something new.

At Strand Theatre.

For the first three days of next week the management of the Strand have booked two special features, "The Mystery of the Tapestry Room," in three acts, featuring Murdoch McQuarrie, relates intensely an absorbing storm of crime and a detective ingenuity. The second is entitled "C. O. D.," a laughing comedy in four parts from the play by Frederic, with an all-star Vitagraph cast.

At Ideal Theatre.

"Defenders of Our Empire." This film, taken by authority of the army, Council, shows in a most realistic manner many of the interesting and exciting operations of modern warfare. See this big feature in three acts and other pictures at the Ideal Theatre, Monday and Tuesday.

In Kingston On Nov. 9th. O. F. Telgmann, under whose auspices the three Russian brothers are to appear here on Nov. 9th, reports that a considerable interest has been aroused in musical and artistic circles by the announcement of their appearance in Kingston. These three brothers, Leo, Jan and Michel Chernyavsky, are completing a tour of the world, which has met with much success. They are accomplished pianists, cellists, and violinists, and no doubt will be given a good reception in Kingston.

OBITUARY

Late George Binnington, Cataract.

The many friends of George Binnington, Cataract, will regret to hear of his rather sudden death on Friday after a lingering illness, from which every one had hoped he would recover. The deceased was born in the county eighty-one years ago, and was a leading farmer. He was a Methodist in religion. Surviving are his widow and four children: Florence, in Lethbridge; Olivia, at home; Miles, in Vancouver, and D. J., in Tennessee. Rev. Mr. England, Cataract, will conduct the funeral service.

The Late J. A. LeHeup.

Numerous citizens will regret to hear of the death of a former Kingstonian in the person of Jeremiah LeHeup, who died on Thursday in Hamilton. The deceased was born in England eighty-six years ago, and in 1862 came to Canada, and the next year to Kingston. For over thirty years he conducted a business as watch-maker on Brock street, and made a wide reputation. Since retiring from active business he had been living with his sister, Mrs. James Couper, Hamilton.

The deceased was the father of thirteen children, four daughters and five sons surviving. Their names are: Mrs. John R. Johnston, Edward and Frederick, in Detroit; Mrs. Couper and Edith, in Hamilton; Mrs. George Wilson, Hochelaga Mills, Que.; William, in Mattawa; Robert, in Halleybury; and H. J., at Barrie-Field. He is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. Susan Barnes and Mrs. Betsy Araman, both in England.

The remains arrived in the city from Hamilton on Saturday, and the funeral will be from the undertaking establishment of R. J. Reid to Cataract cemetery.

Late Mrs. Thomas Clow.

Death claimed on Friday evening Mrs. Thomas Clow, 23 Pine street, who has been ill for the past six months. The deceased was born fifty-six years ago. The family formerly resided at Hartington. The deceased is survived by her husband and two daughters, both in the city. She was a member of Calvary Congregational Church.

The Late Mrs. Spafford.

The death of Eliza M. Spafford occurred on October 9th, at the home of her son, John Spafford, Switzer-ville, in her seventy-eighth year. She was the daughter of John McDowell who predeceased her for fifteen years. Six years ago she came to make it her home with her son, where she remained until her death. Deceased was a faithful member of St. Luke's Church, Camden, East. She was confined to her bed three months, during which time she was frequently visited by Rev. Mr. Spencer. She endured her suffering patiently until she passed to a high station in life. The funeral services were held on Oct. 13th, conducted by Rev. Mr. Spencer, after which the remains were placed in the Camden East cemetery. Mrs. Spafford left three daughters, Mrs. E. V. Blewett, Brooklyn, Mass.; Mrs. M. Burley, Portland, Oregon; Mrs. C. H. Finkle, Kingston, and one son, John, to mourn her loss.
