VOICE OF THE PULPIT DEPARTURE OF 80TH

REV. D. L. McCREA, LONDON, ONT., IN ST. ANDREW'S.

Anniversary Service in First Baptist Church—Chancellor McCrimmon, Master, Preached in the Evening. At St. Andrew's Church on Sunday Rev. D. L. McCrea, London, Ont., preached at both services to large congregations. In the morning he preached from Matthew vii. 2: "And with what measure you mete, it shall be measured to you again." In his introduction he said that many people could not reconcile the present great war with the teachings of Christianity. After reading and studying everything written about its causes, he could endorse the opinion offered by the Archbishop of Canterbury, that the war is not of God but of the Devil and hell. Though the war is a great calamity, we must not forget the story of Ishmael, who is personated in the present Kaiser, whose hand seems to be against every man, and who will find what it means to have every man's hand against him. In our own lives we find that every act and thought has its reward. The righteous, kind and charitable, get the respect and confidence of associates. The hard-grasping man finds distrust and suspicion at his every action, while the frivolous sooner or later are isolated and deserted. Just Battalion Bade Kingston Good Bye—Sorry To Leave the Limestone City to Winter Elsewhere. At 9:15 a.m. Monday the streets of Kingston were filled with citizens who watched the 80th Battalion on its farewell march through the city. The battalion left the camp grounds at 8:45 a.m. and came through the city by Ontario to Princess to King, to Brock, to Clergy, to Princess and to the Tete de Pont Barracks and the C. P. R. station. The battalion paraded to heavy marching order headed by Lieut.-Col. Ketcheson and the 59th Battalion band. The men never marched better and all along the route were cheered. At St. Mary's school the pupils lined the side-walk and cheered the soldiers. At the foot of Princess street, "D" Company, which is going to Picton, branched off and marched to the C. P. R. station to take a Canadian Northern train to its destination. The main body marched to the G. T. R. grounds at the east end of King street and there entrained. There were also thirty-seven loads of baggage on the train that had been brought down by the Army Service Corps.

KING ALBERT OF BELGIUM. In aid of those suffering subjects a concert will be held in Grant Hall on Friday evening last, Ernest Harris, who is leaving for England to join the aviation corps, was presented with a purse of gold on Saturday by his colleagues in the Treasurer's Department, on the eve of his departure for Kingston, where he will take a military course preparatory to going to the front.

As Major Starr, staff chaplain, said to the men at their last church service at the camp on Sunday morning, the 80th Battalion has progressed splendidly, and is composed of a fine body of men as in any unit of the Canadian overseas force. Col. Ketcheson has a right to be proud of his splendid battalion and if it continues to progress as well as it has done at Barrielsfield camp when the unites in the spring, possibly for overseas service as a unit, it will be second to none. The Whig has a great deal for which to thank the officers, particularly Col. Ketcheson and Capt. Watson, his adjutant, while the battalion was at camp. The officers always did all they could to assist in giving the public, through the press, news of interest. The Kingston officers of the 80th Battalion are Major C. A. Low, Capt. L. C. Lockett, Capt. K. Kavanagh and Lieuts. G. S. Coward, F. Pilley and L. Birkett.

THE POWER OF GOD.

To Lift From Depths of Sin to a Holy Life. The Princess Street Methodist Church was unable to accommodate the number who came Sunday night to hear Mrs. Asa Gordon relate an incident in real life which illustrated the power of God to lift one who had sunk into the lowest depths of sin into a pure and holy life.

Jim, the subject of her sketch, was wanted in an important criminal case. It was ascertained that he had moved to the Southern States and was dying in certain hospital. The news came as a great shock to his aged parents who persuaded the speaker to hasten to his bedside and get him saved, if possible. As she journeyed a promise was given her: "Behold I will bring health and cure, and I will cure (him) and will reveal unto (him) the abundance of peace and truth and I will cleanse (him) from (his) iniquity and whereby he has sinned against me and I will pardon all his iniquities whereby he has sinned and whereby he has transgressed against me."

The condition and environment in which she found him, the almost unsurmountable difficulties she was able to overcome before the rebel against God and His truth was led to lay down his arms in full surrender to Christ was described so eloquently that the whole scene was wonderfully vivid. After an operation had been performed by a specialist brought from New York and when all her attempts to secure his conversion to God seemed to have proved futile a message from Mr. Gordon quoting the same promise which unknown to him had already been given to the speaker led her to spend the night alone in intercession. Early the next morning she found a radiant face awaiting her coming. Jesus Christ had become to Jim a living reality—the old life with its sin and shame had passed away—all things had become new.

At the close of the service many in the audience signified their intention of seeking the Saviour.

First Baptist Church Anniversary.

Yesterday was anniversary day in the First Baptist Church. The twenty-sixth anniversary of the pastor's settlement was observed at the morning service when the pastor preached. He chose his text from I Samuel, vii. 12: "Hitherto hath the Lord helped us."

After dealing briefly with the text and its application to the experiences of the First Church during the time of his twenty-six years' pastorate, he noted some of the main steps which indicate progress. Among the items mentioned were the following: In December, 1889, the Young People's Society was organized. It has had an unbroken existence, with varying experiences, but for years past has not failed for gratifying activity. The next step was the organization of a mission Sunday school on Collingwood street, in November, 1891. From it the Union street Baptist church sprang. On the 30th of April 1893, Union street building was opened. The Rev. Dr. Hooper conducted the opening service. In January, 1897, the First Church dismissed fifty members to form the Union Street Church. In December, 1904, the new Sunday school hall was opened, and was used as a place of worship, until the present new building was entered two years ago. During those years 358 members were received into fellowship.

At the evening service the second anniversary of the opening of the present new building was observed. Dr. A. L. McCrimmon, Chancellor of McMaster University, Toronto, was the preacher and delivered a very strong and inspiring sermon before a very large congregation. He chose as text Isaiah liii, 52. His theme was, "The suffering of Christ in relation to the redemption of men. His line of reasoning was that of cause and effect. Science teaches that you cannot have an effect without a cause. You must get back to first principles. You do not reach the full explanation until you reach the infinite. Naturalistic philosophy cannot explain spiritual things. These are in a realm beyond its reach, but the facts are there. Paul met Christ and ceased to be a persecutor of Christians. His whole attitude was changed. He became the great apostle of Christ in the first century. Illustrations such as Paul's case furnishes, are numerous. What has brought about such a revolution of life and conduct? Meeting Christ in experiments? Touching His stripes we are healed. The sin-ridden soul is freed. He rises into new life and is made strong, being healed by Christ. We may not be able to explain how the change is effected, but the facts are there. He gave many fine illustrations confirmatory of his line of reasoning. The chancellor speaks without manuscript or note, and has a fine command of chaste English. All who heard him greatly appreciated his very able discourse.

The choir deserves high praise for its excellent work throughout the day. Miss Breathwaite was soloist at the morning service and took the soprano solo parts in the anthem at the evening service.

Contracts Awarded. The contracts for the erection of N. C. Polson's new house on King street have been let as follows: E. J. Hotchkiss, plumbing; Douglas and McIlquham, masonry; W. J. Chapman, carpentering; R. McFaul, painting.

Made Presentation.

On Friday evening last, Ernest Harris, who is leaving for England to join the aviation corps, was presented with a purse of gold by the teachers of the Sunday School and choir of St. James' Church. The presentation was made by Rev. T. W. Savary who expressed the best wishes of all the members and for the safe return of Mr. Harris.

FURS Will Be Higher

The tremendous demand for Furs this season undoubtedly means much higher prices for next year. Already most raw furs have advanced 50 per cent. in the past few months, and the present low prices can only last as long as the present stock holds out. Wise fur buyers will not delay. This is your opportunity to buy. Come to the big store with the big stock and make your selection now.
